TODAY MAY SEE PEACE SIGNED IN TEXTILE STRIKE

Both Sides Reported Ready to Agree.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Excellent prospect for announcement by tomorrow evening of the end of the textile strike appeared likely as a result of President Roosevelt's personal appeal today to the strikers to return to work.

No absolute assurance on this could be obtained from Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the United Textile Workers' strike committee, who has asked the union's executive council to meet here tomorrow, but the feeling here was optimistic.

The attitude of southern officers at the meeting tomorrow is awaited with considerable interest. Several telegrams from local unions in the south received today by the strike committee opposed the proposal that the strikers be ordered back to work in advance of assurance that the manufacturers would not discriminate against them and that the manufacturers would accept the findings of the President's textile inquiry board.

Slap at Johnson Claimed.

A spanking for Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and a forewarning that the NRA will be stripped of all its power over labor disputes were hailed by organized labor as the most important features of President Roosevelt's proposed settlement.

Union leaders crowed openly, claiming to see in the President's plans a stinging rebuke to Johnson and the NRA for the way they bungled labor situations in the textile industry, leading up to the strike.

Strike Leader Gorman predicted in a statement tonight that Johnson will soon be stripped by the President of all labor supervision. To back up this prediction Gorman pointed out that the President in his peace plan is repudiating the machinery which NRA has established to settle textile labor disputes and is offering instead to set up a three man labor board independent of the NRA.

No Place for Johnson.

Gorman pointed out also that the President does not give the NRA the slightest place in his proposed strike settlement machinery and that he actually designated other agencies to take over work previously done by Johnson and his aids.

The President's plan calls for a new independent board of three to handle all textile labor questions, completely snubbing the present NRA board set up for the same purpose. Similarly the President rejects without comment an NRA study of the textile industry's ability to pay higher wages and instead orders the department of labor and the federal trade commission to do over again the work once done by the NRA.

All organized labor will insist that it be freed from NRA supervision in the same manner that the President now proposes to strip Johnson's organization of its textile labor powers, Gorman predicted.

Sees Others Demanding Change.

"Is it possible," Gorman asked in his statement, "that since the President has approved such a course in this case, labor in every other industry will not come clamoring for the same relief? It is positive! There can be no doubt about it. Of course, there is the possibility that the President may, by his own action and upon his own initiative, alter all codes to conform to the proposals contained in the Winant report.

"The report proposes to take the labor provisions of the code away from the jurisdiction of the code authority, placing them under an independent and impartial board. The President approves the report. Thus the President approves taking the code labor provisions away from jurisdiction of the code authority.

"We have here, then, the seeds of complete change in function by NRA. It is interesting that it should come at an hour when the retirement of Gen. Johnson, at least as a one-man determinant, is expected at any moment and that it should come so close on the heels of recent conferences at Hyde Park about the future of NRA. It is too much to think that these things are unrelated incidents, occurring without any meeting of minds. That is possible, but Washington observers would not think it probable."

Speech Brings Break.

Gorman's fight with Johnson dates back a week to a speech made by the NRA chief in New York in which he denounced the textile strike as a violation of the union's pledge to him.

The strikers' gloating over NRA's uncomfortable position came at the end of a day during which both sides in the giant textile strike side delayed

DRUNK DRIVERS DO HARD LABOR IN BRIDEWELL

'Won't Return,' Says Coal Pile Penitent.

In the cell houses and the work shops at the Bridewell a number of persons are learning each day that driving an automobile in Chicago while under the influence of liquor has its penalties.

Municipal judges sitting in the Safety court have sent these persons to the Bridewell for menacing the lives and property of others by driving cars while intoxicated. In many cases the court has imposed sentences of ten days only, but the addition of $106.50 in fines and costs often adds 71 days to the jail term, as those who cannot pay must work their way out at the rate of $1.50 a day.

Tasks Are Real Jobs.

And they actually work. In the Bridewell records and throughout the grounds visual evidence was produced yesterday by Edward J. Denemark, superintendent, and Chief Guard Joseph J. Carmody that drunk drivers aren't pampered, but join the crews that labor in the quarry, in the brick and carpenter shops, on the coal piles, and keep all buildings spick and span with constant scrubbing.

Robert Harper, 22 years old, of Harrisburg, Ill., was the first one encountered inside the Bridewell's high walls whose incarceration resulted from a drunken impulse to drive with no thought for the deaths and injuries he might cause. He had been in Chicago only a week when the police arrested him on Sept. 12.

Now he is serving out a thirty days' sentence and at the end of that period will remain an inmate of the Bridewell for another seventy-one days, swinging the gates at the truck entrance and shoveling coal until the fine and costs of $106.50 are satisfied.

"You can be sure that I won't come back here after I once get out," Harper said yesterday.

How 15 Prisoners Fare.

Fifteen other records gathered at random from the Bridewell files show as well as Harper's case what awaits the drunken driver. In brief, these records are as follows, listing the prisoners, their terms of imprisonment, and their Bridewell tasks:

FRED BICKEL, 51 years old, Long Lake, Ill., who said in court that it was his hay fever which caused him to appear intoxicated; 10 days and $106.50, waiting table in the dining room and doing other kitchen and dining room tasks.

GODFREY KOSTECKY, 21 years old, 1116 George street, 10 days and $106.50, works in engine room polishing, cleaning and doing odd jobs.

FRANK NOLICK, 54 years old, 2246 South Kostner avenue, 10 days and $106.50, engine room.

ORRIN STARCK, 34 years old, 1919 Washington boulevard, 10 days and $106.50, kitchen work, which includes peeling potatoes, scrubbing pots and pans, and keeping the room clean.

HENRY ERICKSON, 30 years old, 1824 Washington boulevard, 10 days and $106.50, kitchen.

FRED JETTMANN, 35 years old, Arlington Heights, 10 days and $106.50, kitchen.

STEVE OSKEARKO, 40 years old, 4239 South Kedzie avenue, 30 days and $106.50, for whom another warant, also for driving while drunk, is waiting when he is released, scrubs cell floors and steps.

ALBERT JORDAN, 19 years old, colored, who said his address was 5630 South Park way, 10 days and $106.50, engaged in the manufacture of bricks. His card gave the address as 609 East 50th place.

WALDEMAR KOENIG, 45 years old, 2704 North Halsted street, 30 days and $106.50, works in yard gang and unloads coal cars.

LORETTA WEBER, 26 years old, 234 Englewood avenue, a divorcee, 10 days and $106.50, scrubs floors in the women's quarters.

FRANK GAURON, 44 years old, 1814 North Leavitt street, 10 days and $106.50, kitchen.

JEFFERSON GAUDY, 27 years old, 1940 Archer avenue, 30 days and $106.50, brick plant.

WILLARD WILLIS, 60 years old, 2140 Cortland street, 10 days and $106.50, engine room.

OLEY HALL, 26 years old, 1315 Washburne avenue, 30 days and $106.50, brick plant.

BEN BROWN, 33 years old, 2625 Cortland street, 30 days and $106.50, brick plant.

Year for Hit-Run Driver.

William Ott, 18 years old, 1248 Congress street, was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell and was fined $100 and costs yesterday by Judge Harold P. O'Connell of the Safety court. He admitted having driven away after his car struck and injured Edward Barber, Fort Wayne, Ind., on Sept. 1 at Adams and Clinton streets. Barber died on Sept. 7. A manslaughter charge is awaiting a grand jury hearing.

U. S. Cowboys Fight Rustlers; Kill 7 in Mexico

Alpine, Tex., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Seven Mexican cowboys, belated reports reaching here tonight said, were shot to death by a posse of Texas cowboys and Mexican soldiers in an encounter on Mexican soil after they allegedly had violated a major law of the old west—that against horse stealing.

A. F. Robinson, superintendent of a CCC camp 90 miles south of here, reported Elmo Johnson, owner of a Texas ranch where the alleged theft occurred, told him of the killings.

Drive Off Entire Herd.

The band of thieves, Robinson related, drove the entire herd of horses from Johnson's ranch in Brewster county and headed across the Rio Grande into Mexico. Johnson, whose ranch is just east of Castalon, a little town lying between Terlingua and Boquillas, on the Texas side, summoned cowboys from neighboring ranches.

The posse crossed the Rio Grande in pursuit and met a detachment of Mexican soldiers, who joined the hunt. They came upon the thieves still driving the horses and a gun fight ensued.

Cowboy guns dropped seven Mexicans from their mounts and the remainder surrendered in terror. Not a member of the posse was injured, Robinson said.

Liked by Mexican Officials.

Johnson, a colorful figure along the Texas border and well liked by Mexican authorities, recovered most of his horses. The captured thieves were taken to a nearby Mexican village, given speedy trials and each of the surviving members of the band of raiders was sentenced to twenty years in a Mexican prison, Robinson said. They were loaded on burros and started for the prison, reported to be in western Mexico.

United States army flyers use a landing field on Johnson's ranch, the only landing field in that section of the picturesque Big Bend country.

GRANDFATHER OF 12 WILL BE MARRIED TODAY

Joseph Pasurka, 72 years old, and Mrs. Bertha L. Shonberger, 67 years old, both of 1839 Mohawk street, got a marriage license yesterday and are to be wed today in St. Michael's church. Both have been married previously, their mates having died two years ago. Pasurka has 12 grandchildren and one great-grandson. He had been married 52 years, Mrs. Shonberger 40.

POM-POM TAKES A RIDE AND LOSES HIS STANDING WITH POLICE

The mystery of a missing Pomeranian dog confronted Englewood police last night.

But, more baffling than the actual disappearance of the animal, was the puzzle of how the desk sergeant was going to list the matter, since it was obvious from the facts that the dog was neither lost, strayed, nor stolen.

The dog belonged to Mrs. Esther Doalan, 7527 Colfax avenue, and she took Pom-Pom (if that was his name) shopping with her in the automobile of Mrs. S. J. Smith, who drives a maroon coach. The car was parked in front of a store at 6638 South Halsted street and Mrs. Doalan carried Pom-Pom in.

Then she decided to leave the animal in the car, and went back out. She put Pom-Pom in a maroon coach, but the wrong one. When she returned car and dog were gone.

That's what baffled police. The dog could not be listed as stolen, because the owner of the "wrong car" didn't put Pom-Pom in it. The animal, obviously, had not strayed, since the dog had no choice in the matter, and "straying" connotes an action voluntary to the dog. Nor was the dog lost, because Mrs. Doalan knows where he is—in a maroon coach.

IT'S NO TROUBLE FOR MR. LANTZ TO CALL POLICE

Franklin Lantz runs a filling station at 4200 North Kedzie avenue.

Last night a man came in with an empty tin and wanted to buy some gasoline. As Lantz turned the customer produced a gun, robbed Lantz of $35 in cash, and fled on foot.

Lantz then ran right across the street to 4207 North Kedzie avenue. Why did he do this? Because 4207 North Kedzie avenue is the Albany Park police station, where Lantz could report the robbery and warn the police to keep an eye on their own valuables.

ALFRED E. SMITH SUFFERS SLIGHT HEART SEIZURE

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Alfred E. Smith today suffered what apparently was a slight heart attack in church when informed of the sudden death of a close friend, the Rev. John H. Farley of Washington, D. C. Father Farley was to say mass at the funeral of Daniel F. Meehan, another friend of Smith, at St. Ignatius Loyola church. He died in the church rectory as the services were about to start.

Mr. Smith recovered quickly and not only remained for the service but accompanied the funeral party to the cemetery.

Can't Sit Still in Hotel Lobby; Lands in Cell

Robert Gretton was in custody last night because he couldn't sit still. His nerves were bad.

Gretton, alias Mitchell, came to the attention of the detective bureau in a telegram received from Chaska, Minn., and signed by the sherif of Carver county.

The telegram recited that Gretton was wanted for a murder committed on Sept. 13 last, and that he probably would be found in room 202 of the Schiller hotel, at Schiller and Clark streets.

Squad Goes to Hotel.

Sergt. James Fitzgerald and his squad were dispatched to that hotel, and entered the lobby, where a few guests and visitors were sitting around, reading papers and chatting. The officers did not particularly notice one guest sitting not far from the hotel desk.

Sergt. Fitzgerald asked the hotel clerk who was registered in 202.

"What?" said the clerk, "Did you say 202?"

"Yes," snapped Sergt. Fitzgerald, "I said 202."

Gretton, engrossed in his newspaper, didn't hear the conversation.

"You want to know," said the clerk, very loudly, "You want to know who is registered in room 202?"

Chance to Escape.

Gretton came to life with a start. Sergt. Fitzgerald and his squad look very much like policemen.

Perhaps, if he had remained quietly in his chair, Gretton could have escaped when the officers started upstairs. But he didn't. He leaped to his feet and ran for the door.

Sergt. Fitzgerald could easily see that this was a suspicious act.

Gretton was arrested and identified by cards in his pocket and papers and letters in his room. At the detective bureau he admitted that he had come from Chaska, but denied any knowledge of the murder. However, he is being held for Minnesota authorities.

BLAST TRAPS 100 IN ENGLISH MINE; FIND FIVE BODIES

WREXHAM, England, Sept. 22 [Saturday].—(AP)—One hundred and fifty miners were trapped by an explosion in Gresford colliery early today. The first rescue squad to enter the mine brought out the charred bodies of five men.

Rescue parties said fire was raging below the surface of the mine and they were finding progress impossible. The recovered bodies were found near the mouth of the pit.

Typhoon Kills 1,600 in Japan; 5,000 Injured

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 21.—At least 1,600 dead and 5,000 injured was the toll of a screeching 135 mile an hour typhoon which swept across the richest industrial section of Japan today. Property damage will run into tens of milions of dollars.

It is impossible to estimate the exact loss of life because of the widespread destruction and disrupted communications.

Thousands of buildings were destroyed. Thousands of people are missing. They perhaps are buried beneath the ruins of demolished homes. No attempt has been made to count the homeless.

Industrial Cities Hit.

The most numerous casualties were in the cities of Osaka, Kobe, and Kyoto. They are prosperous and populous industrial districts.

The typhoon roared out of the North Pacific and swept Japan from Nagasaki to Nagano. Giant waves smashed up on the dry land, tearing houses into kindling wood.

Osaka, a city of 2,453,573, reported 1,067 dead and 3,100 injured. Nearly 200 persons have not been accounted for.

Authorities at Kyoto reported 210 dead and 900 injured. Kyoto has a population of 765,142. It was the capital of the island until after Admiral Matthew C. Perry opened Japan to the outside world in the last century. It is the seat of the great Buddha.

Great Loss of Life at Kobe.

Kobe, a city of 787,616, located 16 miles west of Osaka, reported a great loss of life and heavy damage to property. Casualties also were reported from Nagasaki, Tokushima, Tottori, Wakayama, Aichi, Nagano, Gifu, and Yamanashi prefectures.

In Tokio four persons were killed as the raging typhoon lashed the capital. One hundred and thirty houses were destroyed. Five hangars at a suburban airport were blown down and twenty planes demolished. The exact number of injured has not been ascertained.

Several hundred pupils and teachers were buried in the ruins of 128 schoolhouses at Osaka. Troops were dispatched to that city tonight to patrol the littered streets. The army was furnishing supplies as the task of feeding and sheltering the hundreds of thousands of homeless got under way.

Two Hospitals Destroyed.

The leper hospital at Osaka was destroyed by the blast. Two hundred of its 600 inmates are missing. Fifty inmates of an insane asylum there were lost when the typhoon smashed the building to pieces.

Nine passenger trains were swept from the tracks and wrecked with a great loss of life. Railway service was crippled.

Because of advance warnings of the typhoon, there was comparatively little damage done to coastal shipping. A number of small boats capsized during the storm and one steamer, the Kashu Maru, sent out distress signals.

Worst Disaster Since 1927.

The disaster was the worst Japan has experienced since March 7, 1927, when earthquake and fire in the northern part of Kyoto province claimed 3,274 lives. Fifty-five thousand were left homeless.

On Sept. 1, 1923, fire and earthquake resulted in a loss of 99,331 lives in Tokio, Yokohama, and vicinity. In Tokio alone 59,593 were killed. A half million families lost their homes. The damage totaled more than one billion dollars.

PROSECUTOR TO ASK INDICTMENT OF HAUPTMANN

N. J. Demands Alien as Baby Slayer.

Lindbergh Pictures

A page of pictures on the arrest, questioning, and arraignment of Bruno Richard Hauptmann after his arrest in the Lindbergh kidnaping case will be found on the back page of today's Tribune.

BULLETIN.

New York, Sept. 22 (Saturday).—(AP)—District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx, after questioning Bruno Richard Hauptmann, Lindbergh kidnap case suspect, for nearly eight hours, declared early today "We have an ironclad case." Foley had heard more than a dozen witnesses in addition to interrogating Hauptmann. Foley said he would go before the grand jury Monday and seek an indictment of Hauptmann.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Tight lipped and sullen, his bloodshot eyes staring defiantly at his inquisitors, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, carpenter and ex-convict, tonight continued to refuse to concede the grave significance of the slowly accumulating evidence linking him with the kidnaping and death of the infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and the collection of the $50,000 ransom paid.

In harsh gutturals he declared his innocence and the numerous contradictions in his statements did not disturb his amazing stolidity after a merciless cross-examination which had continued with few interruptions for more than sixty hours.

Bring Prisoner to Justice.

But there was no doubt in the minds of the authorities that Hauptmann collected the ransom and wrote the ransom notes. Other facts uncovered today pointed to the belief that he at least assisted in the actual kidnaping. And the necessary legal steps were taken to bring the prisoner to justice.

Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey announced that he had signed requisition papers for the extradition of Hauptmann to New Jersey on a charge of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. two and one-half years ago. Following a conference with state and federal officials the governor said the extradition proceedings would be held in abeyance pending further investigation.

The requisition papers were based upon seven John Doe indictments charging murder and homicide which were returned by the Hunterdon county grand jury in September, 1932, six months after the 20 month old Lindbergh baby was kidnaped from his parents' country home at Hopewell, near Princeton.

Magistrate Denies Bail.

Meanwhile, in Bronx police court, Magistrate Richard F. McKiniry held the 34 year old defendant without bail until Monday on a charge of extortion. This action was based on the discovery of $13,750 of the Lindbergh ransom money in the garage of Hauptmann's home in the Bronx, following his arrest on Wednesday morning, when a $20 gold certificate, part of the ransom money, was found in his pocket.

Two more $10 gold certificates from the ransom money were found today. Detectives obtained the bills from Mrs. Pauline Rauch, mother of Max Rauch, Hauptman's landlord. She said the prisoner had given the money in payment of rent.

Begins to Play Stock Market.

One of the major developments of the day was the disclosure that Hauptmann began to play the stock market in April, 1932, just after the ransom money was paid. His account ran as high as $25,000 and still is active. It was learned that Hauptmann, afraid of detection in this country if he continued to spend the ransom money, had arranged to return shortly to his native Germany, where his aged mother had settled criminal charges against him since he fled to the United States eleven years ago.

The belief of police officials is that the $36,250 of the ransom money which is missing may mainly be accounted for by Hauptmann's stock speculations. He went into Wall street by opening up an account in the brokerage firm of Steiner, Rouse & Co., members of the New York Stock exchange. What balance remains to Hauptmann's credit was kept a secret.

Published reports that the authorities were investigating the story of a Bronx physician that he had attended Hauptmann for a sprained ankle a few days after the kidnaping were officially denied. The report was published in connection with the theory that the kidnaper was carrying the baby down the ladder from the Lindbergh home when the ladder broke, killing the child and injuring the kidnaper.

Investigators could find no reason to doubt that Hauptmann wrote the ransom notes. Department of justice experts said they were convinced that the prisoner's handwriting on his application for an automobile driving license was identical with the handwriting on the note left in the Lindbergh home the night of the kidnaping and on the thirteen ransom letters received later by Col. Lindbergh and Dr. John F. Condon, the Bronx educator known as "Jafsie," who paid the ransom.

There was a difference of opinion as to whether it was a one-man job or the work of a gang. Federal officials believe that Hauptmann engineered the whole plot himself. New York police said they believed a number of persons participated in the kidnaping, and that Hauptmann wrote the notes and collected the ransom in addition to helping in the crime itself.

Ladder Made by Carpenter.

New Jersey authorities attached importance to the fact that Hauptmann is a carpenter and cabinet maker and was employed for a time by the National Lumber company of the Bronx. The lumber used in the ladder left by the kidnaper outside the Lindbergh home, according to Col. H. Norman Schwartzhopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, was traced to the Bronx company. In addition, the ladder showed signs of having been made by some one skilled in carpentry.

Although it has been established that Hauptmann was employed in New Jersey both before and after the kidnaping, there is no evidence, according to Col. Schwartzkopf that he had been employed at the Lindbergh homes in Hopewell or Englewood, N. J.

The authorities have no finger prints from the kidnaping scene to check against Hauptmann's finger prints. Footprints found outside the Lindbergh home will be checked with the prisoner's footprints.

Black Sheep of Family.

Inquiry into Hauptmann's past revealed that he was the black sheep of a respectable family of Kamenz, Saxony. After serving in the war he was sentenced to one term in prison for theft. Arrested in 1923 and facing another sentence, he escaped to America and entered the country illegally after one attempt had failed and he had been deported.

Dr. Condon [Jafsie] left today for an unknown destination after an interview with reporters. He asked that one thing be made clear about his ransom negotiations with the Lindbergh baby kidnapers. "I didn't throw the money over the hedge," he said. "I handed it to the man. I saw him clearly. He was on the other side of the hedge in a depression, but I got a good view of him."

He was not positive that Hauptmann was the man to whom he spoke when the $50,000 ransom was paid and parried all questions along that line.

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, wife of the prisoner, who stoutly affirms a belief in her husband's innocence, was again taken into custody tonight and questioned. She declared that her husband got the ransom money from a man named Isadore Fische, who has since died in Germany.

Throughout the lengthy questioning Hauptmann insisted that he had nothing to do with the kidnaping, that he had never been in Hopewell, and that his income in the last two years had been derived from money given him by Fische and by stock market operations. He admitted passing some of the gold certificates which were part of the ransom money but declared he had received them in good faith from a package left for him by Fische when the latter went to Germany some time before his death.

Arraigned as Extortionist.

His bloodshot eyes blinking in the glare of arc lights set up for motion picture cameras, Hauptmann was arraigned on the extortion charge in the West Farms court in the old Bronx Supreme court building.

Handcuffed to two detectives, watched carefully by a score of policemen, the prisoner was pushed through the crowd of 500 persons who had gathered in front of the building. The watchers were eager to see Hauptmann, but they showed little animosity towards him. Mob spirit apparently does not thrive on a crime more than two and one-half years old.

Struggling through the packed courtroom, the detectives brought their cringing captive before the bench. He peered fearfully at Magistrate McKiniry. His face was unshaven, his gray suit rumpled. Perspiration stood upon his forehead.

News Reel Men Grind Machines.

News reel cameramen ground their machines, radio broadcasters focused their microphones, the spectators listened tensely as Lieut. James J. Finn read the affidavit charging suspicion of extortion.

"The defendant is suspected of obtaining $50,000 from John F. Condon (Jafsie) in St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx, on April 2, 1932," he read, "about 10 p. m. by wrongful use of force or fear, in that the said $50,000 was in the care and custody of John F. Condon for the purpose of releasing Charles A. Lindbergh's child, who had been threatened with bodily harm."

QUIZZED

An attorney, H. Bennett Solomon, pushed forward. He said he had been retained by Hauptmann's wife. The prisoner looked at the lawyer briefly and declared in his guttural accents that he did not want a legal representative.

Agrees to Continuance.

District Attorney Andrew G. McCarthy asked Hauptmann if he would agree to a continuance of the hearing until Monday.

"Yes, anything, anything," said the defendant in a half-groan.

Attorney Solomon shrugged his shoulders and declared that in view of the attitude of the defendant, he would not object to the continuance.

"The district attorney," continued Prosecutor McCarthy, "recommends that the defendant be held without bail."

McCarthy followed with a stirring oration in praise of the New York City police department, the New Jersey police department and federal authorities for their "splendid work in bringing Hauptmann to justice." Magistrate McKiniry launched into a little speech of his own in laudation of the police. He announced that the defendant would be held without bail until Monday.

Hauptmann was then hustled back to the Bronx county jail, where he was allowed to spend four hours with his thoughts late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Hauptmann and Attorney Solomon visited the jail. The prisoner refused to see the lawyer, whereupon Mrs. Hauptmann wrote a note to him in German which, translated, read:

"Dear Richard: We have retained Mr. Solomon as our lawyer. Have confidence as we have. ANNY."

Refuses to See Lawyer.

But word came back from the defendant that he would see no lawyer. Mrs. Hauptmann returned to the lawyer's office, where she insisted stoutly that her husband was innocent. And the lawyer announced that he was contemplating the filing of a writ of habeas corpus demanding that the authorities produce Hauptmann in court so that bail might be fixed.

Mrs. Hauptmann told him, the attorney said, that a trip she made to Germany in 1932 was financed out of her husband's savings, both having been regularly employed before then. She also declared that her husband's Dodge sedan was not a stolen car, but had been purchased by him in 1931.

"Even if the whole world is against him," declared Mrs. Hauptmann in a sudden outburst to interviewers in her niece's apartment later, "I am sure he didn't do such a terrible thing. He got that money from Isadore Fische. I'm now sure Fische was in on the kidnaping. But I don't know any proof of that."

Believes Fische a Liar.

The nephew, who was present, interjected that Fische was now dead. Mrs. Hauptmann asserted that Fische told her he was a "big business man."

"But now I think he was a liar," she exclaimed.

Her face, discolored from weeping, she paced up and down the room, disregarding her child who sat playing placidly nearby. She spoke mainly in German and the niece interpreted.

"I asked my husband where he got that money," she said, "and he said he got it from Fische who asked him to keep it for him. He didn't know where Fische got the money. He told me: 'Anny, I had nothing to do with the Lindbergh baby,' and I believe him."

But in explanation of his sudden wealth two years ago, Hauptmann told his wife he had been playing the stock market, she admitted. She well recalled the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, she said.

"I almost collapsed when I first heard about it," she said. "I used to read papers and listen on the radio hoping the baby would be brought back."

When she was asked where her husband was on that day and on preceding and succeeding days, she replied:

"I suppose he was working, the same as usual. I can't just remember, it was so long ago."

And Mrs. Hans Mueller, the niece, pointing at the Hauptmann baby, asked indignantly: "Do you think a man would kill the Lindbergh baby and then go and have a baby himself?"

Before his court arraignment, Hauptmann had been questioned until dawn.

"He made a long statement," declared District Attorney Foley when the questioning was discontinued temporarily, "and while he did not confess, he made some damaging and conflicting statements."

Mrs. Hauptmann had also been questioned almost all night long, but she finally was released and a police statement said that there was no evidence implicating her.

The haggard prisoner was not allowed to sleep. He was taken to the morning lineup in police headquarters and introduced by Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan to the assembled detectives. Under the curious eyes of these watchers and while cameras clicked constantly, Inspector Sullivan questioned Hauptmann as follows:

"What is your business?" Inspector Sullivan asked.

"Carpenter."

Q.—How long have you been a carpenter? A.—Since I've been here.

Q.—Were you a carpenter over there [Germany]? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you ever work in Lakewood, N. J., as a carpenter? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you ever make windows? A.—No.

Q.—Did you work in some big house over there [Lakewood]? A.—Small houses.

Q.—How long were you in Jersey? A.—Lakewood in 1925.

Q.—Did you live in Jersey then? A.—I lived there.

Lived Near Lakewood.

Q.—Where? A.—Near Lakewood.

Q.—How long? A.—Two months.

Q.—What other parts of Jersey did you work in? A.—Near Freehold, N. J.

Q.—Who for? A.—For a friend building a frame house.

Q.—Did you live there? A.—About a month.

Q.—That's all—two houses in Jersey and you lived there then.

Inspector Sullivan had turned his line of questioning to the ransom money.

Q.—Where did you get all that money in your garage? A.—A friend gave me all his effects to take care of until he comes back from the other side. My friend died on the other side—in Germany.

Q.—Did you know this was Lindbergh money? A.—Not until yesterday.

Q.—Were you living on the money? A.—Yes.

Q.—When did you put it in the ground. What year? A.—I didn't put it in the ground.

Q.—Who did? A.—No one. It was in the side wall of the garage.

Q.—Who did that? A.—I.

Q.—When? A.—Three weeks ago.

Q.—How much did your friend give you?

Hauptmann's answer sounded something like "$40,000."

Inspector Sullivan, aroused, demanded to know what happened to all of that money.

Then Hauptmann said, "$14,000."

Q.—What other business have you been in? A.—Playing Wall street since 1930.

Q.—How have you made out? A.—Sometimes successful; lately losing.

Q.—How much have you lost? A.—Practically even.

Q.—What was the stock you bought? A.—American Waterworks.

At this there was some confusion, Hauptmann's accent making his answer unclear. But he finally explained it.

Q.—Did you purchase outright? A.—Sometimes yes, sometimes no.

Q.—When it's sometimes no how is it? A.—Margin.

Q.—Have you any other business? A.—No.

Turning to reporters, the inspector declared that there was no doubt in his mind that "this is the right man."

"We now have a perfect case against him on the extortion charge," he asserted. "The other matter [the murder and kidnaping charge] is developing rapidly. It will be only a matter of time before this man is held on a more serious charge."

Asked if he believed that the kidnaping had been a one man job, the inspector declared that, in his belief, it was not.

"But if this man was not actually at the scene of the kidnaping he had a hand in the machinery," he commented.

Handwriting Is Similar.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the criminal identification bureau of the department of justice, who came here from Washington to take personal charge of the government's part in the solution of the case, declared that experts had reported that writing on Hauptmann's automobile license application and that on the Lindbergh ransom notes were similar.

Stock exchange officials, it was learned, were investigating the report that Hauptmann had a speculating account with one of its member concerns. The firm itself would make no statement, referring all inquiries to the department of justice. Under the rules of the exchange, members are required to use "due diligence to learn the essential facts concerning each customer."

Hoover declined to render an opinion on whether Hauptmann had committed the kidnaping and murder alone. Most of his statement was confined to outlining how federal agents had "broken" the mystery. He said that a policy originated by government officers, who were aided by New York and New Jersey police, in checking the source of $4,200 of the $50,000 ransom, led to the arrest of Hauptmann.

In their delving into Hauptmann's past, the investigators uncovered several incidents shedding light on the man's character. Hauptmann's car struck Alex Begg, an attorney, in October, 1932, and Hauptmann, facing a suit, agreed to settle for $300. But he delayed payment, apologizing that he was a poor man and unemployed, Begg declared, and still owes $60 on the settlement.

Deported from U. S. in 1923.

Records of the immigration bureau on Ellis Island revealed that Hauptmann used the name of Karl Pellmeier in attempting to enter the country illegally in 1923. He was discovered on the North German Lloyd liner Hanover as it steamed from Bremen to New York and was turned over to the immigration officials. He was deported after a hearing at which he readily admitted to examining officers that he and another man had entered the home of the mayor of a small town in Germany and had stolen goods worth 1,000 marks. He was convicted and sentenced to five years' penal servitude and was released in four years for good behavior.

Hauptmann is believed to have returned to the United States on the liner George Washington within a few weeks after his deportation.

A. J. BALABAN TO JOIN RKO STUDIO AS A PRODUCER

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A. J. Balaban, Chicago, who with his brother formerly owned a majority of stock in the Chicago theater chain of Balaban & Katz, will join the RKO motion picture studio Monday as a producer, studio officials announced today.

The pioneer theater man will take two or three weeks to familiarize himself with film production work before undertaking a picture, officials said.

In making the announcement officials said Balaban had severed his connections with the Chicago theater chain, where he created a reputation with stage and prolog creations.

KIDNAPER HUNT DETAILS BARED BY GOVERNMENT

Corps of Experts on Job for Months.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The department of justice lifted the cover today on some federal efforts to snare the Lindbergh kidnaper, showing that one of the largest details of men ever assigned to a single crime had been ordered by the government.

Even the highest department officials declined, however, to reveal how many men in all had taken part in the hunt.

Special Corps Assigned.

Going into the search when the trail was cold, the bureau of investigation assigned to a special corps of experts the initial task of analyzing the huge accumulation of data on the case. Some of it was valuable; some worthless.

Then the numbers of the ransom bills were plastered over the country. Banks, clearing houses, certain grocery stores, railroad stations, postoffices, airports and telegraph offices were among the commercial agencies that were kept posted on the identity of the certificates.

Outstanding among the glimpses beneath the lid, given by justice officials today, were:

1. That President Roosevelt himself had directed that federal activities in the case be centralized in the justice department on Oct. 19, 1933. This gave the department data that had been collected by the treasury in its search for the $50,000 ransom money.

2. That a large intradepartment organization assigned solely to the case had compiled a huge index system, including more than 50,000 index cards, to classify facts and persons involved in the affair.

Three Agencies Coöperate.

3. That a tripartite agreement had been made among the department of justice, the New Jersey state police, and the New York City police, providing that all information gathered in the case be exchanged.

4. That a concentration of agents in the Bronx area of New York was ordered after passage there of a $20 gold certificate on Aug. 20 of this year. Sixteen additional $20 notes of the same series were found in Yonkers, N. Y., and the Bronx in the ensuing days and weeks.

5. That on Sept. 17 Hauptmann passed the $10 gold bill at the Warner-Quillan gasoline station at 127th street, New York, giving investigators a "break" when the attendant remarked the unlawfulness of the bill and to protect himself wrote down the license number of Hauptmann's car.

6. That when the station operator deposited the bill at the Corn Exchange bank at 125th street and Park avenue, New York, this fact was transmitted to Frank Fay, special justice agent in New York,

7. That the other parties to the tripartite agreement were notified and the arrest made by Sergt. Jack Wallace of the New Jersey state police, Lieut. James Flynn of the New York City police and Special Agent W. F. Seery of the department of justice.

GUNMEN KIDNAP DETROIT MAN AND BRING HIM HERE

Carl Brabon, 30 years old, a shipping clerk for the Ford Motor company in Detroit, reported to Central police last night that he had been kidnaped in Detroit by three gunmen, robbed of his pay, and brought to Chicago.

According to his story he was accosted as he was leaving a restaurant in Detroit by the three men, who climbed into his car and, at the point of pistols, forced him to drive toward Chicago. At Michigan City, where they stopped for gas, Brabon said he was forced into the rear seat and one of the bandits took the wheel.

At the Michigan avenue bridge in Chicago, he said, the bandits took $55—his weekly pay—but left him his car and fled on foot. He reported to the police, then called his wife by long distance telephone.

WOMAN KILLED BY TRUCK; MOB DETAINS DRIVER

Mrs. Mamie Jones, 45 years old, of 4520 Nevada street, was struck and killed by a truck yesterday as she stood in a street car safety zone at Kilbourn and Fullerton avenues.

The truck driver, Lester Herling, 32 years old, 3221 North Central Park avenue, was intoxicated, the police said. Herling and two men with him were threatened by an angry crowd when they tried to drive away, according to police. The other two are Walter Schwenn, 48 years old, 3643 Paris avenue, and his son, Curtis, 24, of 3712 Pittsburgh avenue. Police said both the Schwenns also were intoxicated. All three were held at Cragin station for the inquest today.

Mrs. Jones' death and another raised the 1934 Cook county toll to 867. The dead:

Robert Santucci, 9 years old, 2119 West Taylor street. Fatally injured yesterday by a beer truck at Hoyne avenue and Roosevelt road. Wesley Hake, 37 years old, Oshkosh, Wis., driver of the truck, was held.

John Wisdom, 23 years old, who lives on the farm of his father near Mundelein, was instantly killed last night when his car overturned on Green Bay road near Old Elm road, in Lake Forest. Wisdom's neck was broken. With Wisdom in the car were two soldiers from Fort Sheridan, both of the Second Infantry. They are Victor J. H. Robbins, 25 years old, and Earl A. League, 34 years old. Both said that Wisdom had been drinking and had offered to drive them back to the military reservation from North Chicago.

George T. Twinting, 44 years old, of Pasadena, Cal., was recommended held to the grand jury for manslaughter by a coroner's jury yesterday in an inquest into the deaths of four men in an accident on Aug. 29 at Cicero avenue and Simpson street. Witnesses testified Twinting disregarded a stop sign. He has been out on $10,000 bond, but was seized yesterday.

Twinting was named defendant in a suit for $10,000 in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Edna Morroway, widow of one of the victims.

SEE HAUPTMANN AS WRITER OF RANSOM NOTES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Laboratory experts of the department of justice are convinced that the handwriting of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, as exhibited on his application for a New York automobile driving license is the same as that on the note left at the Lindbergh home in Hopewell, N. J., the night the flyer's baby was kidnaped, and subsequently in the thirteen ransom letters.

Their examination was completed today, in the scientific crime detection laboratory here, and the results led Attorney General Cummings to announce:

"There is no doubt but that the case has broken."

"The American people will feel, I am sure, a sense of profound relief and reassurance in the recent development in the Lindbergh case," a statement by Mr. Cummings said.

"Because of the prominence of the child's parents, the manner in which the crime was committed and its tragic end, a challenge was presented to the forces of law and order that elicited world-wide attention. When it became apparent that no immediate solution was in prospect the problem resolved itself into elements of patience, relentless vigilance, and a determination to solve the crime.

"The result now obtained is due not alone to the practical coöperation of the police department of New York City, the New Jersey state police and the division of investigation of the department of justice, but also to the unfailing watchfulness of banking and business institutions, the support of the press, and the assistance of alert, public spirited citizens."

Previously it had been announced in New York that the man "had access" to the lumber.

GORDON BENNETT BALLOON RACE RULES IRK YANKS

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Against the wishes of American participants, balloonists in the annual Gordon Bennett cup race starting Sunday must take off at stated intervals.

The United States navy entry will take to the air sixth, while "The Buffalo," entered by the Buffalo [N. Y.] Courier Express, will have twelfth place, it was announced today.

The Americans had hoped the balloons would be allowed to take off any time after 4:30 p. m., the hour set for the start of the 22d annual competition.

George Hineman, veteran balloonist, will pilot the Buffalo entry. Lieut. C. H. Kendall and H. T. Orville will be in the navy balloon. Thirty-five aeronauts are entered from eight countries.

GERMAN MOTHER OF HAUPTMANN BELIEVES IN HIM

Suspect Is Recalled as Town's Bad Boy.

KAMENZ, Germany, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Firmly convinced her black sheep son had gone straight in America, Frau Pauline Hauptmann wept uncontrollably tonight and would not believe he was guilty of kidnaping Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's baby.

The town, meanwhile, recalled Bruno Richard Hauptmann's many difficulties with the law before he fled to the United States to escape sentence for theft.

They recalled him as the town's "bad boy." The clerk of the county court called him "decidedly a tough baby of whom one might expect most anything."

Gets Charges Wiped Out.

So sure was Hauptmann's 69 year old mother he had reformed in America that two months ago she went to the state's attorney's office at Bautzen and had the old theft charges against him wiped out under the statute of limitations so he might come home.

Tonight she said, over and over again, "It's impossible," even though she had met the news of her Bruno's arrest with the statement she was "used to all sorts of things from the son who has caused me so many heartaches."

"It's nothing but supposition, isn't it?" she asked, while tears coursed down her cheeks.

Cannot Believe It.

"I will not, I cannot believe it is true. Remember, he himself is the father of a child. What father could do such a thing. No, it must be a mistake. He lived so honestly for such a long time. And now I am being forced to think of the terrible future."

About her son's criminal record in Germany—court authorities revealed that he broke jail while waiting trial for theft and fled to America—she would not talk.

"I have nothing to say on that point," she said, "since it has been such a long time ago."

The clerk of the county court, however, said:

"I am not surprised at the news of his implication in the Lindbergh affair. Before he landed with us he had committed various minor offenses."

Arrested for Theft.

The clerk said Hauptmann was arrested for theft in 1923 and was held for trial without bail.

"But he broke jail with an accomplice one day while the prisoners were taking their daily stroll in the courtyard," he said. "The police caught his accomplice, continued the case and sentenced Hauptmann to four years 'in absentia' for 'a major theft.'"

The state's attorney's office at Bautzen said, however, that Hauptmann was not sentenced but that proceedings against him were suspended.

Steadfastly believing in her son's innocence despite the news from abroad that shocked this manufacturing town into forgetfulness of ordinary events, Frau Hauptmann cited arguments that to her were proof conclusive of her boy's honesty.

Sends Money to Mother.

"He has even sent me money to help me prepare my little home," she said. "He has always sent me a little money at Christmas time. He wouldn't do that if he were really bad.

"Recently he wanted to return to Germany with his family and I have been so happy to think that I might see him again."

How much money Hauptmann sent his mother could not be learned but the amount was not believed large—perhaps several hundred marks.

Frau Hauptmann's home, though simple and modestly furnished, was scrupulously clean. A small annuity helps her to maintain it.

Hauptmann's father, a stonemason, highly respected in this community, died in 1917. The family as a whole has been one of good citizens, neighbors said, and Bruno's career has not been regarded as reflecting on it.

Veteran of World War.

Bruno himself fought in the world war, in which two of his brothers gave their lives. A third brother now resides at Dresden, while one of Hauptmann's sisters is married and lives in California.

Residents of Kamenz said Hauptmann was sentenced to prison in 1919 for five years. He served four of them, they said, and the fifth was canceled because of his good behavior.

FOUR BREMER RANSOM BILLS FOUND IN BANK

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Four $10 bills, identified by the serial numbers as part of the $200,000 ransom paid to free Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul, Minn., from kidnapers, have been found here.

One was passed Sept. 4 at a branch of the Manufacturers and Traders' Trust company, another was passed there a few days later, and the other two were received at the main office of the bank about the same time.

Seek Further Clews.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Four $10 bills identified as part of the Edward G. Bremer ransom money found in Buffalo, N. Y., produced no additional clews to aid in running down the kidnapers, federal officials here said today. Department of justice officials admitted they knew the currency was found, but added that they were without knowledge as to who passed it.

France Seizes American as Robber of U. S. Mails

PARIS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A man whose name was given as Morris Renkoff, born in Poland in 1886, and a naturalized American, was arrested by police today on charges that he had negotiated Italian bonds stolen in American mails.

FRUIT STORE ROBBED OF $165.

Frank Deluca, 26 years old, owner of the People's Trust market, a fruit store at 3607 Fullerton avenue, was held up yesterday at Paulina street and Austin avenue by three armed men in a maroon sedan who took $165.

Did He Kill the Lindbergh Baby?

BRUNO RICHARD HAUPTMANN.

LINKS IN EVIDENCE AGAINST HAUPTMANN IN LINDBERGH CASE

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—These are the mainstays of evidence connecting Bruno Richard Hauptmann with the Lindbergh kidnaping and ransom hoax as outlined by authorities:

1. Identification of his handwriting as corresponding with that in ransom notes.
2. Finding of Lindbergh ransom money about his home.
3. His identification as passing the ransom bills.
4. Admission that he had worked near Hopewell, N. J.
5. His own statement that he was a carpenter and cabinetmaker. The kidnap ladder was constructed, authorities said, by an expert carpenter.
6. Resemblance to "mysterious fellow" who sought to inspect unfinished Lindbergh home at Hopewell six months before abduction.
7. His German background linked with Teutonic symbolism in ransom notes and what government agents called evidence that they were written by a methodical German.
8. Identification by a taxi driver, whom he paid $1 to deliver a note to the home of Dr. J. A. F. Condon, who passed $50,000 of Col. Lindbergh's money over a cemetery wall in a futile effort to have the abducted baby returned.

Inquest Today in Death of Picket Slain by Police

An inquest will be held today into the death of Joseph Piskonowicz, 49 years old, 1909 North Kimball avenue, a picket for the Polish Bakers' union, who was shot early yesterday by Sergt. Joseph Ponecki of the Racine avenue police. The sergeant said Piskonowicz had hurled a brick through a window of the Waldman bakery, 1114 North Ashland avenue, and had disobeyed a command to halt. Morris Waldman, owner of the bakery, said efforts had been made to force him to employ union help, and that several acts of vandalism had been directed against his shop recently.

COL. LINDBERGH AND WIFE KEEP TO THEMSELVES

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Still in seclusion in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh withheld comment today on the arrest of Bruno R. Hauptmann in connection with the kidnaping of their slain infant son.

The Lindberghs, reported to be in a cottage on the Santa Monica cliffside canyon estate of Will Rogers, responded to no approaches directed toward the Rogers estate, and a later report was that they would seek seclusion at the ranch home of another motion picture star.

According to Jack L. Maddux, local friend and host of the Lindberghs, whose home they departed yesterday, shortly before news of the abduction case arrest became generally known, Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh contemplated issuing a statement regarding their interest in the Hauptmann arrest, but will not do so until developments reach a stage which, they think, will call for an expression.

"Col. Lindbergh has been acquainted with details of the case, but has nothing to say," the spokesman for the aviator said. Lindbergh was supposed to fly his plane from Clover field, Santa Monica, to San Francisco today, but canceled the plan.

U. S. LABOR UNIT TO SPEED UP ITS OUSTER OF ALIENS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Speedier deportation of unwanted and undesirable aliens will be sought by the labor department as a result of the arrest of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, Lindbergh kidnaping suspect.

That prediction was made at the department today. No accurate figure as to the number of undesirable foreigners in this country is now available, but estimates run from a few thousand to 200,000.

Approximately 1,500 immigration agents blanket the nation, seeking always to keep out aliens trying to enter illegally and to deport those who have come in, as Hauptmann did. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, the latest figures available, 19,865 persons were deported.

SEE HAUPTMANN RESEMBLING MAN AT LINDY'S HOME

Partially Identified as Curious Visitor.

Hopewell, N. J., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Pictures of Bruno Richard Hauptmann—held in New York in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping—today were identified by several persons here as resembling a man who had been about the community and in one case as the "mysterious fellow" who tried to go through the Lindbergh house on Sourland mountain during its construction.

It was Theodore Kuchtiak of Rocktown, watchman at the house while it was being built, who told about the "mysterious fellow."

"When I told him it was against the rules to go through the house," the watchman said, "he then wanted to see the stairway. I didn't let him."

Comes Out of Woods.

Kuchtiak's identification was the most positive. He said the pictures looked "very much like" the stranger who came out of the woods at the rear of the house and professed to have been picking chestnuts, although he had only three or four nuts in a tin pail.

Another man and a woman made less certain identifications.

Howard Dagen of Blawenburg said the pictures resembled a man who shortly before the kidnaping in March, 1932, lived in the Mount Rose section, near where the child's body was discovered two months later.

And Mrs. Carolyn Conover, who saw an automobile with a ladder on the side on a road near the Lindbergh estate a few hours before the kidnaping, said the pictures looked "like the man I saw in the car with the ladder."

One possible identification blew up when Mrs. F. Meschoant looked at the pictures and said, "Ach, that is not the man."

Resembles Lumber Buyer.

Jacob B. Van Doren, a lumber dealer, had said earlier that pictures of Hauptmann resembled a carpenter who bought lumber a few months ago to build the Meschoant's house in the Sourland mountains, near here.

Kuchtiak said the man told him he was living with friends near by and was "curious to see the inside of the house."

"He sounded like a foreigner and told me he was an Italian," Kuchtiak said.

The watchman's employer, Mike Hulfish, foreman of the construction work on the Lindbergh house, termed Kuchtiak "a very good observer."

Besides the identification of pictures of Hauptmann there were stories of automobiles.

Mrs. Conover reported to police during the investigation of the kidnaping that she saw a car drive up the road to the estate, stop several hundred feet from the entrance and the lights were turned off.

The man who carries the mail on the rural route by the estate, Edgar Copner, also related how he had seen a "grayish green sedan" parked atop Mount Rose hill, two miles from the estate and where a clear view could be had through field glasses.

JON LINDBERGH TAKES TRAIN FOR ENGLEWOOD, N. J.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Jon Lindbergh, a summer vacation behind him, left here by train tonight for the Englewood, N. J., home of his grandmother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow.

The curly haired boy boarded the same train which carried his canine companion, a big Belgian police dog, in a crate in the baggage car. Young Jon celebrated his second birthday only a few weeks ago at the North Haven estate of Mrs. Morrow.

The second son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh exhibited the enthusiasm of all youngsters for travel as the train pulled out.

He was accompanied by two women members of the Morrow household, ensconced in a drawing room at the rear of the train.

Mrs. Morrow and the remainder of the household planned to depart for Englewood Monday.

GAS ATTENDANT WHO NOTED RANSOM BILL GETS $100, DAY OFF

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Walter Lyle has $100 in his pocket, the day off, and his name in headlines in all the papers.

Lyle is the man who jotted down the license number of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's automobile on one of the $10 gold certificates that made up the Lindbergh ransom money.

And today Lyle is a hero to every one but himself.

The $100 and the day off is a present from his "big boss," L. V. Nicholas, president of the Warner-Quinlan Oil company, of one of whose filling stations Lyle is the manager.

Nicholas drove up to the Lexington avenue filling station where Hauptmann gave the $10 bill in payment for some gasoline and shook hands with Lyle.

After congratulating him, he said: "Here's a little something for you, Walter."

The "little something" was a check for $100.

Lyle also has hopes of a $25,000 reward.

"The federal men told me," he said, "that there's a $25,000 reward in this."

Lyle, a short slim man of 35, has been with the oil company since 1931.

HIS NEW FRIENDS ARE A BIG HELP TO MR. O'SHEA

They tossed the case into the lap of Policeman James O'Shea of the Des Plaines street station on last July 31 and said:

"Find out who did it, and get 'em."

JAMES O'SHEA.
[Tribune Photo.]

Nobody expected it would be solved. Nobody but O'Shea. The mild, soft-spoken, and slight young Irishman—looking like anything but the popular idea of a detective—went to work.

O'Shea Keeps Right On.

He made contacts. He questioned friends and made acquaintances. He ran down every clew. He had other duties, too, but every time he had a chance he disregarded advice of "O, forget that case, O'Shea," and kept on.

Weeks passed and everybody forgot about it. Everybody but O'Shea.

On Aug. 4 things began to happen. O'Shea arrested Roy Wyckoff, 316 South Aberdeen street, and Louie Orsnik, 312 South Aberdeen street. The men confessed and were indicted. The truck and eight tires were recovered.

"Fine work, O'Shea," they told him.

Every one thought the case was "cleaned up." Every one but O'Shea. He was sure that a third man was implicated and he kept on working in every spare moment he had and learned the name of Joe Slattery.

O'Shea Does Some Phoning.

He kept in touch with all the contacts he had made. One of the "contacts" told him on Sept. 19:

"Joe Slattery is in Bloomington, Ind."

O'Shea called the sheriff of that county. Slattery was arrested and yesterday he was brought back to Chicago. O'Shea turned him over to the state's attorney, and he, too, faces indictment. It had taken two months of hard, intensive work, but the case was solved.

All said it was a wonderful piece of work.

All but O'Shea. He is a modest copper.

MUNDELEIN SAYS JUBILEE MASS IN ST. PETER'S

Gives Pope Pius a Report on Chicago.

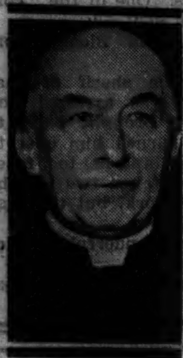
BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Sept. 21.—Cardinal George Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, today celebrated his episcopal jubilee with a commemorative mass at St. Peter's. This was followed by an hour's audience at Castel Gondolfo with Pope Pius, who sent his apostolic blessing to all the Catholic churches in the Chicago archdiocese.



CARDINAL MUNDELEIN.

The cardinal had expressed a wish that the mass should be strictly private, but as a matter of fact a large number of his friends in the American colony here and among the Vatican prelates were present.

For the mass at the cathedral altar of St. Peter's, where he was assisted by Vice Chancellor Father George Casey, his secretary, Father Patrick Hayes, and two seminary students, Cardinal Mundelein used a unique silver chalice which had only been employed once before by the present pope.

Tells Pope About Chicago.

Cardinal Mundelein told the pope that Chicago had overcome the economic slump. The pope was highly interested in American economic recovery, Cardinal Mundelein said, and expressed his admiration of President Roosevelt. The cardinal said he found the pontiff in excellent health. The pope, he said, had told him that he had greatly benefited from his summer's residence at Castel Gondolfo, which enabled him to escape the heat of Rome.

The cardinal said he did not discuss the movie cleanup campaign with the pope. He explained that it was not the purpose to make movies too prim and proper, but he said:

"We want Mae West and what she represents in the movies to go. We are now biding our time and giving Hollywood a chance to clean up the movies itself."

The cardinal said he expected to spend the rest of his visit in Rome quietly. He said he had no other special missions here. He will spend much time visiting the Propaganda Fide college. On Monday night he will give a dinner to all the students and teachers of the college, which was made possible by a contribution of $1,500,000 raised in Chicago by Cardinal Mundelein.

High Officials at Mass.

Among those who attended the anniversary mass were Archbishop Monsignor Luigi Pelizzo, Msgr. Carlo Respighi, perfect of apostolic ceremonies; Father Ledochowski, head of the Jesuit order; Father Oswald, head of the Carmelites of the Primitive Observance, and Father Bastien, rector of the Canadian college.

After he had celebrated mass, Cardinal Mundelein read the formula of the profession of faith. Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, and Msgr. Ottaviani were among scores who sent telegrams of felicitation to Cardinal Mundelein.

Pope Pius, it is expected, will return to Rome from Castel Gondolfo tomorrow to take up his regular quarters in the Vatican. Cardinal Mundelein will have his farewell audience with the pope there.

[On page 17 is an outline of the local celebration of Cardinal Mundelein's anniversary tomorrow].

ANNUAL REUNION AT BISHOP HILL SET FOR TODAY

Swedish Colony Will Celebrate.

Bishop Hill, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The eighty-eighth annual reunion of the Settlers' Association of Bishop Hill will be held tomorrow. Bishop Hill was the first Swedish settlement in Illinois. Only a handful of the original colonists remain, and only seven of the group who came here from Sweden are living. All are attending the reunion.

Founded in 1846 by Eric Janssen, the colony was noted as a communistic enterprise and was the result of religious persecution in Sweden. Its founder was shot to death in the Henry county courthouse by John Root, who had married Janssen's cousin, because of certain marriage laws the leader had invoked May 13, 1850.

Dissolved in 1862.

After Janssen's death leadership of the colony changed hands several times, but each time, after a period of prosperity, the leaders became reckless with the colony funds and periods of want followed. These circumstances eventually led to dissolution of the colony as a failure in 1862.

The enterprise brought 1,100 religious zealots to the state when Chicago was only a small city and there was not another city in the entire state. The population of Henry county at the time was only 4,400. At present the village population is less than 300.

Parade to Be Feature.

A feature of tomorrow's program is an historical parade depicting the happenings of the early days. A chicken dinner will be served at noon in the old county building, where the colonists all gathered for their daily meals.

The seven survivors who came here from Sweden are: Mrs. Anna Wiberg, 95, and Mrs. Jane Johnson, 84, of Galva; Mrs. Anna Nystrom, 91, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hallfast, 91, of Bishop Hill; Mrs. Betsy Anderson, 88, of Cambridge; Mrs. Minnie Willard, 85, of Kansas City, and Peter Engstrom, 87, of Chicago.

Mother's Third Child

A baby girl who tipped the scale at 14 pounds 10 and one-half ounces was born early yesterday in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital to Mrs. Edwin Brehmer, 4930 North Pulaski road [Crawford avenue]. More remarkable, according to physicians, is the fact that the total birth weight of Mrs. Brehmer's three children, including this one, is nearly 40 pounds, the first child weighing 12 pounds and the second 13 and one-half. The little girl has been named Charmaine. Dr. Rose Mary Dispensa was the attending physician.

BOY WHO PLAYED TARZAN SENT TO JUVENILE COURT

A boy suspect in recent attacks on women in the Shakespeare police district was turned over to juvenile authorities yesterday by Police Captain Peter Tomchek.

The boy, Robert Offersen, 13 years old, 3042 George street, was arrested Thursday night in the basement of a bungalow at 2829 North Whipple street, with a coil of rope in his possession. He steadfastly denied having molested anybody, and none of the women subjected to recent attacks identified him after viewing him at the police station.

Robert's mother, Violet, said he was a great admirer of the novel and film character, Tarzan, kept many of the books in his room, and frequently played he was an "ape man." The coil of rope, she said, came from his home. The mother declared Robert was a good boy, but "lonely," and not given to playing with other children. He is in the eighth grade at the Brentano school.

Striking Filipino Cigar Makers Reject Pay Boost

MANILA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Asserting that the proposed temporary increase in wages was insufficient, 11,000 striking cigar workers refused today to return to work. They had been offered a minimum of 50 cents a day after a strike lasting five weeks, resulting in four deaths.

SELLER OF FREE TICKETS DRAWS 120 DAYS IN JAIL

Sam Millard, 28 years old, identified in testimony as the operator of the Dixie tavern at 1108 South Michigan avenue, was sentenced yesterday by Municipal Judge Gibson E. Gorman to serve two terms totaling 120 days in the Bridewell and to pay three fines aggregating $27.

Millard, who lives at 1234 South Wabash avenue, says his real name is Stanish Samuel Millard. He incurred $25 of the fines for inducing World's Fair visitors to pay him $1 apiece for free tickets to a pageant given last Sunday night in Soldiers' field. The charge was disorderly conduct.

Sixty days in jail and a $1 fine followed conviction of taking money under false pretenses by sending a $27 bogus check to pay a meat bill to Phil Goetz & Co., packers, 611 East Pershing road. Conviction of larceny by bailee brought another 60 days and another $1. Michael Carren, 4236 North Spaulding avenue, testified he worked as a bookkeeper in the Dixie tavern, and that when he resigned, Millard refused to return $50 posted as bond.

WAR PALS REUNITED BY CHANCE MEETING; ONE THOUGHT KILLED

Greenfield, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A chance meeting on primary election night which enabled a Californian and a New Jersey man to renew a friendship supposedly ended by death on the battlefields of France was revealed here today.

A. Lincoln Levine of Hermosa Beach, Cal., was a dinner guest of Attorney William A. Davenport, chairman of the local board of selectmen and a winner in yesterday's election of the Republican nomination for state senator, at a local hotel. As they sat at their table a man arose on the opposite end of the room, approached them and said to the Californian, "Levine, are you alive?"

It was Nicholas Nelson of Montclair, N. J. Both men were sergeants in the Fifth U. S. field artillery. Nelson saw his friend carried away, badly gassed and wounded, in the St. Mihiel drive, and as Levine never returned to the outfit, Nelson thought him dead.

Autumn styles of 1934 make their bow. Different, dashing, novel. Well worth knowing.

They aren't Gibson girlish, any more. That "naughty nineties" air has succumbed to the charm of the Directoire influence and memories of Napoleon.

FAIR WILL HONOR SWEDISH PEOPLE IN EVENTS TODAY

Parents and Teachers to Share Spotlight.

BY EARL MULLIN.

Sweden and Swedish-Americans will be honored by programs at the World's Fair today. Pageantry, music, and folksongs will feature the program. Also sharing in today's events will be officials of the National Education association and of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The colorful ceremonies of the Scandinavian groups and the educational features of the other events are expected to provide the lure for visitors, equaling if not exceeding those of recent Saturdays.

Yesterday, throngs defied rainy weather and chill lake breezes to use their cut rate admission ticket books, issued for last Monday, Constitution day. The books were good for admission to the grounds, and through an arrangement with the Fair concessions, honored all tickets presented. Early in the evening a new Friday record for this season was set. The old mark, 122,961, was established Aug. 17 and at midnight yesterday, 144,296 persons had entered the gates.

Colorful Swedish Pageant.

Today a pageant portraying the history of Sweden from ancient times to the present will be a leading event of the program. The formal ceremonies will open at 7:30 p. m. in the Court of States with a prelude of music and songs. Charles S. Peterson, vice president of the Exposition, will make the principal address.

Officials expected that more than 5,000 nationals would attend or participate in today's program. Although he will not be present, one of the Swedish-Americans to whom the Fair will pay tribute is Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in the pageant finale.

The two honor guests on the educational program will be Henry Lester Smith, president of the National Education association, and Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Langworthy will discuss 'The Parents' Part in Education," while the subject of Mr. Smith's address will be 'Education and Progress."

Society Officials to Attend.

The program will begin at 3 p. m. in the Court of States. Mrs. Arthur R. Williams will preside and a choral program will be presented by the All-Chicago Mother Singers. Illinois congress board members will be hostesses to the visiting national board members at luncheon in the trustees' lounge preceding the program in the Court of States.

Starting tomorrow evening all persons in costumes of a period prior to 1890, comic character costumes, or foreign nation costumes, will be admitted to the grounds free between 7 and 8 p. m. for one week. Each night certain selections will be made for a final costume contest on Saturday night. A daily parade, featuring the floats used in 'Chicago on Parade" will be held from the Court of Honor daily at 8 p. m.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES

Officials of the Ford Motor company exhibit at the Fair yesterday received a letter from J. M. Leib, secretary to the former emperor of Germany, expressing the kaiser's thanks for Fair pictures sent to him when Prince Louis Ferdinand, connected with the European branch of the company, visited Chicago and the Fair several weeks ago. The letter of thanks was mailed from Unter den Linden, Berlin.

Bernard Vessey, Colorado Springs, Colo., will lead an audience of several thousand Modern Woodmen of America in community singing in the Court of States today when the Foresters hold their day at the Fair. More than 1,000 of them will parade through the 14th street gate before Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluverius and national and state officers of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Fourteen winners of a business development contest, conducted this summer by the Postal Telegraph company, together with executives from New York headquarters of the company, arrived at A Century of Progress yesterday for a week-end of sightseeing as guests of the local Postal Telegraph offices.

Wednesday and Thursday of next week will be women's billiards day at the Fair. Four feminine players will meet in the third annual women's western amateur pocket billiard championship tournament. The games will be played in the Simmons company exhibit in the General Exhibits building.

Fulfilling a contract awarded them by the Ford exposition as a result of their victory in the male chorus competition of THE TRIBUNE'S Chicagoland music festival last month, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Glee club of 70 members will share honors with "A Century of Dance" pageant in the Ford gardens today and tomorrow.

Several Georgia peaches will arrive Monday morning over the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, with Gov. Eugene Talmadge, his family, and official staf, and more than 200 other visitors from Georgia, for the celebration of Georgia week, which begins on that day.

Lieut. Andrew Bohomolec, Polish cavalry officer, and George Swiechowski, who sailed a 27 foot sloop, the Dal, from Gdynia, Poland, to Chicago, will be honored this afternoon at a ceremony in the Lagoon theater at A Century of Progress. The sloop, which was the first vessel to sail directly to Chicago from Poland, has been on exhibition in the North Lagoon since it arrived on Aug. 24.

The navigators will be presented with medals by Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Fair. Among the speakers will be Polish consular officials and Judge John Prystalski of the Circuit court. The ceremonies will begin at 4 p. m.

KEEN, COURTEOUS VIGILANCE KEEPS 1934 FAIR CLEAN

Bullying Arrests Banned; Shows Co-operate.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Members of the World's Fair management yesterday explained how the 1934 Exposition has scored over that of 1933 in its methods of policing cabaret and floor shows, peep shows, and the like. The 1934 Exposition offers no less night life diversion than last year's Fair, nor is it more strictly regulated, they pointed out, but it is regulated with less noise and confusion and decidedly more gentility.

So quietly does the public protection division of A Century of Progress operate that many members of the civic associations, which employ investigators to survey moral and social conditions, are not always aware that the Fair itself is continuously investigating these conditions, said Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager of the Exposition.

Spend $120,000 a Month.

More than $120,000 a month, of which $111,000 is used for pay roll costs, is spent by the Fair in the public protection division, according to H. D. Nuber, assistant to the general manager in charge of general service. The division employs 225 "red coats" or uniformed World's Fair policemen in three 8-hour shifts, with an extra shift from 7 p. m. to 3 a. m. In addition 500 guides are employed. Uniformed patrolmen are under leadership of Chief of Police Edward Redd, with Lieut. Ernest Schondorf in charge of the 4 p. m. to midnight detail.

No uniformed men are used in the investigation of the gay spots of the Fair, which, according to Chief Charles H. Thurman of the public protection division, forms the department's most knotty and delicate problem. Forty policemen wearing civilian clothes are assigned to keep watch over barkers, shows, and liquor selling places.

Attend Each Show Daily.

Every show in the Fair is attended daily by one or more of these 40 men, who are not included among the 225 uniformed men. If they see something in a performance which they interpret as objectionable, they must, according to their instructions, do nothing about it in a spectacular way.

After sitting through the performance, preserving an attitude of nonchalance, they have a private, pleasant chat with the management and alterations are suggested. In some instances they lead performers quietly to the Fair gates and take their passes from them.

"We have splendid coöperation from the concessionaires," said Chief Thurman. "We have learned that it pays to be gentlemen. Last year we bullied offenders. This year we just talk nice to them and get a lot more coöperation."

Arrest Few; Spike Notoriety.

"Our general policy is not to make an arrest," explained Mr. Nuber. "Then no one gets any notoriety. If we made arrests the barkers would capitalize on it in advertising the shows. We learned a lot from Sally Rand last year. Sally did a lot for the 1933 Fair in bringing in visitors, though."

Not one pass has been taken from a performer in a main floor show, Chief Thurman revealed. Barkers, most of whom operate on a commission basis and resort to various means of luring crowds to buy tickets, are the worst offenders, he said. Throughout the grounds they are ejected as undesirable in large numbers, the turnover being a quick one. Any barkers who admit children to peep shows are ousted.

Know What Is Art, Now.

"We were at a disadvantage last year in being green and not knowing the difference between art and vulgarity," said Chief Thurman. "This year we know."

Asked to define the difference, he frowned in perplexity and indicated he could understand but not express the subtleties of the definition.

"It's something you can't put into words," said Mr. Nuber. "What we try to attain is not purity, but respectability. If anything our restrictions are more liberal than they were last year. They are enforced more discreetly, however. We aim to be no more rigid and no more liberal than the general theatrical policy in the city."

More Disorder Expected.

Mr. Nuber pointed out the orderly conduct of World's Fair crowds. They are, if anything, less disorderly than those of last year, although the Fair management expected more disorder because of the sale of liquor on the grounds.

Several investigators from civic or protective associations visit the Fair grounds in a day, Mr. Nuber said, and their reports are always noted by the department. The general tenor of the reports throughout the summer indicated improvement of conditions, he said.

In the natural, easy drape out of these coats you see representatives of authentic English style traditions—a more thorough investigation of these coats reveals the distinguished details that are part and parcel of the true British raglan. In the tweed coat for instance, the inside pocket is on the left side of the coat, and buttoned above the opening of the inside pocket is the tab that is used to keep the collar closed in bad weather. In the Covert cloth coat with Prussian collar the pockets are slashed type, running through to the inside of the coat.

MAURICE L ROTHSCHILD

U. S. MATTRESS MADE TO LAST FOR "LIFETIME"

Manufacturers Ask: 'Why Ruin Trade 25 Years?'

Government Making Mattresses for Needy in Chicago

Workers fluffing the cotton before putting it in the mattresses at factory operated by the government and the Illinois emergency relief at 51st street and Vincennes avenue. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mattress makers, through their code authority's attorney, Cornelius Lynde, yesterday propounded this query for the brain trust:

"If the depression is to end within a year or two, why should the government now give mattresses that will last fifteen to twenty-five years to persons on relief, thereby eliminating those persons as customers of our industry for that length of time?"

The industry offered to make the mattresses at $2.60 apiece for the government, but received no answer to its proposition, according to Attorney Lynde. The government was to supply the raw material for the bedding, which was intended for free distribution by emergency relief organizations.

The first mattress factory to be operated by the government and the Illinois emergency relief commission is in a building lent by the Chicago Home for the Friendless at 51st street and Vincennes avenue.

Recounts History of Plant.

Yesterday H. F. Taylor, organizer and director of the project, which includes the making of clothing for distribution to families receiving relief, explained the workings of the government owned factory.

"This plant was begun as a Civil Works project through the assistance of the Red Cross. It started last December, and we now have 564 people working here, all taken off the relief rolls. We have 372 women operating sewing machines under ideal working conditions, six hours a day, five days a week, and at 50 cents an hour. We turned out 50,235 garments in a week at a profit of $9,000; that is, considering what they would have cost if purchased in the open market.

"'Two weeks ago we started making mattresses. The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation had the cotton and ticking on hand. It is staple cotton of fine quality. I don't know what it cost, but it is valued at $71 a bale of 500 pounds, even though the market price of cotton fluctuates between 8 and 20 cents a pound."

"Will Last a Lifetime."

"Sixty-four employés were taken from relief rolls for this work, thirty-two on each of two shifts. On each shift there are twenty-four women who were inexperienced in this work and who are now paid 50 cents an hour, two male laborers at 50 cents an hour, four male mattress workers paid 65 cents an hour, and a male and female supervisor, each paid $25 a week.

"They turn out a mattress every ten minutes, seventy-two each day on the two shifts. The mattresses are worth $20 each and will last a lifetime. One set of employés fluffs the cotton, others put it in the ticking, sew the cloth, and tie the tufts, all handwork.

"Each mattress contains fifty pounds of cotton, so we get ten from a bale. Each one requires nine and one-half yards of ticking, which costs 13½ cents a yard. We do not figure the original cost of the material, freight or drayage charges, or distribution costs. We do turn out fine mattresses and they are supplied to homes on recommendations of case workers."

Sees Regular Workers on Relief.

Attorney Lynde said private industry not only could not hope to meet this competition by the government, but that the government was destroying the market for the 2,000 small bedding manufacturers and four large ones.

Private industry uses some machine work in making mattresses, he said, but in the main it is hand work. Government operation will put private industry out of business, he predicted, and its workers will go on the relief rolls in place of those taken off to work in government factories.

Mr. Taylor said that as fast as he trains employés in the work of mattress making they are sent to other factories being opened up by the relief organization and that a dozen or so similar shops are planned for this state.

HOPKINS TRIMS PROGRAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Protests from private mattress makers have forced Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, to scale down his plans for having the government make 2¼ million mattresses and distribute them to the poor, it was learned today.

Hopkins announced that he is cutting down his program to a million mattresses, which are to be made by the unemployed on relief rolls and which will be distributed only to the most hopeless cases now on the dole. His retreat followed vigorous protests by mattress makers against his original program.

The 2¼ million mattresses he proposed to make would keep 40 per cent of the private industry operating for a full year, the makers said.

In a letter to the manufacturers which preceded his public announcement today Hopkins confessed his error in overlooking the durable nature of mattresses and the resultant competition with the private industry.

Since Hopkins has bought at government expense ticking and other supplies for 2¼ million mattresses, he was faced today with the problem of disposing of more than half of it again.

SIX HOUR WORKING DAY DEMANDED BY CHICAGO CARPENTERS

Union carpenters are demanding of their employers a six hour day during their five day work week, it became known yesterday when Oscar Rosenthal, president of the Builders' association, was notified by the carpenters' district council of a referendum vote favoring a shorter work day. They are now working 8 hours a day.

The carpenters' district council, with 18,000 members, had a poll taken of its membership to decide the question with the power to call a strike to enforce its demands.

The builders will act on the demands at their meeting the early part of next week.

The question of wages of the carpenters, who now are receiving $1.31¼ per hour, does not enter into the present demands. Their wage contract expires May 1, 1935.

BUS FIRED AFTER GAS BOMB HURTS WOMEN AND BABY

Five women and a seven month old baby were injured last evening when vandals tossed a stench bomb into a bus of the Chicago Motor Coach company at Jackson boulevard and Morgan street. While the victims were receiving treatment at the West Side hospital the vandals, believed to be striking bus drivers or their sympathizers, stole the bus, drove it to 1912 West Roosevelt road, about a mile from the hospital, and set fire to it.

Those injured were Miss Catherine Sullivan, 22 years old, 2106 West 18th street, lacerations to the left hand; Mrs. Mary Buehman, 22 years old, 3101 Douglas boulevard, abrasions to the forehead and neck; Mrs. Odell Cory, 30 years old, 1518 South St. Louis avenue, lacerations to the left hand; her son, Richard Cory, 7 months old; Miss Mary Sullivan, 24 years old, 2239 Washburn avenue, and Mrs. Sonya Zolotar, 28 years old, 3856 West 16th street. All suffered eye inflammation from the gas released from the bomb.

Roy A. Meyer, 21 years old, 4916 North Washtenaw avenue, driver of the bus, said he was driving west in Jackson boulevard when the bomb crashed through a window into the lower compartment. He drove at once to the hospital, he said, and aided in caring for his injured passengers. When he returned to the street his bus was gone, he said. When found the bus was burning, but the blaze was extinguished by the Marquette police. Damage was slight.

Kosciusko, Miss., Honors General's Monument Here

Introducing the approaching centennial celebration of Kosciusko, Miss., a wreath was laid at the Humboldt park monument of Thaddeus Kosciusko, Polish general and patriot, for whom the Mississippi town was named. On behalf of its citizens, the ceremony was conducted here by Jones Woodward, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Attala county, Mississippi. Chicagoans of Polish descent who will attend the centennial on Oct, 3, 4, and 5, were represented. The Chicago delegation will leave by special train on Oct. 2.

PROTESTS AS NRA EXPERT GAVELS DOWN A WITNESS

Attorney Hits 'Attitude' at Coal Hearing.

A protest was entered yesterday against the "antagonistic attitude" displayed by Dr. Charles Persons of the NRA toward a coal dealer who found fault with the price fixing structure, as the hearings conducted by the NRA research and planning division ended yesterday. Several dealers who feared to have their names used said that the net result of the four days' sessions in the Hotel La Salle was a "whitewash."

The protest came as Dwight S. Harding, president of the South Chicago Coal and Dock company, was being cross-examined by Dr. Persons. Asked for figures on his cost of doing business on eastern coal transported by the combination lake and railroad route, Mr. Harding gave approximations which he said were the best he had at hand.

Demands Only Exact Figures.

Repeatedly Dr. Persons, who came from Washington for the hearings, hammered on the table with a gavel as Mr. Harding attempted to answer his questions. In biting tones the expert from Washington demanded exact figures or none at all. Mr. Harding patiently tried to satisfy his inquisitor, for, as he said later, he did not want the official to be prejudiced against his cause.

Finally Cranston Spray, attorney for the Chicago Real Estate board and the Building Managers' association, who are seeking abandonment or readjustment of the increased code prices, leaped up.

"I'm just about burned up!" he told Dr. Persons. "I want to enter my protest against the antagonistic attitude you have taken toward Mr. Harding, who is here as a complainant. I will also point out that you patiently listened to the code authority go around the block nine times with the cat." [Meaning the Chicago code group's defense of its actions.]

Cuts Price Below Code.

Mr. Harding's complaint was based on the ground that the code requires him to charge the same price for water borne coal from the east as for that brought by the all-rail route, although there is a 70 cents a ton saving on the former. As a result, he said, the price to the consumer is $6.49 a ton, which makes it "impossible" for him to sell in competition with high grade Illinois steam coal at $5.11.

Last year the prices were $5.20 against $4.60, but the 60 cents difference could be offset by the higher quality of the eastern coal, he said. After a vain attempt to operate on the new fixed prices, Mr. Harding frankly admitted that he had cut his price 50 cents a ton and would continue to do so. He has been cited by the code authority for violating the price provisions.

"Are you making a profit at the lower price now?" he was asked by F. E. Berquist of Washington, chairman of the review board of the NRA research and planning division.

Declares No Emergency Now.

"Yes," Mr. Harding replied. "There is no emergency now, contrary to the declaration of the code authority. But if we continue to build what we are building, we will create an emergency."

M. K. Hunt, attorney for the code authority, read from a bulletin issued by the national code body, which held that dealers having favorable rates at the mine or favorable transportation costs would have to equalize their prices with dealers not having such advantages. The Chicago code members considered that dealers having natural advantages should be willing to take a larger profit rather than force down the market level, he said.

"It was the only rape case I ever saw," said a large consumer after the hearing, "in which the judge sat with the defendants."

He referred to the fact that the code authority members who fixed the prices were at the same table used by Chairman Berquist, who is to review the prices.

Isadore Drell, 3931 Adams street, the owner, denied the handbook allegation and could give no motive for the bombing.

UNCOVER MURDER CLEW IN RAVINIA DEATH MYSTERY

Short, Coarse Hairs Are Found in Hand.

Four short, coarse hairs clutched between the fingers of the left hand of the young woman whose headless body was discovered on Thursday near the old Ravinia Opera house, suggested yesterday the possibility of her murder by a man. Her identity and the cause of her death were still a mystery to officials of Highland Park and Lake county.

A post-mortem examination revealed little. The torso, found in a thicket 50 feet from Sheridan road in the north shore suburb, showed no evidence of a bullet wound. The head had been found a month earlier. Dr. W. D. McNally, former coroner's chemist in Cook county, who was called into the case, considered the possibility that the young woman had been shot in the neck or strangled.

Poison Theory Considered.

Apparently the head of the dead woman had rested on her coat, which was folded up and used as a pillow. This fact, to Chief of Police Edward Maroney of Highland Park, indicated she might have lain down to die after taking poison. The neck of a medicine bottle was found near the body.

A dog was responsible for the head's separation from the body and its being found Aug. 12. When the torso was first seen by a mushroom picker on Thursday an old revolver with three unfired bullets in the chamber and no discharged cartridges was beside it. Police were unable to trace ownership of the gun. From the condition of the body it was believed the woman's death occurred about three months ago.

Dr. McNally estimated the age of the woman at 30, but said he would make tests of a piece of bone and be able to reach a more accurate estimate. When he noted the hairs between the fingers he hazarded a guess they were from a man's head, but said he would make a careful study of them.

Former Domestic Sought.

From the fact that the knuckles of the dead woman were enlarged it was believed she probably was a domestic. At Fred's employment agency in Highland Park information was obtained that a girl had been sent to work in the home of Mrs. Julia Donsing, 623 St. John's avenue, Highland Park, last June 7. Her name was given as Ellen Stark and her age as 19.

Mrs. Donsing said Miss Stark had as a sweetheart a soldier from Fort Sheridan. After a week the girl left, saying she was going home to Ramsey, Mich., for a visit, and she did not return. The employment agency said she had not paid a fee there. No one, however, was able to identify the clothing as that of Miss Stark.

Miss Mary Mullen, 17 years old, a maid in the home of Robert Turgeon, 1709 Lake avenue, Wilmette, was sure the shoes worn by the dead woman were those of Ruth Margaret Olson, missing daughter of a Highland Park gardener, who was a friend of Miss Mullen. She said she had worn Miss Olson's shoes at one time and was sure they were the same.

Dr. John W. Shedd, Highland Park dentist who had done work on Miss Olson's teeth, stated positively the dead woman was not Miss Olson. He had examined the teeth in the skull.

Coroner John L. Taylor of Lake county said an inquiry would be made to find Miss Stark.

Three Menace Guests; Rob South Side Hotel of $160

Three armed men walked into the Norwood hotel, 6400 Normal boulevard, yesterday. One fired a shot over the heads of five guests in the lobby. "That means we're not fooling," the leader said. Two of the robbers then lined up the guests, four of them women, and two women employés, while the third forced Edmund Hellams, desk clerk, to hand over $160 from the cash drawer. The three escaped.

ADMITS SLAYING LT. DAY; POLICE SIFT CONFESSION

Take Unkempt Suspect to Scene of Crime.

The Gresham police last night were holding William Duba, 26 years old, of Oak Lawn, a mental defective, while they investigated his "confession" that he had fatally beaten Lieut. James F. Day, veteran policeman, on Wednesday night. Duba, unkempt, and with several days' growth of beard was arrested yesterday near St. Louis avenue and 63d street by the Chicago Lawn police.

When arrested he said that he had a fight with a tall man and had clubbed and left him unconscious in a vacant lot near 85th and Halsted streets. He was taken to the scene of the slaying of Lieut. Day and pointed out a place where he said he was lying when the "tall man kicked me and ordered me out."

Tells of Robbing Victim.

The place he pointed out appeared to be the only one where the grass and weeds were depressed as though some one had lain there. He said he drew a club that he carried underneath his sweater and attacked the lieutenant. He went through his victim's pockets and took $18 in currency, a watch, and a rosary, he said.

He told the police that he threw the beads and watch away but did not know where. Capt. William J. O'Brien pressed him to try to remember, but Duba was unable to do so. Police say Lieut. Day always carried a rosary but none was in his pockets when the body was found Thursday morning in the vacant lot, which is near the Gresham police station, where he was going for his night's work.

When arrested Duba had $1.13 in his pocket. He said that he had paid a debt of $5 and had spent most of the balance in stores near 63d street and Cicero avenue.

His father, William Duba Sr., 5049 West 105th street, Oak Lawn, a truck farmer, told Capt. O'Brien his son did not have any money when he left home Tuesday. Young Duba said that he had been sleeping in the open.

Tour Scene of Spending.

Duba said he had been in the Dunning and Kankakee state asylums several times. The father denied this, saying his son has been mentally deficient for seven years, but that he never was placed in an institution.

Police yesterday afternoon took Duba on a tour of the 63d street and Cicero avenue vicinity to have him point out places where he spent money. Duba pointed out a restaurant at 4708 West 47th street, but the staf that served him was not on duty and he was to be taken back later.

ARGUES AGAINST PLEA TO DIVIDE INSULL TRIALS

The petition of four defendants in the Insull mail fraud case for a separate trial was opposed by the government in a memorandum filed yesterday before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

The four defendants are Harold L. Stuart, Charles B. Stuart, Frank A. Shrader, and Clarence P. MacNeille, all officials of Halsey, Stuart & Co. investment house.

According to the government memorandum, presented by United States Attorney Dwight H. Green and his assistants, Forest Harness and Leo J. Hassenauer, the Insull case does not differ from most of the mail fraud and conspiracy cases tried in the federal courts.

REPORTS FALSE HOLDUP; FINED.

Edward Zelenske, 28 years old, a filling station attendant, was fined $1 yesterday in the Shakespeare avenue court on a charge of disorderly conduct after he admitted he falsely reported he had been robbed of $30 to cover a shortage. He made restitution.

MISSING JERSEY BANKER TRIES TO KILL SELF HERE

The Chicago detective bureau received a telephone call last evening from the police of Maywood, N. J.

"Mr. George Gray, a banker from this city, is in the Cambridge apartments at 530 Diversey parkway," the New Jersey officer said, "and has threatened to kill himself."

Sheffield avenue police were notified, and went to the apartment house. Mrs. Vera Lauder, manager, told them Gray had attempted to end his life by gas Thursday morning, and was taken to the county hospital. There it was said he would recover.

Further information from New Jersey was that Gray suffered a nervous breakdown from overwork, about a year ago, and a few weeks later disappeared. He had written a letter to his wife, telling of his intention to end his life.

New Jersey officers requested that Gray be held until his relatives could reach Chicago.

PRINCE GEORGE TO WED GRECIAN PRINCESS NOV. 29

Westminster Abbey Will Be Scene of Ceremony.

BY JOHN STEELE.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—After lengthly interfamily consultations, in which government ministers and church authorities also participated, King George today decided on a state wedding for his youngest son, Prince George, and Princess Marina of Greece.

The couple will be married in historic Westminster abbey on Thursday, Nov. 29. The state ceremony will be followed by a short service in Buckingham palace, according to the ritual of the Greek Orthodox church, of which Princess Marina is a member.

It is expected the prince of Wales will be the best man, while Princess Elizabeth, 8 year old daughter of the duke and duchess of York and a niece of Prince George, will be one of the bridesmaids.

Week's Debate Ended.

For nearly a week King George and Queen Mary, Prince Nicholas and Princess Helene of Greece, the parents of the bride-to-be, and the archbishop of Canterbury have been debating the wedding plans at Balmoral castle in Scotland. It is understood that Nov. 29 was decided upon because George and his Grecian princess strongly dislike the idea of a long engagement.

The royal wedding thus will take place nine days after the opening of parliament by the king and queen. Parliament opens Tuesday, Nov. 20, and Londoners will have two state processions to cheer in less than a fortnight.

Other details of the wedding ceremony must still be settled, but it is practically certain that the archbishops of Canterbury and York will officiate.

The king and queen will drive in full state from Buckingham palace to the abbey, with an escort of cavalry resplendent in their uniforms. Prince George and his best man will drive there separately. Princess Marina will arrive in a third procession.

Brother Will Be Absent.

A notable absentee will be the duke of Gloucester, third son of the British rulers. He still will be visiting Australia when his brother marries.

Details of the arrangements at Westminster abbey will be settled under the direction of Dr. Foxley Norris, the dean of Westminster.

The wedding date falls on the day before Princess Marina's birthday, according to the old Greek calendar, although by the present day calendar her birthday falls on Dec. 13.

Before the wedding King George will hold a privy council, probably at Buckingham palace. The archbishops of Canterbury and York will attend, in accordance with the traditional custom, when the king signifies his consent to the wedding of his youngest son by an order in council under the great seal of England.

IT'S SAFER TO NOSE UP A LAMP POST OR EVEN NUDGE A PEDESTRIAN

Ben Wilkinson, 4052½ Sheridan road, sat in the Sheffield avenue police station for several hours last night pondering on the fate that had selected him for its victim out of all the city's motorists.

Mr. Wilkinson, unfortunately, had driven his automobile through a red light at Hawthorne place and Lake Shore drive and the car came lightly to rest against another one that had just reached the intersection. There were no unflattering remarks from the occupants of the other car; they just seized Mr. Wilkinson and took him to the station.

There he was charged with reckless driving and running through a red light and his bonds were set at $35 on each charge. He telephoned his stepson, Dud VanDoven, a radio entertainer, to bring the money. In a few hours VanDoven arrived, furnished the bonds and walked out with Mr. Wilkinson.

"There are more than a half million automobiles in the city," Van Doven chided his stepfather, "and you have to run into the police accident prevention squad car."

FAIR COP BUYS GUN TAKEN FROM CRIME EXHIBIT

Whatever else you may say about Carlton Turner, there is nothing wrong with his nerve.

Turner, who is 26 years old and lives at 2842 Adams street, has been employed as a lagoon patrolman at the World's Fair both in 1933 and in 1934.

A week ago Turner broke into the crime exhibit at the Fair and stole two pistols, one of them allegedly used in the St. Valentine day massacre.

He sold one of them, a .38 caliber revolver, to no one else but Lieut. Ernest Schondorf of the World's Fair police. That was two days ago. Yesterday the lieutenant finally recognized the pistol and investigated.

Sure enough, it was the stolen gun, and in Turner's possession was another of the purloined weapons. Turner confessed the burglary and was locked up.

Pay Day Off, Muscatine Firemen Stay on Job

Muscatine, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Muscatine's 19 firemen began serving without pay today after Mayor Herman Lord refused to sign $1,000 in warants for the department's salaries the last two weeks. Local banks are holding as notes against the city approximately $12,000 in previously issued fire department warants. A new mandatory state tax law prohibits the issuance of more Muscatine fire department warants this year.

TRAIN KILLS YOUTH, 17.

Muscatine, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Leland William Camp, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Camp of Moscow, Ia., was killed near Wilton today when, in avoiding a westbound freight train, he stepped directly in front of an eastbound Rock Island passenger train.

CALL OFF STRIKE, PRESIDENT ASKS TEXTILE FACTIONS

Makes Appeal to Both Sides.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today took time out from a triple birthday celebration in the summer White House to express hope and confidence that the resolutions of his special board of inquiry, made public yesterday, will serve as the basis of an early settlement of the vast textile strike.

The President made a personal appeal to the striking textile workers, urging them to return to work immediately, and to the employers, calling upon them to take back the strikers without discrimination.

Released by Secretary.

The President's statement, made public by Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary, said:

"In formally approving the reports submitted to me by the board of inquiry for the cotton textile industry I want to express the very sincere hope that all employés now out on strike will return to work and that all textile manufacturers will take back employés without discrimination. At the same time I am confident that manufacturers will aid the government in the carrying of the steps outlined. Settlement of problems involved will be reached with the exercise of a spirit of coöperation and fair play on both sides."

The birthday celebration was in honor of the President's mother, Mrs. Sara Denalo Roosevelt, who was 80 years old, but she insisted upon sharing the occasion with two of the President's sons, Elliott, who recently became 24, and Franklin Jr., who will be 20 on Sunday.

Relief Problem Next.

With the textile situation still unsettled President Roosevelt tomorrow will turn his attention to another great problem confronting the New Deal—the relief question. Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, will confer at the summer White House, not only upon the immediate relief outlook but also, it is believed, upon the New Deal's social security program to be presented to the next congress.

Recent callers at the Roosevelt home have indicated that the gigantic relief costs of the government, now running around $125,000,000 a month, must be drastically slashed to keep from imposing new taxes.

The President will also receive Mayor La Guardia and seven other members of the legislative committee of the national conference of mayors, who are considering the relief problem in cities.

REPORTS TRUDEL MYSTERY KILLING NEARLY SOLVED

A secret police investigation of the mysterious death of William J. Trudel, 52 years old, one of the most famous of the pre-prohibition saloon managers, was revealed yesterday when Capt. John Norton of the Maxwell street station declared that the case was virtually "cleaned up."

Trudel, who lived at 6164 Winthrop avenue, was for 15 years before 1920 manager of Righeimer's saloon, just across Clark street from the county building—rendezvous of politicians and "men about town."

On Sept. 19, his body was found beneath the Baltimore and Ohio railroad viaduct. The skull was fractured, and indications were that he had been slain elsewhere.

Capt. Norton declared he knew this to be the case, and that he knew where the fight that resulted in Trudel's death had taken place. He added that he had in custory "three or four," one a loop tavern keeper, and was seeking two more.

Worker Electrocuted When Metal Rod Touches Wire

Joseph Newcomb, 50 years old, 3552 Clinton avenue, Berwyn, was electrocuted yesterday while at work at the west side sewage treatment works of the sanitary district. Newcomb was passing a metal rod into a manhole when the top of the rod touched a power line overhead.

any immediate acceptance of President Roosevelt's proposal that the strike end at once while a system of new federal boards inquire into the strike grievances.

Union chieftains, although they crowed over the President's dressing down for the NRA and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, refused nevertheless to abandon the strike until the executive council of the United Textile Workers meets here tomorrow.

This council will decide whether the President's plan, which calls for a return of all strikers to work without interference by the management while federal investigations of the strike issues go forward, is sufficiently acceptable to the union to warant ending the three weeks' old strike.

Advise Mills to Reopen.

Spokesmen for the textile manufacturers today advised mills to reopen pending a settlement of the issues in the nation-wide textile strike.

George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile institute, declared the cotton textile industry would 'give most sincere consideration to any program" the President proposes. Mr. Sloan added that he was recommending that all closed mills reopen as soon as possible.

Expressing appreciation for the work done by the President's textile inquiry board, headed by Gov. John G. Winant of New Hampshire, Peter Van Horn, chairman of the silk code authority, recommended to silk manufacturers that they take back all workers without discrimination, in compliance with the expressed hope of the President.

Arthur Besse, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, declared there could be no quarrel with the general spirit of the inquiry board's recommendations.

Utica Mills to Reopen.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—All Utica and New York Mills textile plants closed during the strike will be reopened Monday morning, it was announced here today by John Strain, director of the Industrial Association of Utica.

Approximately 6,000 men have been out on strike in this city and suburban towns.

Georgia Ready for Peace.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Predicting that President Roosevelt's appeal will definitly settle the strike, Gov. Eugene Talmadge announced today he will end martial law in Georgia and release all prisoners in custody of National Guardsmen as soon as he is notified of the end of the textile walkout.

At Columbus 11 of the 12 textile mills called all workers back for duty Monday morning under National Guard protection.

Make Plans to Resume.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Plans for reopening Monday morning were announced today by mill owners of the Pawtucket-Blackstone valley area of Rhode Island, representing about 35 mills which employ approximately 25,000 workers.

ICKES FIRES ATTORNEY FOR VIRGIN ISLANDS AFTER PWA INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Eli Baer of Baltimore, government attorney for the Virgin islands, was removed today by Secretary Ickes, who said Mr. Baer in a "one man inquisition" into PWA activities in the islands had taken possession of all PWA records and files there, held them for several weeks, and blocked the entire PWA program. A formal hearing was granted to him by Mr. Ickes, and his answers to charges were said to have been "unsatisfactory."

After Mr. Baer had made "about 100 allegations" of improper conduct in the island's PWA administration in what was declared to have been "his capacity as a one man jury," Mr. Ickes sent special investigators to the islands. They inquired into all complaints and charges and "after thorough inquiry and examination" found that, except for a confessed theft of cement valued at $60, the government had suffered no loss.

The investigators reported there was no evidence of fraud or corruption involving the administration of the public works department or any one connected with it.

Edmund P. Curry, 646 Garfield boulevard, acting secretary of the city building department since June, 1931, was given his certification yesterday by the civil service commission as the permanent appointee. Mr. Curry has been filling the vacancy caused by the death four years ago of Peter Hoey.

ROB LOAN OFFICE OF $5,500; RAID 2D IN 2 WEEKS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Theodore Gorka, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Frank Albrecht, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Herbert Reimer, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Paul Murphy and Dan Driscoll, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in the Bridewell by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Frank Campise, assault to rob, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary; Joseph Gold, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Walter Jessen and Anthony Stachurski, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in the penitentiary by Judge John C. Lewe.

Four robbers yesterday held up the offices of the Pulaski Loan and Building association, 3156 South Morgan street, at the point of a machine gun, and escaped with $5,500. It was the second robbery of the office within two weeks.

The raid yesterday followed a visit of a Brinks express money car to the association office. Among those in the office at the time were Felix Lukasweski, 3158 Emerald avenue, vice president of the concern, and Miss Pearl Glowski, 3016 Throop street, whose father, Anthony, is secretary-treasurer.

On Sept. 10 two men held up the office and took $127. They were reported to have missed $4,500 cash in the place at the time. Police arrested Thomas King, 53 years old, and his brother Lawrence, 47 years old, both of 2268 Archer avenue, soon after that holdup on a railroad embankment about a mile from the robbery scene as the pair were dividing the money. The brothers confessed, according to police, but witnesses failed to identify them. In the Felony court Tuesday, however, they were held to the grand jury in bonds of $20,000 each on robbery charges.

China Demands 50% Cut in Her Dues to the League

GENEVA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—China today demanded a 50 per cent cut in her dues to the league of nations, saying that foreign aggression and invasion had caused a drastic reduction in the republic's annual income. The reference was regarded as to Japan's occupation of Manchuria and the creation of the empire of Manchukuo.

BRITONS CHEER U.S. ENVOY; MAKE HIM A "CITIZEN"

BARNSTAPLE, England, Sept. 21.—(AP)—To the rousing cheers of the townspeople, United States Ambassador Robert W. Bingham today was enrolled as an honorary freeman of Barnstaple, England's oldest chartered borough.

A colorful ceremony at the guildhall, attesting the ambassador's English ancestry as well as the bonds linking this ancient Devonshire borough to its Massachusetts namesake, was marked by addresses which stressed its significance in furthering Anglo-American friendship.

Town Gayly Decorated.

Met at the outskirts of Barnstaple by the chief constable of Devonshire, Ambassador Bingham drove through streets bedecked in flags and banners to the ancient guildhall, where Mayor Charles Dart, wearing the scarlet robe and gold chain of his office, presented the scroll of freemanship.

The ceremony, Mayor Dart said, was "to honor one of America's leading citizens because of the close connection of his ancestors with our town and to try to cement even more firmly the friendship which exists between the great nation he represents and Great Britain."

An overflow audience jamming the guildhall greeted this statement with prolonged applause as Bingham, visibly moved, smiled in acknowledgement.

Seek to Bind Past and Present.

"We hope to make two friends with one gift," the mayor continued. "We seek not only to bind the past closely with the present and to forge a new link between Barnstaple, Devonshire, and Barnstable, Mass., but we seek to help forward that close union of English speaking peoples which will at once be the fulfilment of the aspirations of most of us and the best possible guarantee for the peace and prosperity of civilized humanity."

The ambassador in his address recalled that one of his maternal ancestors left Barnstaple in 1630 to help found Barnstable, Mass.

COUNTY G. O. P. MARSHALS ITS FIGHTING FORCE

Leaders Hopeful as They Open Heaadquarters.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Confidence that conservative sentiment is steadily concentrating in opposition to "the Santa Claus" conception of the federal government and that it will crystallize effectively before the November election marked a significant Republican rally yesterday afternoon.

The formal opening of the party's county headquarters in the Ashland block was celebrated with a reception for the nominees for congressional, state, legislative, and local offices. All of the old factions whose primary battles in past years left a lingering bitterness that aided the Democrats were present in the same spirit that brought about the nomination of an almost uncontested harmony ticket last April.

Among the leaders present were George F. Harding, Charles S. Deneen, David E. Shanahan, and Mrs. Bertha Baur, national committeewoman.

Optimism Is the Keynote.

These and others who spoke over the amplifying system in order to reach the crowd that jammed the several flower decked rooms said their personal observations led them to a feeling of optimism concerning the November prospects.

Former Senator Deneen said the manner in which sentiment has begun to swing reminded him of one of the earliest campaigns in which he participated, that of 1896 when the sound money campaign stirred the nation.

"That was the year of Bryan's 'cross of gold speech' and the agitation for free sliver," Mr. Deneen said. "Until even the latter part of October we were badly beaten. There was excitement everywhere. In each block three was a soap box orator haranguing a crowd. An immense parade swept through the city, one of the largest in its history. And the tide turned suddenly and completely before election day."

Congressman Fred A. Britten said that the present trend will lead to a sweeping victory six weeks from next Tuesday, one that will reach "from California to New York."

Assail "Easy Money Politics."

Several speakers asserted that the big handicap the party must overcome is the influence of "easy money distributed through political channels in the manner best calculated to aid the Democrats."

Jacob D. Allen, secretary of the candidates' committee, was one of those who said that before November the great majority of the people who are not direct beneficiaries of "Santa Claus" will realize they will be the ones who will have to foot the bill being piled up.

In connection with the meeting, the county central committee announced its plans for a thorough house to house canvass of every precinct in the county, a form of activity not employed by the G. O. P. effectively for several years. The announcement was that the canvass would have a twofold purpose, that of gaining the largest registration of eligible voters possible and that of erasing from the registers 150,000 fraudulent names.

Registration Day Oct. 9.

The committee pointed out that the quadrennial registration system is now in effect, that voters in the election board territory who are not now registered properly will have only one day —Oct. 9—on which to enroll themselves, and that those in the suburbs outside the board's jurisdiction will have Sept. 29 and Oct. 9 for the same purpose. The committee also warned that there will be no voting by affidavit in the country towns this year.

HUNT JURY FIXER AS BUCKET SHOP TRIAL IS STARTED

Judge Walter J. La Buy of the Criminal court launched an investigation yesterday into the alleged attempt of an unidentified "neighborhood politician" to influence a prospective juror in the trial of seven men on charges of operating bucket shops.

Carl Vancura, 29 years old, 2836 Polk street, called as a juror Monday and tentatively accepted, told the court yesterday that a "swarthy man" appeared at his home Monday night and offered to take care of him "handsomely" if he would swing the jury.

"My business is doing things for others," Vancura quoted the fixer as saying. "There is one boy among the defendants in the bucket shop trial I'd like to help."

Then the self-styled "politician" left and Vancura heard no more from him, he said. After his statement to the court Vancura was excused from jury duty by agreement of state and defense.

The defendants in the trial are Len Rolnick, Ben Reuben, P. J. Greene, Barney Lavin, Ernest Wahl Simon, G. William Herbst, and Albert L. Sherman.

Selection of the jury was completed yesterday afternoon, and Assistant State's Attorney Vernon Thompson made the opening statement for the prosecution.

NOTED PLOWMEN MEET TODAY IN BIG ROCK MATCH

Plowshares, guided by the most skillful farmers in the country, will be ripping through the ground at a great rate at Big Rock, near Aurora, today, at the fourth renewal of the famous plowing matches.

The Big Rock tournament, like the historic contest at Wheatland, and the one at Cherokee, Ia., is open to plowmen of the world, and there will be classes for both tractor and horse-drawn plows.

Arthur Shoger of Plainfield, winner of the Wheatland title this year, will be a contestant in the tractor class, while Homer Lapp, the present horse-drawn plow champion of Big Rock, will defend his title.

In addition to the big events there will be classes for farmers who have not yet won championship flight ratings, and for boys. The contests start at 10 a. m.

3 BANK BANDITS GET $50,600 IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Three armed thugs who entered the east side branch of the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust company on Avenue D by way of a skylight some time during the night lay in wait for arriving employés tdiay, held up nine of them as they entered and escaped with $50,600 in cash after compelling the bank manager to open the vault.

They fled in a car which was at the curb in front of the bank. Fifteen minutes after an alarm reached the police a machine believed to have been the one they used was found abandoned a dozen or so blocks away.

The gunmen were waiting when, at 5 a. m., John Kane, the porter, came to work. They surprised him and slugged him unconscious with blackjacks. Shortly after 8 o'clock other employés began to arrive.

As each came in he was held up and put in a small room back of the tellers' cages. The bank's special policeman, Alexander Piro, also was surprised. His pistol was taken from him and he was manacled with pair of handcuffs the robbers had brought with them.

One of the thugs stood guard over the captive employés while the other two waylaid each new arrival.

MOTOR AGENCY HEAD FREED ON MURDER CHARGE

Valentine Bien, owner of the Bien Motor Sales, 1708 South Ashland avenue, was acquitted on the first ballot last evening by a jury in Judge Grover C. Niemeyer's Criminal court on a charge of murdering Anthony Wilk, 36 years old, 3146 West 42d street. The prosecution tried to show that the killing was the result of a marital triangle, but Defense Attorneys James M. Burke and George Crane produced Mrs. Mary Wilk, the widow, to deny the charge that she was friendly with Bien.

Bien's defense was that he shot Wilk in self-defense because the latter attacked him while under the impression that Bien was keeping his wife away from him. Mrs. Wilk, the mother of two children, testified she left her husband because of cruelty.

The shooting occurred May 25 outside of Bien's motor sales agency.

DILLINGER'S GIRL SECRETLY VISITS MOTHER'S HOME

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Calling herself "Kay Sullivan," the last sweetheart of John Dillinger, Polly Hamilton Keele, was a secret visitor in the home of her mother here for ten days, it was revealed today, when it became known that she left Fargo last night.

POLLY KEELE.

Protected from publicity by her mother and brother, Ercyle B. Hamilton, Polly's presence in Fargo was unknown to any one but her relatives and was revealed only when her brother yesterday made arrangements with a traveler for a ride for "Kay Sullivan" to Minneapolis.

The family here declared that they were "pledged not to reveal her presence," but whether the pledge was to the girl herself or to federal agents they would not disclose. They said she was brought to Fargo for a visit with her mother, but by whom they would not say.

They said the girl had been warned not to talk.

SENTENCE REILLY AGAIN FOR HELP GIVEN DILLINGER

Superior, Wis., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone in federal court here at noon today sentenced Albert W. [Pat] Reilly, St. Paul, for conspiracy to harbor the late John Dillinger and Homer Van Meter at the Little Bohemia lodge, Mercer, Wis., to 18 months in the federal prison.

Reilly pleaded guilty. The sentence is to be served following a 21 months' sentence given Reilly in St. Paul on a similar charge earlier this week. He will be taken to El Reno, Okla., reformatory.

Reilly was brought to Duluth to the St. Louis county jail temporarily before starting the trip which was to begin later today.

DILLINGER GANG WOMAN DENIED PLEA IN COURT

Judge Matthew Hartigan of the Felony court yesterday refused to set aside forfeiture of a $2,500 bond of Mrs. Alice Burton, alias Elaine Dent, 33 years old, companion of John Hamilton of the Dillinger gang, for her failure to appear in court Wednesday.

Mrs. Burton was to have gone on trial as accessory in the murder of Police Sergt. William Shanley by Hamilton in a garage at 5320 Broadway last December. Hamilton escaped, but Mrs. Burton, who was with him, was seized.

Mrs. Burton told Judge Hartigan yesterday that she had understood the date of trial was Sept. 24 instead of Sept. 19. Denied a revocation of the bond forfeiture, she asked for a new bond, and the judge set a hearing for Monday. Meanwhile she was ordered held in the county jail.

WOMAN HANGS SELF.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Apparently dead since Wednesday night the body of Miss Carrie Blomstrom, 70, was found in a basement of her home here today. She had committed suicide by hanging.

HEADMASTER'S HOME IS STONED BY 300 STUDENTS

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A crowd of approximately 300 students of Brockton High school tonight stoned the residence of Headmaster John L. Miller, whom they accused of having broken promises to them.

The headmaster was not at home. Windows were broken by the barrage, and Mrs. Annie White, mother-in-law of Miller, had to be treated by a physician for nervous shock.

The students later joined a mass meeting at Legion parkway, where 3,000 had gathered to discuss their grievances against the educator.

The students claimed the headmaster had lengthened the school day a half hour, promising that a study period would be given and home work reduced. They charged the promises had not been fulfilled.

FINDS FARMERS' DOUBTS GROWING ABOUT NEW DEAL

Greene, Wisconsin G.O.P. Nominee, Is Optimistic.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Howard T. Greene, Waukesha county farmer who was nominated by the Republicans for governor of Wisconsin in Tuesday's primaries, declared yesterday that in Wisconsin a groundswell of distaste for some New Deal experimentation on agriculture is growing among the farmers.

The governorship nominee was at the World's Fair where he has an exhibit with 30 cows from his farm, the Brookhill dairy.

At Genesee Depot, Wis., near Waukesha, he farms 1,500 acres and has more than 400 cows in his dairy herd, and in campaigning as a real dirt farmer he is expounding first hand criticism of how agriculture is adversely affected by some of the brain trust theories.

He is 41 years old and is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, a tall fellow with a broad smile and black rimmed glasses.

Cites Straddling of Radicals.

"The results of the primaries," said Mr. Greene, "show that the Republicans have excellent chances of success in Wisconsin in November. It's going to be a good old-fashioned political campaign. In my tours of the state I have noted in the country districts what appears to be a decided distaste for some of the experimentation of the New Deal.

"The La Follette group is trying to straddle, and to be all things to all voters. They are both pro-New Deal and anti-New Deal.

"They work both sides of the street, so to speak. In Wisconsin they are against tax exempt bonds, yet in Washington the La Follette vote is cast for 4½ billions and more of tax exempt bonds.

"In my campaigning I'm dwelling on both state and national isues. It is based on the text 'Thou shalt not waste.' The destruction of food when men are hungry, the waste of money on so-called relief projects which pile up an overhead of wasteful burocracy, are looming up as specimens of prodigious waste under some policies of the New Deal.

How to Pay? the Question.

"I find farmers asking 'What are we going to pay these bills with when collection day comes around?' More and more the impression is gaining in the country districts that the brain trust is at sea without sail or paddles.

"Crop control under Secretary Wallace and the AAA is proving a dismal failure.

"In state affairs I hold the question is that of getting government down to the size of the pocketbook, simplifying government instead of elaborating it. I propose that state aids that urge the wasting of taxpayers' money be abolished and that a new plan be substituted whereby the state would leave in local communities a larger share of its receipts, provided the local community used economy in its own projects.

"Tremendous increases in cost of government are reducing the power to pay, and evidences are shown that the sources of taxation are being dried up. In Wisconsin our receipts from the income tax used to run fourteen millions of dollars and higher; now they are down to about four million. The drop has come within the last few years, and even with increased rates we are not getting more revenue. This should be an object lesson to New Deal theorists that in taxation there is such a thing as milking the cow dry.

Tentacles of Politics.

"In Wisconsin there has been building up an oligarchy of self-constituted tax dictators, who are only interested in building up, at public expense, their particular power of government.

"I oppose the burocratic control of relief expenditures by state and political officers. Money needed for relief should be expended by local officials. Relief expenditures in Wisconsin have been characterized by utter waste.

"Five months after the close of the CWA, officers at Madison were still on the pay roll. Each cut in quotas, regardless of the need, seemed to result in additional highly paid supervisors. Our landscape is dotted with schools on stilts, half painted public buildings, unfinished swimming tanks without water, and other public improvements which now must be finished at the local tax district's tax expense.

"Small wonder the Wisconsin farmers are asking, 'Who is going to pay all these bills for experimentation?'"

NEW DEAL FOE NOMINATED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Bacon G. O. P. Choice for Governor.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Lieut. Gov. Gaspar G. Bacon, an outspoken critic of the New Deal, rode to an easy victory in yesterday's state-wide primary to become the Republican gubernatorial nominee, the complete unofficial vote revealed today.

LIEUT. GOV. BACON.

In the election he will face a champion of the NRA, James M. Curley, three times mayor of Boston and an original Roosevelt man in Massachusetts. The ease with which Curley won the Democratic nomination for governor surprised many political experts.

Bacon's Margin Wide.

Complete returns gave Bacon 228,651 votes and his primary opponent, Frank A. Goodwin, former state registrar of motor vehicles, 132,699. Curley received 283,583 to defeat Gen. Charles H. Cole, political ally of Gov. Joseph B. Ely and United States Senator David I. Walsh, whose support was expected to make the race exceedingly close. Cole was given 138,111 votes.

Senator Walsh swept aside the opposition of two opponents to win the Democratic senatorial renomination. He received 268,123 votes, while his nearest opponent, former Lieut. Gov. Edward P. Barry, had 102,960.

Robert Morris Washburn, 66, former legislator and newspaper columnist, is the Republican senatorial nominee.

One Congressman Loses.

John W. Haigis of Greenfield, former state treasurer and newspaper publisher, was unopposed for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Joseph L. Hurley, young Fall River attorney, was the Democratic choice for that office.

All but one of the state's four Democratic congressmen and all of the ten Republican representatives in congress were renominated. The exception was Representative John J. Douglass of Boston, Democratic veteran of five terms in congress, who was beaten in a five cornered fight in the Eleventh district by John P. Higgins of Boston.

POLICEMAN'S HOME ROBBED.

Patrolman Harry O'Donnell of the Summerdale station discovered yesterday that his work is cut out for him right at home. He returned to his home at 4255 North Sawyer avenue early yesterday to find it had been robbed. The thieves took a rifle and a shotgun and a small quantity of jewelry.

SENATOR ROBINSON ASSAILS NEW DEAL FOR 'STATE OF CHAOS'

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Attacking the Roosevelt administration as responsible for the "deplorable state of chaos in national affairs today," Senator Arthur R. Robinson [Rep.] of Indiana and Mrs. Frank Donner of Greencastle, Ind., former president of the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs, addressed Republican gatherings here today.

SENATOR A. R. ROBINSON.

Appearing at a rally this evening, Senator Robinson assailed the brain trust as a radical group occupying strategic positions in government service.

"We have looked with suspicion on their activities for several months," he said, "but now we demand an accounting. These theorists are interested chiefly in keeping their jobs and perpetuating their own burocracies."

Mrs. Donner, speaking at an afternoon meeting for women, blamed President Roosevelt personally for what she termed "the utter disregard of the bill of rights."

Senator Robinson charged tonight that the brain trust has done nothing to solve the unemployment situation during the last year.

"We cannot have permanent prosperity," he said, "unless our people have work and that means work on a permanent basis, in order that they can maintain a decent American standard of living. One of the ways of helping to give these men work is to lend money to deserving industry, to provide loans without useless impeding red tape. I have proposed a method already whereby loans could be provided without delays incident to loan transactions."

STUDENTS PROFIT BY CONSTITUTION DAY OBSERVANCE

457 Chicago Schools Hold Patriotic Programs.

Chicago's school children commemorated yesterday the creation of the United States constitution and studied its importance in safeguarding the liberties of the American people. Special programs, signalizing a renewed interest in the nation's basic law, took place in the 457 schools of the city.

William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, who had set the day aside for the observance, said that reports from principals showed that the celebrations had been instructive and enthusiastic. He expressed the belief that an excellent effect had been produced in the children by calling attention to the constitution as the bulwark of the nation's life.

A notable phase in the general program was the distribution of 300,000 copies of The Tribune reproduction of the document, the work of George Sproule, which was discovered lying in the library of congress four years ago.

Children Receive Copies.

The reproducion was published in The Tribune in its issue of Sunday, Sept. 16. Children, starting from the fourth grade and progressing up through the high school years, were given the brochures.

The mission of the schools in keeping the constitution inviolate was discussed by Brig. Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Americanization section of the Illinois Bar association, speaking at noon before the Covenant club. He urged that teachers before assuming their positions should take an oath to uphold and defend the constitution.

Gen. Clinnin warned against subversive elements that would teach internationalism to the detriment of Americanization. After his talk a bust of President Roosevelt, done by Prof. Enrico Glicenstein, was unveiled.

High Schools Active.

The large high schools of the city held patriotic programs during the day. Where the students could not all be housed in auditoriums observances were conducted in the classrooms.

At the Austin High school, under the direction of Principal Wilbur H. Wright, 6,500 students participated in th celebration. The ideals and history of the Constitution were discussed by Mr. Wright and by William Blakie and Irene Crowley, officers of the student government organization. Hyde Park High school held assembly during the afternoon and various divisions of the institution participated in other programs.

The elementary schools sang patriotic airs, held pageants and showed motion pictures dealing with the formulation of the constitution and its protection against attacks.

Historic Scenes Depicted.

Frank Fucik, principal of the Pope school at 1852 South Albany avenue, reported that The Tribune reproduction of the Constitution formed an important part of the program. He said that during the next week the 940 pupils under his charge will write compositions on the document.

Pupils of the Stone school at 6237 North Leavitt street watched a constitutional pageant under the direction of Miss Frances Devenish.

The 1,376 pupils of the Shields school at 4250 South Rockwell street shared in patriotic exercises under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Fay, principal.

Jules Beaumont, orator of the eighth grade at the Palmer school, 5031 North Kenneth avenue, assured his school mates that the political destiny and safety of the nation depended upon upholding the constitution. The program was arranged by Frederick O. Mussehl, principal.

20 HR. FLYING COURSE ORDERED BY DERN FOR CADETS OF WEST POINT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Secretary of War Dern issued an order today directing that an aerial experience course of twenty hours be provided for West Point cadets of the first and third classes. The course will be given at Mitchel field, N. Y., beginning next summer.

"This is not the final development in the air training of cadets," Dern said. "I hope ultimately to see every graduate of West Point an accomplished air pilot."

The order is in line with the final report of the war department special committee on the air corps, which made the following recommendation: "Require that cadets, United States Military academy, have air experience of a minimum of twenty hours as part of the regular course at the academy."

SERIES OF BLASTS FIRE OIL PLANT IN NEW JERSEY

Kearney, N. J., Sept. 22 [Saturday].—(AP)—Flames, accompanied by a series of explosions, swept the plant of the Seacoast Oil company here early today.

The plant is located under the Pulaski skyway and trafic over the viaduct was stopped. Kearney police reported that the fire started about 1:15 a. m. and that all available apparatus has been sent to the scene.

"It's burning right to the ground," said a desk sergeant at the police station on a hill overlooking the fire in the meadow lands.

BOMB DAMAGES BIG WEST SIDE FLAT BUILDING

A black powder bomb was exploded last night at 506-08 South Lotus avenue, one of four entrances of a large apartment building at Lotus avenue and Congress street. Windows were shattered and plaster shaken down, but no one was hurt. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Sergt. Marshall Pidgeon of the bomb squad questioned Sam and Benjamin Chemers, two of four brothers who formerly owned the building, and both of whom now live there. Sam told him the building was now in the hands of receivers, and he was acting as renting agent. He denied there had been any labor trouble and could assign no reason for the bombing.

Earlier a bomb was hurled into the doorway of a vacant store at 919 West 35th street, which was formerly occupied by the grocery store of Julius Link. Occupants of flats on the upper floors of the building were aroused by the blast, but little damage was done.

Police were told that Link, the son of Mrs. Mary Anderson, who owns the building and lives on the second floor, had been active recently in the organizing of a meat wagon drivers' union. He closed his grocery store at that address a week ago, Mrs. Anderson said. Link is being sought.

Lodge Collects $238 Dues; Robber Comes to Meeting

The Maxwell police searched last night for a robber who held up the meeting of a Polish National Alliance lodge at 1715 South Ashland avenue and fled with $238. Joseph Kulma, 4642 South Richmond street, treasurer of the lodge, said that the money had just been collected in dues from the members.

ARGENTINA GETS NOTE FROM HULL ON ARMS QUIZ

Regrets 'Reflection' Seen in Testimony.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 21.—The foreign office made public today a note from Secretary Hull to Ambassador Espil, expressing regret that testimony in the Washington investigation had been misunderstood and interpreted as a reflection upon any Argentine official.

Saavedra Lamas, foreign minister, declared that Secretary Hull's note was "very satisfactory," and intimated that he will not push the Argentine protest since the senate has "corrected its attitude."

"Desires to Avoid Offense."

Mr. Hull's note, after referring to Señor Espil's objections to the senate committee's investigation, said:

"While the executive power of this government has no faculties to control this investigation of a legislative character into the arms trafic—an investigation which your excellency so kindly declares is followed with sympathy by the Argentine government and people—I understand that in the course of the hearings the special committee desires in every possible manner to avoid causing offense to other governments or their officials.

"I have enclosed a copy of a letter I have received from Senator Gerald Nye, chairman of the special committee, which has been given to the newspapers in order to clear up any erroneous impression which may have been produced as a result of allusions to officials of foreign governments in the course of the hearings.

Hull Expresses Regret.

"Simultaneously with publication of Senator Nye's letter I have made a declaration to the newspapers in this matter, a copy of which also is enclosed.

"In expressing again my most profound regret that because of misunderstanding there should have been deduced from the questions and observations made during the hearing anything detrimental to any Argentine government official, I take advantage of this opportunity to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my highest regard."

The foreign office also made public a copy of Secretary Hull's statement to the press in which he said he had spent an hour in conference with Mr Nye, and Mr. Nye's letter to the secretary expressing profound regret that false impression had been caused by declarations of arms agents.

Causes Wide Comment.

Foreign Minister Saavedra Lamas's long note of instructions to Señor Espil, citing legal precedents for demanding damages, has caused widespread comment among the Argentine public and newspapers because it is so radically contrary to his policy of silence on everything concerning activities of the foreign office.

Meanwhile, the Argentine senate is carrying out an arms investigation of its own in which serious charges of graft and inefficiency are made against a commission of army officers sent to Europe in 1926 to purchase armaments.

POLAND DROPS FIGHT TO EXTEND MINORITIES RULE

GENEVA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Poland today virtually abandoned its efforts to have existing agreements for the protection of minorities applied generally to all league of nations members.

After the chairman of the committee examining the question asked Poland to withdraw its resolution for an international conference to consider the matter and "allow time to solve the question," the Polish delegate announced he would not ask for a vote. He said he reserved the right, however, to revive the issue later.

Delegates to the assembly took the Polish action to mean that the Warsaw government had given up hopes of getting the big powers to assume obligations similar to those of Poland and henceforward would concentrate on efforts to obtain revision of minorities treaties.

Poland last week startled the league with its abrupt announcement that it would no longer accept international supervision of its handling of racial, religious, and linguistic minorities within its borders.

ATLANTIC LINERS FORCE FIRE DRILLS FOR ALL ON BOARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 21.—How the Morro Castle disaster has stirred the crews of big trans-Atlantic liners into spending the entire ocean voyage taking precautions against fire was related by Emery Axamethy, a member of the Morro Castle crew, on his arrival in Paris today.

Axamethy, a Hungarian-American steward, who was ashore on sick leave when the vessel made its ill-fated trip, crossed on the Olympic, and described the trip as one round of drills. The entire crew and all the passengers were compelled to take part in two lifeboat exercises, with everybody appearing at the assigned boats wearing life belts properly strapped.

So thorough has the drill become that petty officers scour the ship for stragglers, Axamethy said.

Robbers Fire at Salesman in Mile Chase; Get $2,000

After a pursuit of more than a mile during which they fired several shots, eight men in two automobiles caught up with a car driven by Morris Gershuny, a wholesale tobacco distributor, at Ashland avenue and Ohio street last night, and forced him to hand over $2,000. Gershuny, who lives at 2136 Lincoln Park west, told the Racine avenue police that he had been making collections and was on his way back to his office at 538 Milwaukee avenue. He was forced to stop when bullets punctured two tires on his car.

SHIPPERS BALK ARMS EMBARGO, SENATORS TOLD

Can't Enforce Order, Says Collector.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The government's "inability" to enforce the President's embargo on arms shipments to Bolivia and Paraguay was described to the senate munitions committee today by Stephen W. Hamilton, deputy collector of customs at New York.

"In other words," Senator Clark [Dem., Mo.] commented, "the embargo is just as effective as the munitions makers want it to be."

"I guess that's about right," Hamilton replied.

"There is no penalty whatever for labeling machine guns, for example, sewing machines?" Chairman Nye [Rep., N. D.] inquired.

"No, sir."

Must Take Shipper's Word.

"And you take the shipper's word for his cargo?"

"We have to," Hamilton replied. "We haven't the facilities to check up on his statement.

Nye told reporters today, after the committee adjourned until late November or early December, that additional legislation to make arms embargoes effective would be recommended soon after congress met.

Ernest H. Tupper, chief of the division of foreign trade statistics of the department of commerce, earlier said other changes in statutes were needed to make the government's export figures "accurate."

Tells of Export Gains.

Tupper read figures showing a sharp increase in exports of cotton linters, bar lead, sodium nitrate, and other materials which could be used for munitions manufacture to Japan, Germany, Colombia, Bolivia, and China in the years from 1929 through 1933.

He said his figures showed that up to August approximately 170 airplane engines had been shipped to Germany.

Summing up the work of his committee during the three weeks of hearings, Nye said it felt "it has thus far only scratched the surface."

"The facts uncovered here," he said, "have the tendency to paint a rather sordid picture of the industry and many who have had contact with it.

"Much testimony and evidence reflects upon government and its officials. Some of this reflection is clearly deserved. On the other hand there are many cases in which the munitions industry, through its officials and agents, have slurred and placed the stamp of corruption upon governments and public officials."

Letters Bare Warfare Units.

Information regarding maintenance of poison gas warfare units by various nations was revealed in correspondence from Turkey to the Lake Erie Chemical company of Cleveland. Col. B. C. Goss, president of the chemical concern, told of visiting Turkey to discuss the organization of a chemical unit there and also of submitting a plan for such warfare to Rumania.

A letter written last year by Bekir Nuzhet of Istanbul stated that Turkey had decided to build a camouflaged lethal gas plant, inasmuch as almost every other country participating in the league of nations already had gas mobilization in its army.

Other evidence revealed efforts made in 1933 to enlist American Legion officials in a lobby against an arms embargo bill which later was killed. Senator Clark branded such acts a disgrace to the Legion and said he understood that John Thomas Taylor, Washington Legion representative, denied participating in the matter.

MISSING GIRL

DOROTHY DISTELHURST.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 22 (Saturday).—(AP)—A. E. Distelhurst, father of six year old Dorothy Ann Distelhurst, missing since Wednesday, said early today he was convinced his daughter had been kidnaped. He said he had a definite man in mind as having engineered the abduction and that officers had agreed to hold off while he tried to contact the kidnapers.

The first indication that there was more than surmise to the belief that the child had been kidnaped came when Distelhurst issued the following note to newspapers:

"To Whoever Has My Daughter: Please contact me in any manner you choose. The way is open.

"A. E. DISTELHURST SR."

Issuance of the note followed a conference with a department of justice representative, Distelhurst said.

Mr. Distelhurst's father, now dead, was a retired resident of Montclair, N. J., and was a man of some means. Distelhurst, salesman for a publishing house, is a man of moderate circumstances.

Quints Moved to Hospital; Whooping Cough Is Feared

CALLANDER, Ont., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Fearing they might contract whooping cough, Dr. A. R. Dafoe moved the Dionne quintuplets from their parents' home into their new hospital today. The disease is prevalent in the district and the five older children of Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne have colds which it was feared might develop into whooping cough. The quintuplets are 116 days old.

HOLD TWO YOUTHS IN ROBBERY.

63 RAILROADERS OF THE OLD DAYS MEET IN REUNION

Veterans of C., B. & Q. Tell Experiences.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Sixty-two railroad men and one woman, whose combined years of service total 2,500, gathered from all parts of the country yesterday for a reunion in the Morrison hotel. All are employés or retired employés of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and members of its Veterans' association.

There was a pretense at a business meeting, since many had come so far, but when the nominating committee brought in its recommendations for new officers in the middle of an afternoon of yarn spinning a grizzled, ruddy faced engineer shouted:

"Say, let's finish what we're doing first. We want to get the dope on the rest of the boys."

There was a murmur of approval. The election waited.

One Woman; She's Applauded.

The one woman present was Miss Jennie S. Leach, 63 years old, now retired, who came from Cincinnati for the reunion. With the gallantry of an older era the railroad men called her to the platform and applauded her for her 27 years' service.

"The job had its moments," she said reminiscently. "There was the time when I was a telephone operator in 1911. Another girl and I were trapped in the blazing railroad station at Galesburg, Ill., and had to take our chances from a third floor window.

"We gave the alarm and then couldn't get out. The only ladder reached to the second floor, but the fireman got us down to the ladder by reaching. I wasn't afraid. I knew we'd make it."

Another Veteran Reminisces.

W. H. Ries, 65 years old, who has been 52 years in service and has several more to go, was 13 when he became an apprentice in the cabinet shop at Aurora where he is now foreman. His father had been a railroad man in the days when engines burned wood and were named instead of numbered.

"I've been through two strikes and three big fires," he related. "Those were memorable sights, the time the C., B. & Q. woodmill burned in 1886, the paint shop in 1888, and the coach shop in 1932."

C. A. Palmgren, 71 years old, of 1252 Granville avenue, for 53 years with the railroad, started out as a track laborer and went into train service as a brakeman two years later.

"I graduated then to passenger conductor," he continued. "For ten years I was on the crack American Royal to Kansas City. I retired last year, but I still hop a train whenever I can."

Oldest Vet Sees the Town.

D. S. Williams, 92 years old, the oldest one at the reunion, came from Owego, N. Y. After greeting his comrades he played hooky and set out for a whirl about town.

Others of the veterans and their terms of service: W. T. Springmeyer of Omaha, 50 years; W. F. Charlson of Aurora, retiring president of the Veterans' association, 50 years; William King of Chicago, 47 years; G. G. Willingham of Fort Worth, 47 years; V. A. Wright of Ottumwa, Ia., 52 years; William Hawe of Lincoln, Neb., 50 years, and S. A. Gaines of Hastings, Neb., 47 years.

The veterans will spend today at the World's Fair. At 5 p. m. they will meet in the Court of States to hear C., B. & Q. employés' bands from West Burlington, Ia., and Lincoln, Neb., and an address by Ralph Budd, president of the railroad.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm By Bob Becker

Silage Cutter Works

Sept. 21, 1934.

THE farm hummed with activity yesterday. And beneath the hustle was a note of suspense, because in the afternoon the boys made the first test to see if the huge 80 foot silo was going to conquer a machine or a machine subdue the silo. The machine in question was an ensilage cutter, a brand new one. It had to cut up cornstalks and ears and then blow them 80 feet straight up in the air in order to fill the new 80 foot silo. The machine won, easily!

When I dropped into the barnyard Guenther, Sleezer, Clarence Thurow, farm manager; Louis Thurow, his brother; Frank Ridgway, agricultural editor of THE TRIBUNE, and one or two visitors were discussing the silo and watching the workmen scrub the face of the new structure.

The workmen were on a platform about 60 feet in the air. This platform was suspended by ropes and pulleys so the men could work on the seams in the silo. They were using an abrasive to smooth off all the rough places in the seams. Every few minutes the rope "elevator" would send up a pail of water or a new brush. The painter had been pressing these workmen pretty closely, so that one-half of the front face of the new silo already was pure white. Therefore the big concrete cylinder made a striking picture in the sunlight—one-half clean and snow white and the other half still gray and undergoing a final face washing job.

But the big question was: Could that ensilage cutter, a machine that isn't any more than 15 feet long and standing less than 4 feet high, blow the silage 80 feet into the air? It looked dwarfed by the big silo.

Clarence said: "Let's run up the pipe and start 'er up," so everybody got busy to put in position the 6 inch metal pipe which runs up the side of the silo and carries the silage from the cutter over the wall of the structure. Charley Sleezer went up to the top of the silo. Guenther brought up a half load of cornstalks. Clarence and Louis started the tractor and drove it into position to run the new cutter. Then the machine was placed right next to the base of the silo and a connection made between it and the feeder trough. By this time everybody was excited. Guenther and Shadoan got on top of the wagon to feed the cutter. Louis agreed to keep the cornstalks going into the hungry mouth of the machine where whirring knives and fans do their work.

With the tractor roaring Clarence gave the signal. Then a new note was heard above the shouts of the men. It was the heavy hum of the fans and knives in the ensilage cutter tearing into the cornstalks. Everybody looked up to see if the silage was roaring out of the top of the pipe, 80 feet above. I shaded my eyes to watch Sleezer standing next to the outlet where it curved over the top wall of the silo. He reached out his hand, placed it in the middle of the opening and tossed out a handful of silage. The boys cheered. The machine was shooting the silage over the top with plenty of excess power.

ILLINOIS SQUARES ACCOUNTS WITH HOLDUP 'DOUBLE'

The state of Illinois yesterday squared accounts with Edwin Brethauer, 27 years old, convicted robber in whose stead another man, Brethauer's double, served four months in prison through mistaken identity.

Brethauer was sentenced to one year to life in prison on each of two robbery counts by Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court, the sentences to be served concurrently. James Long, who resembles Brethauer, was released recently after Brethauer's arrest and confession. George Wilch, mutual friend of both Brethauer and Long, is now serving a term for the same crime.

The two convictions of Brethauer were for the $83 robbery of a Walgreen drug store at Damen and Lawrence avenues and the robbery of Rickett's restaurant, 2727 North Clark street, of $1,300. Brethauer was asked by his attorney, John V. Hanney, if he wished to testify. He replied he had nothing to say, and guilty pleas on both counts were entered.

U. S. TO SEARCH ALL SHIPS FOR BARRED POLISH

Morro Castle Waiter Tells of Use on Leviathan.

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Dickerson N. Hoover, head of the steamboat inspection division of the department of commerce, announced today that immediate inspections will be made of all vessels flying the American flag to determine whether inflammable polishes are being used aboard them.

The announcement followed an assertion by a former member of the crew of the United States liner Leviathan that stewards on that ship used a metal polish which had a "smell of benzine."

The testimony came from William Derringh, a waiter on the Morro Castle, who was a witness at the department of commerce inquiry into the burning of that ship with a loss of 134 lives.

One of the questions the investigators have been seeking to answer is whether inflammable metal polish, barred by regulations from oceangoing craft, might not have played a part in the whirlwind spread of the fire on the Morro Castle.

Polish Not Used on Morro.

Derringh swore that to his knowledge no inflammable polish was used on the Morro Castle. But, he added, he had been accustomed to use one "smelling like benzine" when he was a bedroom steward on the Leviathan. He served on that ship for three years. Stewards on the Leviathan, he explained, bought their own polishes because those issued by the company never were given out until the day of sailing, too late to get the ship in order for passengers.

Derringh said that he hid his supply of the forbidden polish in a washroom during the routine inspections of the Leviathan.

Another witness was Roger Toole, a waiter on the Morro Castle, who said the officers were negligent in checking to see whether the stewards turned out for boat drills. He was questioned about the type of brass polish he used, and said that it was a red paste that took a "good deal of elbow grease." It was noninflammable, he said. He denied that he had ever mixed kerosene with this paste or had ever heard of other stewards doing so.

Alien Crew Blamed.

The congressional committee investigating alien propaganda in this country, which has undertaken an inquiry to determine the number of aliens in the Morro Castle crew, also resumed hearings today. George H. Brown, the first witness called by its vice chairman, Representative Samuel Dickstein, asserted that if the Ward liner had been fully manned by American seamen, the disaster would not have occurred.

The witness, business agent of the Eastern and Gulf Sailors' association, said that the Ward line paid wages 15 to 20 per cent under the union rate, and that its crews therefore were dissatisfied and inefficient.

BEG YOUR PARDON

An item published in the Sept. 20 editions of THE TRIBUNE said that Quin O'Brien, assistant corporation counsel, had replied to an $11,000 damage claim against the city brought by John Ickes, brother of the secretary of the interior, with a hearty laugh. This was a misstatement of fact and O'Brien said that he has never displayed levity in the matter.

ROBBED OF $334 PAY ROLL.

Four armed men wearing smoked glasses forced the automobile of James Pesak, 2137 Keystone avenue, president of the Mid-West Engraving works, 259 North California avenue, to the curb near his plant yesterday and took from him $334 he had just withdrawn from a bank for pay roll purposes.

A TRUE STORY By A MOTHER who says she was "quite skeptical" when her doctor told her what to do

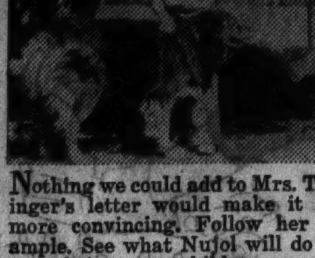
PEOPLE seem to have to go through a lot of suffering before they learn the simple secrets of good health. Here's a letter from Mrs. S. N. Tintinger, of Cascade, Montana, that tells its own story.

"After the birth of my daughter, who is now nine, I suffered terribly from constipation, and tried all sorts of remedies, but got little relief. Two years later, after my boy was born, my lower intestine seemed to become partially paralyzed; my digestive system became upset; my stomach refused to function properly; my head ached continuously; and finally my whole system became infected, and a nervous breakdown followed.

"I tried almost every brand of cathartic and laxative, with practically no results. Believe me, I was very skeptical when my physician prescribed Nujol. However, I took it faithfully, and although it was several weeks before I became regular and normal, my physician and I were both very much pleased with my recovery.

"Well, I have been an almost constant user of Nujol ever since, and that, as you see, is about seven years ago. Whenever I try anything else I find it doesn't work as well, and I always go back to Nujol. With all due fairness to many other well-known remedies, I can sincerely say that although they may be excellent, none of them has given me the relief, and helped to overcome my intestinal paralysis, like Nujol. Although other remedies may sell for less, I think it is much cheaper to use Nujol. Of course I give Nujol to the children, too.

"We keep Nujol in the house all the time. I owe my present good health to it. I can depend on it for good results, and I know Nujol is as safe for the children as it is for me."



Nothing we could add to Mrs. Tintinger's letter would make it any more convincing. Follow her example. See what Nujol will do for you—bring your children up on it to be regular as clockwork. You can get it at any drug store.

Nujol now comes in two forms, plain Nujol and Cream of Nujol, the latter flavored and often preferred by children.

What is your Nujol story? If you have been using Nujol for ten years or more, if you are bringing up your children on it, tell us. Address Stanco Incorporated, 2 Park Ave., New York City.

BRITAIN ON ROAD TO PROSPERITY; SAVINGS MOUNT

Spending on Luxuries Also Takes a Jump.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Great Britain is now well on the way back to prosperity. This is indicated by the fact that the savings of working people have increased by more than $105,000,000 since the beginning of the year. This takes into account only the money deposited in the Postoffice Savings bank, the Trustee Savings banks, and in national savings certificates. There is a further increase of investments in building societies, insurance policies, trades unions, and local share-out clubs. The amount now standing to the credit of working class investors in these three organizations amounts to more than $5,000,000,000.

Spending as well as saving is increasing. Holiday makers have spent more than $250,000,000 in Britain this summer. The number of foreign visitors by the end of September will have totaled 356,000. This is a post-war record, and Britain's hotels and holiday resorts have reaped a $100,000,000 harvest.

Railway Returns Up.

Returns from railway and steamship companies, from hotel and shopkeepers, emphasize the reports that Britain has started a period of prosperity. More than 80,000 passengers have so far gone cruising in British ships this summer. British railway passenger trafic is up by $3,000,000 a week compared with the early spring season. During the first two weeks in August $20,000,000 was spent on railway fares and more than $10,000,000 of that total was spent entirely by holiday makers.

During August Bank holiday week the four main line railways carried 24,000,000 passengers. Train services were increased by 40 per cent.

Road travel has boomed with travel by land and sea. In June, July, and August 60,000 new automobiles, worth $62,000,000 have taken to the road.

The hotel and catering trade has been so busy that difficulties have been found in securing extra stafs necessary to cope with the increasing business.

Gains Are Listed.

Here are reports from a few of the popular holiday resorts within 100 miles of London:

Colwyn Bay: Still enjoying the most successful season in fifteen years.

Southend: A record year. So far between 2,000,000 and 2,500,000 persons visited the resort, coming chiefly from London.

Margate: Best season in eight years. Corporation entertainment department will make a gross profit of $375,000, an increase of $60,000 over last year.

Brighton: A record season. There have been 71,470 more visitors than last year.

Hastings: Total accommodation of town booked for August and September. Visiting population never been fewer than 100,000 during season . . . spending $375,000 a day.

Bournemouth: Record season since the depression. June, July, and August visiting population spent on average $400,000 a day.

TRAFIC SIGNALS URGED AT SKOKIE DEATH CROSSING

Chief of Police A. C. Stolberg of Niles Center yesterday urged the state highway department to speed installation of vehicular actuated stop and go lights at Skokie and Golf roads, where six persons were killed in automobile crashes in 30 days. He said the village has agreed to maintain the lights.

The chief also suggested that the state highway department post a reasonable speed limit, probably 45 miles an hour, for Skokie road through Niles Center. The highway is broad, with few buildings along it, an invitation to high speed, but Chief Stolberg pointed out that there are several dangerous intersections and that accidents have been frequent. He said his department was arresting motorists going faster than 45 miles an hour.

"Jury Swindlers" Active Again, Voters Warned

County Jury Commissioner Charles S. Neumann warned Chicagoans yesterday that the "jury service fraud" is again being operated in the city. The procedure of the operators is to telephone a business man and tell him he has been selected for jury duty. If the victim protests that he cannot leave his business, he is told that he can be excused for a compensation. Charles Sincere, head of the brokerage firm bearing his name, told Mr. Neumann that he had been approached in this way but realized it was an attempted swindle.

CLAIMS HE WAS HIRED TO MURDER STAVISKY JUDGE

Frenchman Gives Up to Spanish Guards.

BARCELONA, Spain, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Police today were informed by authorities at Viella, Catalonian-French border town, that a man who confessed he was one of the killers of Judge Albert Prince in France early this year had surrendered to civil guards.

The man gave his name as Etienne Marius Combes, 36, of Nimes, France, the border town authorities asserted. He surrendered, they said, because he claimed he was broke, sick, and unable to collect the money promised for the murder of Prince.

The French judge, about to give testimony in the financial operations of the late Serge Stavisky, notorious swindler, was found dead on the railroad tracks near Dijon, France, under circumstances leading the police to believe he had been slain.

Paid $1,667 for Slaying.

Combes, the authorities said, asserted he and a friend, whom he refused to identify, had murdered the judge for 100,000 francs [$6,670]. He said 25,000 francs [$1,667] had been paid them in advance and passports for Spain provided.

He refused to tell the whereabouts of his alleged accomplice, but told the authorities that he had lived in the vicinity of Barcelona since the crime.

The man told officials he had planned to return to friends near Nimes, but had changed his plans upon information that the police have been searching the region. He surrendered to the civil guards when he felt he could not hold out any longer.

French Police Skeptical.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The reported arrest in Spain of a man said to have confessed the slaying of Judge Albert Prince coincided here with publication of the secret police report on Judge Prince's death.

The surete, or French secret police, expressed profound skepticism of the story told by Etienne Combes at Barcelona, but were checking it up as a matter of form.

They explained it is an old trick of French dead-beats abroad to accuse themselves of crimes so as to get sent home at public expense. They said Combes' story was full of contradictions.

The police report was published in spite of objections from the minister of justice, Henri Cheron, who now is the target of men who chased the Daladier government out of power last February. It cited testimony supporting a theory that the famous judge was greatly depressed and hinted at possible suicide, but drew no conclusion whether he was slain or took his own life.

DOCTOR, INJURED IN AMBULANCE CRASH, SAVES HIS PATIENT

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Police Surgeon Serge Martchanke, although himself suffering from a fractured vertebra suffered in a trafic accident, maintained sufficient physical fortitude today to minister to a worse injured sufferer, John Lovejoy, while a lurching ambulance sped both of them to Georgia Street Receiving hospital.

Dr. Martchanke's heroism probably saved the life of Lovejoy, a liquid carbonic works employé who had inhaled deadly sulphur dioxide fumes and had to be kept alive with an inhalator.

Their ambulance was struck by a street car on the way to the hospital and Dr. Martchanke was thrown the length of the ambulance. He was unable to stand upright after the injury, but managed to keep his patient alive until other surgeons took care of both of them at the hospital.

COUPLE FACING ELECTRIC CHAIR LOSE NEW TRIAL

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Gertrude Puhse, 42, Granite City, and Thomas J. Lehne, 43, former Venice policeman, sentenced to death, were denied new trials here late this afternoon by Judge D. H. Mudge in the Madison county Circuit court. They were convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Puhse's husband, Charles W., who was shot while asleep at his home in the early morning hours of Jan. 26.

Judge Mudge ordered that the execution take place on Friday, Oct. 12, at the Illinois penitentiary at Menard. Attorney General Otto Kerner had previously ruled that Mrs. Puhse must be taken to the Menard prison, although the state is without facilities for handling women at that place. The Dwight prison for women is without an electric chair.

At the trial it was shown that Mrs. Puhse and Lehne plotted her husband's death for several months before the plans were finally carried out.

156 Retired Firemen Ask Refund of City Pay Cuts

A petition was filed in the Circuit court yesterday for a writ of mandamus to force the city to refund pay cuts to 156 firemen, now retired. The reductions were effected under the late Mayor Cermak's recovery program. The petition, filed by Attorneys Thomas F. Reilly and Gregory Gelderman, alleges that the city council acted illegally in deducting 14 days' pay from city employés' checks, which was calculated to save $2,000,000. A similar case involving city policemen is now awaiting review by the Appellate court.

CHANGE COURT RULES TO CURB TRAFIC FIXING

Unpaid Fines to Prevent Wheel Tax Receipts.

BY HAL FOUST.

Chief Justice Sonsteby of the Municipal court established yesterday a new system of collecting fines from trafic code violators, an innovation intended to curb "ticket fixing" and to reduce administration costs.

CHIEF JUSTICE SONSTEBY.

Hereafter the Trafic court will enter a judgment automatically against minor offenders who fail to appear when their cases are called. The defendant will receive a notice by mail of this action.

These judgments will be filed with the city collector. The automobile owner will be unable to purchase a new wheel tax windshield sticker until the fine has been paid. With an efficient enforcement of the wheel tax collections, the court would be assured of collecting the fines.

Points Out Costly Procedure.

"This will break up a fixing racket," said Chief Justice Sonsteby. "Folks with tickets returnable at the cafeteria court have been asking for a trial, rather than paying the fee, not because they wanted a trial, but because they wanted to evade one.

"When these cases have been called in the Trafic court, the defendants haven't answered and the taxpayers have been put to the expense of issuing and of attempting to serve capiases. This cost was at least $12 in each such case. And there was doubt whether the defendant would ever be served.

"With such a prolonged and complicated system, there were several opportunities for fixers. Under the new system, a person asking for a trial must sign an appearance."

Plan Series of Reforms.

In signing an appearance, the autoist agrees to be in court on the date set for the trial under the stipulation that if he fails to appear, he thereby confesses judgment and empowers the judge to enter a default judgment against him.

The innovation is one of many reforms proposed as a measure against the increased toll of trafic accidents. Improved enforcement and administration of existing laws are recognized as of first importance in this campaign.

New and additional laws, however, are also being advocated by the safety experts. At a luncheon in the Palmer house yesterday, the Illinois conference on highway safety legislation furthered its plans to sponsor a drivers' license and a safety responsibility bill before the next session of the general assembly.

A poll of opinion on these measures will be made among all state legislators and candidates for the general assembly. They will receive a booklet showing the Illinois trafic problem by statistics in tables and graphs.

Mayor Kelly has proclaimed tomorrow as "Safety Sunday." Pastors have been asked to devote part of their sermon to discussion of automobile accident prevention.

BERLIN, VATICAN FAIL TO AGREE ON CONCORDAT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—Negotiations for a concordat between Chancellor Hitler's government and the Vatican have been adjourned without result. No decision could be reached before the departure of Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, papal secretary of state, for Brazil. No date has been set for a resumption of the conversations.

Twenty-five thousand Nazi German Christians assembled tonight in Berlin's two biggest halls for the opening of their second annual congress. Delegates were present from all parts of the reich, as well as from the Saar and the Free City of Danzig. Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller was greeted with shouts of "Heil!" as he entered the main hall, acacompanied by his supporting bishops.

Dr. Kinder, leader of the German Christians, whose speech was relayed to the second hall, declared that Dr. Mueller's inauguration Sunday will crown a development of 400 years "ever since the days of Martin Luther."

"We have one German Evangelical church," he asserted. "The way for it was cleared by Reichsfuehrer Hitler, who abolished the frontiers of the German states. We offer our hands to all Protestants."

Convert Illinois Dunes Park Into Animal Refuge

Dunes park of Illinois, two miles north of Waukegan, has been converted into a bird and wild animal refuge, it was announced yesterday by Frederick W. Smith of Winnetka, secretary-treasurer of the private association which was organized to preserve the 1,500 acre park in its wild state until such time as it can be made a state preserve. Four special deputy sherifs have been detailed to patrol the park to protect its wild life.

Cough Syrup Trade Keeps Rockford Mayor at Store

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—An epidemic of colds here and a demand for cough syrup made it necessary for Mayor C. Henry Bloom today to cancel all public engagements for tonight. The mayor, a druggist by trade, said that increasing demands for a cough syrup he produces have made it necessary for him to stay in his pharmacy to manufacture a new supply.

FARLEY SILENT ON PARTY AID IN MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Postmaster General James A. Farley came to the Twin Cities today and dedicated the new postoffices in Minneapolis and St. Paul and set off on a round of activity calculated to keep him busy far into the night. He had five speeches to make and dinner to attend in addition to a parade, a radio speech, and conferences with political leaders.

Although it was expected his visit would produce some important political developments in the muddled affairs of the state Democratic organization, he fought shy of public utterances regarding the administration's stand on the state campaign.

He expressed hope for election of Congressman Einar Hoidale to the senate because Hoidale "voted with the administration all the way," while Senator Henrik Shipstead, Hoidale's Farmer-Labor opponent, "protected himself" by voting only for those administration measures that suited him. He indicated, too, that the Democratic national organization feels Hoidale is "entitled" to election because of his support for Roosevelt prior to the 1932 convention. Farley indicated, too, that the national organization has some doubt of adding Minnesota to its columns this fall.

Lone Bandit Gets $5,000 Cash from Canadian Bank

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 21.—A lone unmasked bandit, flourishing a revolver, held up the manager and cashier of a Banque Canadienne Nationale branch shortly after noon today and escaped with $5,000 in cash.

INVESTIGATE FATAL INJURIES.

Central police yesterday began an investigation into the death of Lawrence Hale, 41 years old, 1864 Fremont street, who died at home of injuries incurred on Thursday night while he was at work in the loop.

"I WILL."

Chicago will not be true to itself if it allows the essential benefits it has derived from the great Exposition of 1933 and 1934 to be lost when A Century of Progress closes its gates Oct. 31. In the century celebrated so brilliantly by this achievement Chicago has grown from a cluster of cabins to be one of the world's great cities because the leaders of the community and the community itself have had the courage and the imagination to dream and to back their dreams with practical judgment and unceasing industry. The Exposition has been an inspiring demonstration that the community of today has not lost the high qualities which have overcome the difficulties of the past and that Chicago still finds leadership worthy of its most ambitious aspirations.

With this assurance we are confident Chicago will not permit the essential benefits of its great accomplishment to be lost. The Exposition has proved that the city and the vast region from which it draws its spirit and its energy have need of and will substantially support a permanent annual center of public instruction and entertainment. Modifications and even retrenchments will be studied and effected, but the general purposes, the courageous and far sighted planning of the centennial celebration deserve perpetuation and must be put upon a permanent foundation. The Exposition as planned and carried to a triumphant success will close formally next month, but it has opened up the possibilities of a permanent resource for the city and the country which must and will be developed. The foundation is laid, invaluable practical experience has been gained. No city in the world has such an opportunity.

TEACHING THE CONSTITUTION.

Recent proposals for instruction in constitutional law will bring little benefit if they are not supported by sound and practical methods of instruction. The little instruction given in our schools and colleges upon the fundamentals of the American system is to a great extent ineffective, because it presents a mere skeleton of fact. If our people and especially our youth are to understand the system under which they live they must learn its history. Every rule of the constitution which has to do with the rights of the individual and the restraints placed upon the authority of government has a history. It is not a mere form of words expressing a theory of right or government. It is the product of human experience sprung from the actual trials of men and women. Not one of these rules but was written in blood and tears.

The reason why so many Americans of this generation hear complacently the proposals of new doctrinaires for the surrender of American principles is that they know little or nothing of what they cost our forefathers to establish. The whole bill of rights and the provisions of the document drawn by the constitutional convention which have to do with the rights of the citizen tell the story of centuries of struggle for political liberty, a story which every American ought to know and indeed must if he is to put a proper value upon his rights and privileges and therefore be ready to defend them from infringement or abolition.

There is no greater failure in the conduct of our public affairs in recent years than that of our educational institutions to instruct our youth in the historic experience from which American institutions and principles are derived. The new autocracies which a wave of reaction has carried to power in Europe are making no such mistake, and Americans who value their birthright may well ask themselves whether their system of government is not as worthy of deliberate defense as the communist and Fascist dictatorships of Europe have elaborately provided for themselves in their schools and other agencies of public education and propaganda. In a free society like ours we cannot adopt the iron measures which are imposed by the soviet or by Fascist discipline, but we need not go to the other extreme, as we have done in recent years, permitting our youth to grow into manhood and citizen responsibility with only the most superficial knowledge of American institutions and principles of government. The results of this neglect are now coming home in shallow and callow contempt for things which were dearly bought and deserve to be intelligently defended.

But if this is beginning to be realized we must understand that it presents a duty and a task that cannot be accomplished by meetings and speechmaking and the passing of resolutions on patriotic holidays nor by perfunctory courses in our schools. The present celebrations are useful in attracting attention to the need of an effective instruction in the fundamentals of Americanism, but they do not meet the need. They must be followed by the establishment of a competent system of instruction, and this means not merely the imposition of courses of study but a quality of teaching that will awaken the mind to the significance of American political ideas and inspire respect for the experience they represent.

If the educational institutions of the United States had performed their duty, and it is primarily their duty more than that of any other agency to provide and efficiently and loyally maintain such a system, there would be no need for Constitution week, for every week would be a constitution week through the common understanding among our citizens of the fundamentals of their government. If our schools and colleges had met this responsibility there would be no need, as there now is need, for the formation of societies to instruct the American people in these fundamentals or to exhort them to the defense of their own liberties. American education has been like Martha, "careful and troubled about many things," but in recent generations it has not troubled itself greatly with this duty. Yet what is more needful for a self-governing people than that they should be instructed faithfully and competently in the institutions with which they must govern or a free people in the principles which guard their liberties?

THE WISCONSIN PRIMARY.

The primary election in Wisconsin is evidence that a great many persons are suffering from the delusion expressed by Henry Ford that anything that happens in the capital is of no great importance one way or the other. It is just another way of saying that nothing the voter does makes any difference—the explanation or excuse of a lazy man, a shiftless citizen.

In no other way is it possible to explain the failure of nearly 70 per cent of the potential voters to exercise their privilege of taking part in their own government. Mr. Ford's delusion is one shared more or less by all people that they are too great, too resourceful, too powerful to be destroyed or seriously injured by inefficiency of government.

It is, of course, the direct antithesis of the American philosophy of government.

In Wisconsin only about 500,000 bothered to vote in the primary despite the discontent of the period, the natural enthusiasm in the first public showing of a new party and the personal appeal of some thousands of candidates who were seeking nominations in droves for local offices. It was less than one-half the vote cast in the presidential election of two years before and less than one-third of those entitled to suffrage.

There have been numerous interpretations of the Wisconsin vote by those in all parties who claim skill in political analysis. Each group sees virtue and advantage to its party. The truth is the primary gave slight comfort to any.

The New Dealers call it an indorsement because the Democratic party polled the largest vote cast. They admit no disappointment that in Gov. Schmedeman and in John M. Callahan, nominee for the United States senate, the Democrats selected the two outstanding conservatives of the party.

Gov. Schmedeman was constantly attacked as a reactionary by his radical opponent and Mr. Callahan was an Al Smith delegate at the Chicago convention, opposed to every principle of government that has since been espoused by the Democrats. Next to Mr. Callahan, the highest vote received was by a lifelong Republican just turned Democrat before the campaign.

The La Follettes are making the most of the primary, but they are lamely disappointed at the showing of the new party.

The Republicans find little encouragement, although the absence of strong opposition for their chief candidates minimized the need of a large party vote and left them free to ramble in other primaries in the interest of whatever political mischief they could make.

The voters either were hopelessly confused or so numbed that they dully accepted the Ford doctrine and stayed away. There is no possibility of basing any intelligent forecast for the election in the result. The parts do not fit in any logical diagram.

The one thing plain is that no candidate aroused any emotional intensity in the voters. There is hope and expectation among the Republicans that John B. Chapple, their nominee for the senate, who came from obscurity two years ago to excite the state to its highest pitch, can do the trick again.

MILK MONTH ON BROADWAY.

Gov. Lehman of New York has issued a proclamation which informs the citizenry that October is to be Milk month. The people are urged to consume more milk in that month and thus rescue the dairy industry from its difficulties.

Even among the state papers of Mr. Lehman that proclamation stands out as fatuous. The way, and the only way, to help the dairy farmers and every one else in the milk business is to increase the volume of sales; and the only way to increase the volume is to adjust the price to the point where the production will be consumed. It is as simple as that. If there is an unsold surplus of milk in New York, the reason is that Gov. Lehman's milk commission has fixed a price higher than the consumers can pay. All the proclamations of all the governors cannot improve matters materially as long as the price is wrong.

LONG AND SHORT.

[St. Paul Dispatch.]

Gov. Olson does not use the same campaign speech everywhere. When he talks before city radicals he is strong for the coöperative commonwealth, which in plain English is simply a communistic republic for Minnesota. But down in Marshall Sunday, where such ideas do not get so welcome a reception, he forgot that he is now, in his own words, a radical and went back to being a liberal.

At Marshall he was long on promises for tax justice by adding new taxes on business. But he was strangely short on vast increases of state governmental expense of the past four years which has fallen on farmers and owners of homes and other property. If the state government had not added millions to the tax bill, and doubled its tax rate, there would be less occasion now for these promises of relief by inventing still more new taxes.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE ELECTION of the always amusing Mr. Bilbo of Mississippi to the senate is going to take away somewhat from the attention paid to the public performances of Mr. Long of Louisiana. Both boys are good, and if they only could be persuaded to form a team and put on a brother act in the senate they ought to draw well. Mr. Long is the louder, but Mr. Bilbo is much funnier, although lots of people think it's the other way around. Anyhow, the senate ought to play to a crowded gallery all next winter. It's too bad they can't put on a road show.

ONE OF THE GREATEST DISCOVERIES brought to light in the investigation of the disaster on the Morro Castle is that curtains, carpets, rugs, gilt framed pictures, plush hangings, and things like that flame right up and burn if they get on fire. Yes, indeed. And the more of those things you have on a ship the quicker it will burn if it gets a chance. Well, it's a good thing to find that out. Steel doesn't burn. They've brought that fact out, too, in the investigation, and it's a good thing to discover that important fact, too. If you touch a lighted match to tapestry the darned thing will blaze right up. But if you hold a lighted match to steel it won't burn worth a darn. Finding out these things may not do much good, but, anyhow, they're interesting to know.

RHAPSODY.

Sketching David's portrait,
 Copying his eyes,
Can't the artist see he should
 There draw sea and skies?

Not a face but desert sand,
 Nomad tents and silk,
Incense veiling Ashtar's throat—
 Clouded pearls and milk.

David's mouth's not garnet lines,
 But pomegranates and pain—
Some one pounding on a door,
 Sobbing in the rain.

Perhaps the artist's hand would fall
 Before so sharp a goal—
The very crayon break and bleed,
 Sketching David's soul.

LILA TERRY.

BOILING IN OIL would be good. Running the gantlet, being tied on top of a red ant heap, scalped and burned at the stake, and all those other little tricks the Indians used to use on their captives seem a little too mild. Breaking on the wheel wouldn't be so bad. But what's the use? Civilization is an awful handicap sometimes. Still, if they've got the man that kidnaped Lindy's baby, and it looks now as though they had, one can't help but think of a lot of things he'd like to have happen to him. I saw an iron chair in the old castle at Nuremberg that had a sliding pan arrangement under the seat which consisted of only three or four iron rods. After the person who was being punished had been chained down in the chair the pan was filled with red hot coals and slid back under the seat of the chair. I shuddered when I saw that infernal arrangement, but now I'm inclined to think that old Nuremberg chair was really a grand idea.

* * *

AND POOR OLD JAFSIE. We'll have to apologize to Jafsie right away. We used to think he was all kinds of a nitwit for tossing fifty thousand dollars over the graveyard wall and never getting the slightest return for it. But now the money that Jafsie tossed over the graveyard wall furnished the clew that will apparently lead to the punishment of the kidnapers. For money is no good unless it can be spent. And blood money is a dangerous thing to spend.

SONNET FOR FALL.

I shall remember that your paths were gold,
That every leaf was tinted with your stain;
I shall remember this when Winter's cold
Has etched its magic on the frosted pane;
And when Spring breathes upon the greening hill
And mellowing Summer bursts the budded core,
Whose cornucopia shall these treasures fill,
Wreathing with loveliness whose ripened store?

I shall remember as your golden share:
The apples' ruddy tinge on orchard bough,
The scent of wood smoke in the morning air—
A crisp October and an idle plow;
And weather vanes that to the north will swing,
Braving the Winter wind with metaled wing.

THE RAINBOW and the Endeavour are still racing away down there at Newport. And when one of the boats manages to get across the line inside of five hours and a half the crowds cheer and cheer. But maybe that's to wake up the judges so they can make their decision. But it probably also wakes up the crews of the rival yachts, and it seems a shame to wake them up so suddenly like that.

* * *

AND NOW THE NEWS comes from Hollywood that they're going to film Mr. Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." The theme song will probably be "My Midsummer Night's Dream Is of Thee, Dear One," and they'll put in a snowstorm, a shipwreck, a football game, and Washington crossing the Delaware. I hope they put Mickey Mouse in it. Shakespeare is a good deal of a pain in the neck, but I could stand even "Hamlet" if Mickey Mouse played the title rôle.

"U. S. TO ARM All Treasury Department Workers."—Headline. Wonder if that includes the income tax people? I don't care. If I have to pay any bigger income tax this year I'm going to tell 'em to go ahead and shoot or lend me the gun.

DIET AND TEETH.

SOME so-called foods are not foods. A food that nourishes the body at a given time may not do so at another time. Foods may supply all the heat units the body requires and yet be lacking in some important feature for growth or the maintenance of health. For normal development food must be adequate in amount, it must be prepared in such a way that important vitamins are not destroyed, and it must contain certain essential minerals.

Sometimes the child may refuse to eat proper foods. Lack of vitamin A in the child's diet during the period of tooth development may show in the faulty character of tissue about the teeth. Lack of vitamin C may be the cause of spongy, swollen, and bleeding gums.

During the last seven or eight years May Mellanby, a member of the dental disease committee of the Medical Research Council of Great Britain, has contributed much to our knowledge of diet in relation to the growth and decay of human teeth.

Her latest report appears to show that diet is by all odds the most important factor in the formation of perfect teeth, that mouth hygiene may be futile unless proper dietary management for both mother and child has been the rule, and that teeth are prone to decay if they are not perfect in structure. This latter factor depends well-nigh entirely on nutritional influences during the formation of the teeth in the embryo and in the early years of childhood.

Mrs. Mellanby emphasizes the necessity of a proper diet for pregnant women —one that is adequate in calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D (egg yolk, animal fat, milk, cod liver oil). This diet must be maintained by the mother after the birth of the child, provided breast milk is used. If artificial feeding is employed the prepared food must contain the tooth forming essentials.

Through a long series of experiments Mrs. Mellanby showed that animal teeth, under a diet deficient in vitamin D, were defective in structure, but if development had not proceeded too far normal tooth structure was restored by adding and continuing the use of foods containing vitamin D. It was shown clearly that egg yolk stimulated tooth calcification, while the white of egg had no effect.

Mrs. Mellanby believes that some grain foods contain an anti-calcifying substance that may interfere with the normal development of bone. This factor, she thinks, is responsible in part for poor tooth structure and hence tooth decay. Other investigators hold that the present day high consumption of sweets has much to do with faulty tooth development. McCollum stresses the ratio between calcium, phosporus, and vitamin D in the diet, and believes that if a proper balance of these three substances is maintained the individual will not be subject to tooth decay.

Undoubtedly the parathyroid glands must be considered in any study of diseases of the teeth, as their rôle in maintaining calcium in the body is established.

Because of widespread education the diet of most children contains adequate amounts of all needed vitamins and mineral salts. The foods that contain vitamin D, however, are not relished by some children, and even though milk is taken in adequate amounts the vitamin D content may be neutralized if certain other foods are used to excess. Further investigation is needed before we can accept Mrs. Mellanby's observations as to the bad effects of the use of certain cereals.

BLADDER TROUBLE.

S. H. W. writes: I am writing about an ailment which I believe is quite misunderstood by the medical profession—namely: the habit bladder. I wet the bed nightly until I was about 17, and once or twice a year after that until my cure about six years ago. The habit of urinating often came on me suddenly while in the army during the world war. While on guard duty one night it was necessary to empty the bladder fourteen times. The condition continued for several years, with but slight improvement, and I was told by physicians that my difficulty was nervousness. On one occasion, when I entered my physician's office I found him reading an article entitled "Habit Bladder." He told me that the advice offered might help some, but from the tone of his voice I could tell he put little faith in it. The writer of the article described various things which could cause a person to urinate to excess, such as bad teeth or tonsils or overindulgence in stimulants. He showed plainly that the cause of this trouble might be eliminated and the patient still have the habit of excessive urination, if the habit had lasted over a long period of time. He also stated that the victim of this habit would look for toilets unconsciously.

Since I had given up coffee and had my tonsils removed, I decided my symptoms might be the result of habit, as the article suggested. I tried out this idea, urinating regularly by the watch. I started out by urinating once an hour and, after several weeks, moved it up to once every two hours. In a short time I unconsciously stopped using the watch and in several months was 80 per cent well. I continued to improve until now my functioning is perfectly normal.

REPLY.

Habit bladder was described by Pelouze in 1925. He calls the habit bladder an adolescent bladder, and describes its possessor as generally a nervous, introspective young man who has for years harbored the dread of being caught somewhere with a full bladder and without an opportunity of emptying it. He notes that there is usually an irritation about the neck of the bladder, rendering the region excessively sensitive. When such bladders are examined it is found that they are unusually small. He believes the cure to be largely within the patient's own hands and shows that the bladder will stretch to many times its supposed capacity. He says the cure may take months or years and needs the full coöperation of the patient. It is generally a disease of late youth or early manhood.

Every case of frequency of urination, however, must not be considered a habit bladder. Diabetes, chronic interstitial nephritis, and certain diseases of the urinary tract may cause this symptom.

You are to be congratulated upon your persistence and victory.

ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATE.

Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a widow without children. My only relatives are my mother and a sister who live in France. On the other hand, I have a few thousand dollars that I put under a custodian agreement in a bank in Wisconsin. 1. Would it be wise to make a will? 2. If yes, would it have to be probated and where? Illinois or Wisconsin? 3. Is there any way of saving the money probating would cost? 4. Do I have to choose an executor in Illinois? 5. If I don't make a will, what will happen? 6. Will the succession be settled quicker without a will, and [7] will it be easier and cheaper? H. F.

1. Yes. Otherwise your estate would be administered by the public administrator.

2. The presence or absence of a will has nothing to do with the necessity for probate. That question would depend on the nature and location of the assets, on whether the executor is able to reduce the personal property to possession, and on other facts that are not before us.

3. A joint tenancy would be one way, but this would mean that the other parties would have a present interest which might not be satisfactory to you. We suggest that you talk the matter over with the officers of the bank.

4. Yes.

5. See 1.

6. It seems probable that you could select an executor who would handle the matter more promptly and satisfactory than the public administrator.

7. See 6.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

COPYRIGHT.

Glenview, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man has a business and on his merchandise [1] uses a slogan copyrighted according to law. His competitor has an ad appearing in a publication using his slogan. This is the situation where the controversy arose. Mr. A. claims that the original party can sue his competitor for using the slogan. 2. Mr. B. claimed that as the ad appeared only once the competitor was not liable. Please give us your opinion. J. F.

1. We could advise to better advantage if you had given us the wording of the slogan. In general, copyright is appropriate only for artistic creations, books, etc. If the slogan is in substance a trademark, then trademark registration would be the proper protection.

2. This would not necessarily be a defense if the other facts are such as to create liability. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CITIZENSHIP STATUS.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Friend of the People.]—My daughter was married in 1932 to a man who came to this country from Hungary when he was 7 years old and has not as yet taken out citizenship papers. 1. Is my daughter an American citizen? 2. Is he an American citizen? 3. What is their child? G. H.

1. The daughter's marriage to an alien in 1932 did not affect her citizenship status.

2. Under the facts stated he is not a citizen.

3. Their child, if born in the United States, is a citizen by birth.

District Director of Immigration and Naturalization, Chicago District.

From Across the Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Sept. 3.—While American pioneers were grinding their grain in stone rollers a century or more ago, Chinese immigrants in Hawaii were producing sugar in the same manner. Two rollers, believed to have been imported from South China more than 100 years ago, have been found under the ruins of one of the territory's first sugar mills, near here.

The rollers, weighing more than a ton each, were turned by horse power to crush the stalks and produce the juice from which sugar was boiled. Such mills were in use in recent times in Formosa and the Philippines, where communities produce their own sugar. Now steam driven machinery in more than thirty mills in Hawaii produces more than 1,000,000 tons of sugar annually.

The rollers have been set up in the original manner at Honolulu by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association through coöperation of the Hawaiian Historical society. The society's files revealed information on how the mill was assembled when it was first brought to the islands, and the operation was duplicated.

One of the stone rollers is driven by a wooden arm to which a horse or mule is hitched. Wooden cogs attached to this roller drive the other one. The stalks of cane are fed in by hand.

PLEASURE IN WORDS.

Orleans, Ind., Sept. 16.—TRIBUNE editorials are never dull, frequently instructive and seldom misleading. However, your editorial, "Pleasure in Words," comes close to the misleading class. The question as to whether the child uses words before it has ideas may be a moot one. There is little room for doubt that a host of mature individuals use plenty of words, with ideas infrequently obtaining. W. J. Bryan was reputed to have had the most extensive vocabulary of any one of his day and time. He had the capacity to tell the people a great many things that were not true, and his sequential conclusions were in an inverse ratio to the extent of his vocabulary.

Your editorial recalls the story of the old lady who went to hear the new minister and was sorely dissapointed because he did not use a single word that she could not understand. The writer would much prefer a person who has more ideas than he is able to express than one who is capable and inclined to give expression to more ideas than he really has. The capacity to express one's ideas concisely and fluently is very important. We submit that the ability to arrive at a sound sequential conclusion is more important. T. J. BURTON.

WHERE THE MONEY CAME FROM.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Today THE TRIBUNE described in a full column article the opening of Lane Technical High school, but no mention was made of the fact that its completion was made possible by a loan from the Public Works administration under the able direction of Harold L. Ickes.

DONALD D. MCFEELY.

DEBUNKING THE DEBUNKER.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—May I correct the article in today's TRIBUNE under the head of "The Debunker," in which the statement was made that the north magnetic pole is 1,500 miles west of the north pole? Every point on the earth's surface is directly south of the north pole, and it should be obvious from a glance at a globe that there is no possibility of any location being west of it. DEBUNKER.

THE LOUP RIVER, FOR EXAMPLE.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 7.—Is it too much to ask of THE TRIBUNE to exercise a little discriminating judgment before letting loose its mendacious tongue in maligning those connected with the New Deal?

If there is a man in public office who merits veneration it is Mr. Harold Ickes. Due to the fact that he always refused to be an accomplice, even by silence, of the selfish and the powerful, Mr. Ickes never held a political position until he was appointed secretary of the interior. Consequently the choice of Mr. Ickes as a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet has a significance which we can scarcely overestimate. It is an inspiration to the young men of this country who heretofore hesitated to enter public service as a career because they felt that in order to get in a position where they might accomplish something worth while they must first sacrifice their honesty and idealism by conforming to the wishes of the political bosses of a major party.

Mr. Ickes has always been just and free despite the wealth and power that might have been his if he would only go along with the powerful leaders of a large political organization. Furthermore, since being in office he has with undiminished courage displayed an inimitable sense of values. There is nothing sordid in any of his acts, and he is guided at all times by humanitarian ideals. I. LAHSOR.

HE REFUSED A JOB.

Bryan, O., Sept. 7.—I know a college athlete who got out of school and could find no employment for two years. We offered him a four days' job fixing our barn, but he declined for fear of losing his PWA standing. HARRY NEILY.

A VISIT FROM GENIAL JIM.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 19.—We had a great old "kangaroosevelt" meeting here last night to welcome Genial Jim Farley. The band played a most appropriate air when the guest of honor appeared—to wit: "Happy Days Are Here Again."

And why not? With snout, feet, yea, even tail, in the trough for the second—and best—banquet on emergency pork that the gang has had since 1896. May they feed well and to the full now, against leaner years to come.

GEE CEE ENN.

MAYBE.

Freeport, Ill., Sept. 17.—Is there any easily explainable reason why any program contra New Deal over the radio is so interfered with that we can hear only a fraction of it? S. R. POPOV.

JARECKI URGES LAW TO AID ALL WHO PAID TAXES

Bill Is Prepared to Extend Reductions.

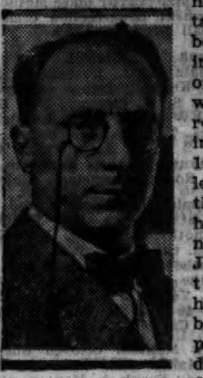
Legislative action was urged yesterday by County Judge Jarecki as necessary if all taxpayers are to be treated fairly in the application of the tax cuts which he granted recently in holding $24,129,939 in 1931 and 1932 tax levies illegal. As the statutes and his own decisions now stand, Judge Jarecki admitted taxpayers who have paid their bills in full are penalized for so doing by being denied a reduction granted those who have failed to pay.



JUDGE JARECKI.

The rate cases on which Judge Jarecki passed recently were the first of importance since Cook county's tax muddle started with the 1928 reassessment. Before that time railroads and other large taxpayers objected nearly every year to portions of their tax bills, asserting that one or more tax levies were made illegally. They were successful in many of these cases. Since the objections were not heard until after the levies had been extended and the majority of the bills paid, only those taxpayers who objected received any benefit from the tax rate reductions, even though the whole levy was illegal.

Objections Filed by Few.

That situation now obtains in regard to the 1931 tax rates which Judge Jarecki held illegal on Aug. 29. Although the levies which he held illegal at that time totaled $8,504,315, objections were filed on behalf of those billed for only 7 per cent of the total of taxes extended for the year, and the amount lost to taxing bodies will be only $595,000.

An attempt to have the rate cut extended to those whom Judge Jarecki allowed a 15 per cent cut in building assessments on homes and small flat buildings was made by Attorney Daniel S. Wentworth, counsel for the Chicago real estate board, at the suggestion of George F. Nixon, Republican nominee for president of the county board.

The objection in the 15 per cent case had contained an attack on tax rates as well as one on assessments, and Attorney Wentworth sought to have it reopened and the 1931 rate cut granted. The case had been closed, however, under circumstances which made impossible an appeal to the Supreme court of the 15 per cent ruling, and Judge Jarecki held that it could not be reopened.

$15,000,000 Levies Held Illegal.

A wider attack was made on the 1932 tax rates as a result of the court's ruling on 1931 rates. Judge Jarecki held that $15,625,624 in 1932 levies was illegal. A number of these levies were held invalid because of the growing practice among taxing bodies in recent years of levying twice for the retirement of the same bonds, or of levying for retirement of unsold bonds. Judge Jarecki also held that reserves of various taxing bodies for loss and cost of tax collections, which had been set at 11 per cent, should be reduced to 4½ per cent.

After allowing the 1932 rate reductions to the original objectors, Judge Jarecki allowed the real estate board to join in the objections to the same rates on behalf of all taxpayers in the taxing districts affected. The city, county, sanitary district, school board and west and south park boards all had one or more levies invalidated, so the reductions will be country-wide. They will amount to about 9 per cent in most of Chicago, but to only about 3 per cent in country towns, where suburban municipal and school levies were not attacked.

No Statute Permits Refunds.

As the situation now stands, only the original objectors, representing 7 per cent of the taxes bill, will get a reduction through the 1931 rate cuts. All taxpayers who have not paid their bills for 1932 will get reductions from the 1932 rate cuts, but because there is no statute permitting refunds of taxes once paid, taxpayers who have paid their 1932 bills in full find themselves discriminated against, as they did in the 15 per cent assessment case.

Judge Jarecki's rulings in both the 1931 and 1932 cases are still subject to appeal to the Illinois Supreme court. Hayden N. Bell, head of the civil law department of the state's attorney's office, believes that Judge Jarecki erred in reducing loss and cost reserves from 11 to 4½ per cent, and an appeal will be taken on those items. Mr. Bell holds that the bond levies which Judge Jarecki knocked out were illegal, and an appeal probably will not be taken on this point.

Another matter which is subject to appeal, but on which it is probable that no appeal will be taken, is Judge Jarecki's action in extending the cut on 1932 rates to all taxpayers who have not paid their bills in full. This is a departure in tax procedure, but Mr. Bell holds that there is legal precedent for it in rulings of the state Supreme court on collateral matters.

Sponsors Bill in Legislature.

Judge Jarecki said yesterday that he did not believe an appeal should be taken on that matter, since an adverse ruling of the Supreme court, he said, would force taxpayers to pay levies which have been held illegal. A review of his ruling in the 15 per cent case was prevented by the refusal of the state's attorney to take an appeal.

For the extension of the tax cut to taxpayers who have paid their bills in full Judge Jarecki is sponsoring a bill to be introduced in the next session of the legislature providing that such taxpayers may receive rebates on future tax bills for payments which they made on both 1931 and 1932 levies which were afterward held illegal.

Mr. Bell drew a similar bill to allow rebates to those who had paid tax bills before the 15 per cent assessment cut was made, but the legislature substituted for it another and much broader act permitting claims for rebates on tax bills 25 years old which Mr. Bell has advised County Treasurer Nash is unconstitutional. As a result no rebates have been made to home and small flat owners who paid their 1931 and 1932 bills in full.

RAILROADS OF ILLINOIS ASSESSED FOR 1934 AT $476,000,000 TOTAL

The tentative 1934 tax assessment of railroad property in Illinois aggregates $476,039,980, according to an announcement yesterday by the state tax commission. This figure represents 37 per cent—the property tax equalization factor in Illinois—of $1,286,594,541, which the commission found is the full taxable value of the property owned by 87 railroad systems and terminal stations.

The railroads had submitted schedules showing they wished taxes to be based on an equalized value of $291,368,570, according to the commission. The commission's tentative valuation is a reduction of 3.25 per cent from the 1933 valuation, which was $492,033,338.

The railroads have been given ten days from the date of publication of the tentative valuations to file protests to the commission's assessment. The commission, after hearing the protests, will fix final valuations which will then be certified to the local assessors in the 102 counties in Illinois.

MORE TAX CASH DISTRIBUTED TO COUNTY FUNDS

Tax collections totaling $823,165 were distributed yesterday by the county treasurer to the various taxing bodies. Of this amount $590,165 represented collections of forfeited and delinquent taxes for 1931 and prior years. The county received the largest share, $590,165. Other distributions were: City, $150,000; state, $20,000; forest preserve, $2,500; sanitary district, $25,000; south parks, $25,000; west parks, $3,500; Lincoln park, $7,000. The remainder of the distribution was allocated among the country townships.

De Voto Writes Novel Intricate, but Compelling

It's Stimulating, if Not Easy to Read.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"We Accept with Pleasure," by Bernard De Voto. [Little-Brown.] Published yesterday.

WITH a compellingly vivid and patent honesty Bernard De Voto tells the story of a group of intelligent human beings of that generation which we have come to call "the lost"—the generation which was burned out during the war and, according to its limitations, took its ghostlike course through the years that followed.

Only Mr. De Voto, unlike most of the chroniclers of that period, finds his ghosts human beings, with the inevitable passion of humankind to preserve itself, to adjust itself, despite maimings. He balks at none of the neuroses, but he also finds that life has zest and gusto despite the spiritual blood-lettings—despite ALL spiritual blood-lettings. His characters are not untouched by what life did to them in the previous years, but neither are they past remodeling.

◆

The characters are a large family group of Boston Brahmins—Harvard professors, legal incandescents, suffrage leaders, brilliant scientists, hard-riding men and women of the chaste chase, New England to the core in revolt as well as in convention, and the memory of a boy who felt passionately and died before he knew anything but the one great passion of war.

Against that front, and accepted by it—while at the same time resisting any permanent fusion—are a wise Spaniard who writes successful musical comedies and knows mankind's very spinal fluid and a young professor of history from Northwestern university who loses his job over a fluke, and his wife who never loses her head.

Those characters come clean and sharp on the pages of Mr. De Voto's long and impressive novel. They live and have their being. They are treated cerebrally, not emotionally. And in that distinction lies the power of "We Accept with Pleasure." It is the custom in most fiction of the day for the author to see his characters in the emotional round rather than in the cerebral. Diagnoses of emotions fill hundreds of thousands of pages a year. Diagnoses of thought processes—their causes, their results—are rarer. In "We Accept with Pleasure" Mr. De Voto deals with those subtler stimuli.

There is always much discussion about how literate conversation may decently be in a novel. Readers to the number of one or a hundred thousand cannot be counted upon to be as well read as, presumably, intellectual college professors or brilliant research scientists or intelligent editors. The nice question is always whether the author of a book with characters of that type dare allow them to talk their own language and not the language of his readers. It is not a burning one at most times, for most authors do not choose to create characters of ultra-sophistication [except in the matter of love, which is supposed to talk in a language comprehensible to the flora as well as the fauna of the world].

Mr. De Voto has made no compromise with his readers. He writes conversation that is the sort he believes people of that sort talk and if his readers find it difficult, let them consult Mr. Webster. The result is strangely impressive, cerebral, sophisticated, a novel by no means always simple to read, but stimulating in its very intricacies.

Technically, the pattern of "We Accept with Pleasure" is also complex, sophisticate . . . the straight narrative illumined by nets drawn through the stream of consciousness of the characters, and highlighted by occasional recalled pictures of war time urgencies. "We Accept with Pleasure" is intricate, but compelling.

About Manchuria.

"The Mongols of Manchuria," by Owen Lattimore [Day], is the last [and it will be the first authentic] word for most readers about that buffer state of Manchuria between Russia, China, and Japan. Mr. Lattimore is judged by a jury of his peers to be the best informed man on Mongolia in the world.

ISABEL WILDER

Isabel Wilder's second novel, "Heart Be Still," was recently published. As in "Mother and Four" its background is a New England university town. It records, movingly, the emotional life of Celia Dunn.

Collier Writes with Brilliance in New Novel

"Defy the Foul Fiend," by John Collier. [Knopf.]

JOHN COLLIER, whose "His Monkey Wife" was one of those lodes of pure brilliance which is rarely found in the good mines of English literature, and upon whom the eyes of those who would like to feel themselves his peers have been turned with eagerness, recently offered us "Defy the Foul Fiend," which proves—to this reviewer, at least—one of the most difficult of books to judge.

First of all, and probably more obviously than anything else about it, the style in which Mr. Collier writes is so dazzling, so blindingly brilliant, that it is hard to see the stars for the fireworks. The reader who likes pyrotechnics of style revels in sentence, paragraph, page, chapter, in the startling use of words which gives them a new significance, a new life. Mr. Collier's gift of style is a real one, without affectation.

◆

But about the use to which Mr. Collier puts that natural gift one cannot say as much. The affectation of striving for bizarre effect, of twisting situations into unreal contortions, Mr. Collier does with a sort of satanic glee.

Willoughby, the hero of his "Misadventures of a Heart," is the son of a Lord Ollebeare, a rake of the old school, and his cook, who was "so exceedingly honest . . . that when she ran away with a lawyer's clerk . . . she could not bring herself to take the principal gift of Lord Ollebeare's bestowing, but left it in his bed awaiting him, that he might sleep the warmer for it, if not perhaps as dry."

Willoughby was supported unwillingly by his uncle, who rarely saw him, but oftener than he cared about the sight. The boy was reared by his uncle's butler and his uncle's rather exotic library, and when at 20 he was hurtled into the world as secretary to a stuffed owl with a pretty and amorous wife Willoughby's equipment for life was by no means adequate.

◆

Mr. Collier takes his hero through every phase of London life, including one which is so deliciously funny that the reader wonders why it has not been exploited in just this ribald fashion before. Willoughby, in revolt against pharisaism, takes up the cult of Dostoievsky, and his adventures in self and human immolation are funny beyond words. Mr. Collier can do supreme irony when he will. But somehow always Willoughby remains a lay figure upon which Mr. Collier can drape superb sentences and bizarre ideas. He never emerges as a human being who has an existence (as the heroes and heroines of all great novels have) within himself.

The really fine characters of literature (fine in the sense of being works of art on the part of the author, whether hero or villain) achieve a reality greater than one's next door neighbor. They live. The neighbor dies and is forgotten. Willoughby never lived.

And it's too bad, because Mr. Collier's gift of making words sing and dance, and gambol, and glow with sunshine, and drip with dew, is a major one. F. B.

F. Swinnerton Pays a Tribute to Prof. Huxley

Hails His Appointment as London Zoo Head.

BY FRANK SWINNERTON.

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—Considerable scientific attainments do not always go hand in hand with popular reputation, but the news of Prof. Julian Huxley's appointment to the curatorship of the London zoo reminds me that of all serious biologists he is probably the one who is best known to general readers.

He succeeds Sir Peter Chalmers Mitchell, who has long been known as an able administrator and who has done a great deal to make the zoo better known to the public. Prof. Huxley, of course, is not only a biologist; he has written much upon all branches of scientific knowledge, and has engaged in controversy upon all sorts of subjects—including the insoluble one which leads to bitter argument whenever it is mentioned, the way the cuckoo gets its eggs into the nest of its victim.

◆

The appointment is a good one, and it will be welcomed, for the head of the zoo must be a man of wide knowledge and unceasing curiosity concerning the world's fauna, and Prof. Huxley is one of the clearest-headed of our scientific writers as well as a delightful personality.

It is amusing to notice that news of his appointment coincides [by accident] with the publication of his book "If I Were Dictator"; for in a sense he will be a dictator—of the zoo, and if his ideas are revolutionary he may yet cause intense excitement in the zoölogical world.

A first novel called "Crooked Cross" [Hodder & Stoughton] appears to be arousing interest at the moment. It is the work of Miss Sally Carson, and it deals with German life.

Miss Carson, who is a publishers' reader and a teacher of dancing, has known Germany for some years. She was in the country when the Nazi revolution occurred, and has more recently revisited the same city in which she had previously stayed. The book arose out of her sense of the extraordinary contrasts and changes to be observed between her first and third visits.

And as Miss Carson is a publishers' reader, I am reminded that Mr. Howard Spring's first novel is coming very soon. Mr. Spring is the Evening Standard's book critic, once of the Manchester Guardian, and this is his first novel. It is called "Shabby Tiger" [Collins], and is said to be exceptional work.

◆

Miss Norah Hoult, the author of "Poor Women," whose last book was called "Youth Can't Be Served," is writing a story in an Irish setting and is now living in Dublin. She is, of course, an Irish woman whose visits to London are rare, but she has never hitherto written at full length about her own people, and probably will have to come to London to do it.

Nicolson Chooses Curzon to Close Diplomacy Series

"Curzon, the Last Phase 1919-'25," by Harold Nicolson [Houghton Mifflin], concludes the great trilogy on modern diplomacy which he began with "Portrait of a Diplomatist" and continued with "Peacemaking." Mr. Nicolson has not only keen understanding but that peculiarly trenchant English wit which without actually caricaturing either person or idea does manage a skilful turning of the saber in the wound. He chooses the British minister of foreign affairs in the post-war mêlée as the personification of his idea of the period's confusion of purpose.

Lawyer Sees Constitution Facing Crisis Under NRA

"Government Rules Industry" [Oxford University Press] is the title of a book by Michael F. Gallagher, a Chicago lawyer, which answers all of the questions you've been asking and propounds new ones about the constitutional issues involved in the NRA. Mr. Gallagher declares of the constitution: "Its restraints and limitations on legislative and executive action are under strain and test from which they will emerge either inert and innocuous or with renewed vitality and vigor."

Mystery of the Week

BY MORTIMER QUICK.

On page 278 of "The Riddle of the Traveling Skull" [Dutton] Harry Stephen Keeler allows that "truth is a hundred times stranger than fiction." But not, I submit, than Mr. Keeler's fiction, which is a very Niagara of weird details and items of assorted interests.

How any one man can possess a writing acquaintance with such innumerable subjects is only less startling than the plots he evolves, and when on another page he suggests it's a pretty crazy reader who spends $2 for any work of fiction you begin to wonder, as you may have done many times hitherto, who's looney now.

Anyway, of all mysterious mystery stories ever evolved this takes the palm and the most mysterious thing about it is the way one mystery blossoms from the next. Every page ties a new knot and presents a new difficulty and coincidences flourish like the green bay tree.

But once launched I defy you to put it down until the last strange word is reached. At that point you may be pretty mad, but you will howl for more because, for all you have been told, there is much more that you would like to know.

But perhaps Mr. Keeler himself is worn out by that time, as well he might be. For if he makes it all up he's a wonder and if it is all based on diversified information which he has picked up in an average lifetime, he is almost as remarkable.

So, whether Mr. Keeler is spoofing you or all mystery stories writers or just himself, you'll get some sort of a kick out of this latest opus, and far be it from me to say that it will not be the very sort of a kick you most enjoy.

Another story which I think might interest you is "The Woman He Chose" [Dutton], by J. H. Wallis. It is so clumsily written that you wonder how so intelligent a theme could be so intelligently handled by so inept a writer. But for the story and its implications it is well worth reading.

ARE you aware that the Book-of-the-Month Club pays the duty on all books shipped to its Canadian members? We suggest that you send the coupon below and get full information as to the many things the Club is now able to do for book-readers. For instance, do you know that as a member, you are not obliged to take the specific book-of-the-month chosen by the judges? You may buy it or not, as you please, after reading the judges' pre-publication report about it. Nor do you have to pay any fixed sum. You pay the regular retail price for such books as you decide to buy. What then is the advantage of joining?

There are many: first, book-dividends; for every dollar its members spend on books they receive back on the average over 50% in the form of free books. Second, without a penny of expense, through the reports of the judges you are kept completely informed about all the important new books, so that you can choose among them with discrimination, instead of having to rely upon advertising and hearsay. There are several other advantages, not readily measurable in money, that cannot be outlined here for lack of space. Surely, within the next year, the distinguished judges of the Club will choose as the book-of-the-month or recommend as alternates, at least a few books that you will be very anxious to read and which you will buy anyway. Why not—by joining the Club—make sure you get these instead of missing them, which so often happens; get the really substantial advantages the Club affords (such as the book-dividends mentioned, if nothing else), and at the same time get a copy of NINE PLAYS by Eugene O'Neill, free.

CHIEF INSPECTOR VALENTINE MADE N. Y. POLICE HEAD

Succeeds Commissioner John F. O'Ryan.

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Chief Inspector Lewis J. Valentine was named today by Mayor La Guardia as the next police commissioner of New York, succeeding Gen. John F. O'Ryan, whose resignation, dated Sept. 13, will become effective in a few days.

Gen. O'Ryan announced his resignation early today, saying that he will "get out promptly" after he closes a few matters requiring his attention just now. The Lindbergh case is believed to be one of them. He also has a month's vacation coming to him and Valentine may be acting commissioner during the interim until his definite accession to the post is possible.

Resignation No Surprise.

The general's resignation was no surprise in view of the constant conflict between him and the mayor in recent months over matters of police policy. Announcing that he had accepted the resignation both of O'Ryan and his first and second deputy commissioners, Harold Fowler and Harold L. Allen, the mayor said he "didn't think the general's resignation would be a shock to the police department."

He added that he "hopes to keep Gen. O'Ryan in the administration," but he gave no indication of what post may be found for him.

Refuses to Talk.

The commissioner designee would not talk about his plans, but it is believed around headquarters that he will insist on First Deputy Commissioner Fowler retaining his post. Fowler is a close friend of the mayor and is known as an efficient executive. Deputy Commissioner Allen was an appointee of Gen. O'Ryan and is rather under fire just now because of a raid he made on the bar of the Hotel Weylin last Saturday night. The mayor ordered an investigation and said the raid had "a strange smell."

Both Fowler and Allen are said to have resigned as a matter of routine when their chief, Gen. O'Ryan, quit the department.

DILLINGHAM DIED ALMOST BROKE, WILL DISCLOSES

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Charles B. Dillingham, theatrical producer and once one of the wealthiest of Broadway figures, left an estate barely large enough to pay his funeral expenses and other debts, according to petition for probate of his will filed today in Surrogate's court.

In his will Mr. Dillingham, who was discharged from bankruptcy shortly before his death last Aug. 30, left bequests of $50,000 to his former wife, Eileen Allen of Paris, and $1,000 each to his barber, Anthony Zuccho, and his chauffeur, Alf Newman, and numerous other legacies to relatives and employés.

But, according to the petition for probate, the estate has no money to pay these bequests.

Mrs. Mary O. Mahlstedt Dies in Geneseo at 87

Geneseo, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Olive Mahlstedt, 87, a native of Germany and mother of Henry County Supervisor John Mahlstedt, died today. Four children, six grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren survive.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Preparedness

SH-H-H- NOT A SOUND, ANNIE- HE KNOWS YOU'RE IN HERE, BUT I DON'T THINK HE'D DARE COME IN HERE AFTER YOU-
BUT IF HE SHOULD TRY TO KILL ME, WHAT COULD I DO? I'M CORNERED
DON'T WORRY, ANNIE- YOU'RE NOT ALONE ANY MORE- THERE ARE FOUR OF US- YOU, SANDY, ME AND THIS EQUALIZER-
ALL RIGHT- IF LIBBY'S GOING TO THROW IN WITH THAT BRAT SHE'LL GET WHAT THE BRAT GETS- IN THIS RACKET SENTIMENT IS SUICIDE-
BUT THERE'LL BE TIME TO TAKE CARE OF THEM AFTER THIS JOB- HERE COME THE BOYS NOW- WE'LL START FOR THE BANK IN TEN MINUTES-

Mrs. Joseph Schneible, Widow of Chemist, Dies

Mrs. Louise Schneible, widow of Joseph Schneible, chemical engineer, who lived in Winnetka, died on Thursday in her Los Angeles home. She is to be buried tomorrow. Three daughters—Mrs. Konrad Schreier of Highland Park and Mrs. Gordon Hair and Mrs. Irene Clark of Los Angeles—and a son, Claude Schneible of Evanston, survive.

POLICEMEN PARK NEW SQUAD CAR; IT'S JUNK NOW

Patrolmen Walter Glaser and Douglas Trotter of the Riverside police parked their new squad car in front of Fred Luchessi's barbecue stand at Ogden and Harlem avenues in the suburb last night and went in to buy a package of cigarets. They were chatting with Luchessi when suddenly the wall of the barbecue stand crashed inward and half of the new squad car was flung inside.

No one was injured at the barbecue stand and the policemen raced outside to find out what had severed their automobile. They discovered that a truck driven by Dan Barr of Indianapolis had crashed into an automobile driven by Nathan Slutsky, 949 Lawrence avenue, Chicago, at the intersection. The truck then ricocheted against the squad car, smashing it in two.

Barr and Slutsky were held on charges of reckless driving. But the police of Riverside are wondering where they are going to get another automobile. The squad car, which was purchased two months ago, was the department's only vehicle.

NAVY OFFICER DIVORCED; WILL WED A DIVORCEE

Reno, Nev., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Joseph L. Nielson, who is listed in the San Francisco social register as a lieutenant commander in the United States navy, obtained a license to marry Mrs. Katharine S. Farnam, former New London, Conn., society woman, here today shortly after he had been divorced on grounds of cruelty by Mrs. Helen Nicol Nielson.

Mrs. Nielson obtained the divorce at a private trial before District Judge Benjamin F. Curler. It was understood the court approved a property agreement under which Nielson is to pay her $450 a month.

Nielson gave his present address as Pocatello, Idaho. Mrs. Farnam said she was from Reno. She divorced Tracy Farnam, New London, on grounds of cruelty here a few days ago.

Her marriage to Nielson, friends said, would be performed at a Reno hotel by the Rev. Brewster Adams of the First Baptist church.

CAPT. MINWEGEN, 27 YEARS IN FIRE COMPANY, DIES

Funeral services for Peter Minwegen, 68 years old, a retired fire department captain, will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday in the family home at 1760 Granville avenue, followed by rites in St. Gertrude's church at Glenwood and Granville avenues. Capt. Minwegen died Thursday night. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery at Techny.

Capt. Minwegen retired from the fire department twenty years ago, after serving twenty-seven years with truck company No. 25. He was a veteran of the World's Columbian exposition fire of 1893 and received honorable mention several times. He was a brother of the late John Minwegen, former Chicago alderman and Cook county commissioner.

Capt. Minwegen is survived by four sons—Roger and Arthur of Chicago, Thomas of New City, N. Y., and Andrew of New Brunswick, N. J., and two daughters, Mrs. Nora York and Mrs. Susan McNeil of Chicago.

MRS. HARRY BIRD, WIDOW OF CITY PAYMASTER, DIES

Mrs. Grace Wilson Bird, widow of Harry L. Bird, once city editor of the Chicago Daily News, and the first paymaster of Chicago under the civil service, died yesterday at the Presbyterian hospital after a long illness. She was 59 years old and had resided in Lakeside, Mich., in recent years. Mrs. Bird was a charter member of the Gen. Henry Dearborn chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and was a life member of the Art institute. She is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth, and three sons—Harlan, Harry, and Thomas Bird. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the Edgewater Presbyterian church. Burial will be in the Memorial Park cemetery.

Dies at Fair Same Day His Son Is Hurt There

William Kelley, 35 years old, 1240 South 21st avenue, Maywood, an electrician at the World's Fair, died of a heart attack at 1 p. m. yesterday as he was crossing the 18th street ramp on his way to work. As his body lay in Dr. Frank Baylor's hospital on the Fair grounds, William Kelley Jr., 13 years old, a son, was brought in with his right arm fractured. He suffered the injury at 1:30 p. m. when he tried to enter the grounds by climbing the high wire fence at the 14th street gate.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Leon Belasco, the orchestra leader, who is to support Phil Baker when he returns to the air, has taken up the cudgel for the bachelor, whom he defines as the forgotten man of radio. There are programs for the kiddies, mother, father, bird lovers, dog fanciers, debutantes, the housewife, but not one for the bachelor, Belasco sets forth.

"Speaking first as a bachelor and secondly as a radio performer," he declared, "I sincerely believe there are enough bachelors in America to warrant sponsorship of a program specifically for them. Let the bachelors assert themselves. Are they men or are they mice?"

Gentlemen, what is your desire? You have only to speak, and surely some broadcaster will rig up a suitable show for the boys in the back room.

Red Grange will open a new CBS series at 7 p. m. next Thursday. The galloping ghost will also be heard on Friday and Saturday evenings. The first two broadcasts of each week will be devoted to football forecasts and the Saturday program to a review of the day's football proceedings.

Joe Penner will arrive in Chicago this morning for a two day visit. Joe plans to tour the Fair and his famed duck expects to try out the Lincoln Park lagoon. On Monday they go east to begin rehersals with Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard for their new radio show beginning Oct. 7.

There's a surprise in store for Myrt and Marge fans. Vinton Haworth, who as Jack Arnold was the big romance in Marge's life year before last, has been reëngaged for this season's episodes. The sketch will return to the air at 10 p. m. Monday, Oct. 1.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be heard over the networks during the fourth annual Women's Conference on Current Problems, from New York, next Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Roosevelt will give the keynote address at 9:30 Wednesday morning and the President will speak at 9 p. m. Thursday. Among other notables who will be heard over the air are Lawrence Tibbett, baritone; Dorothy Thompson, wife of Sinclair Lewis, who was recently expelled from Germany because of an article concerning Hitler; Hugh Walpole and Pearl Buck, novelists, and Attorney General Cummings.

John Charles Thomas, who was the featured soloist at the Chicagoland Music Festival, will return to the air in mid-November. He is scheduled to continue throughout the winter season, except for a brief concert tour.

EAST ST. LOUIS NEGRO CHILDREN WELL NOURISHED

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Negro children of East St. Louis, more than one-half of whom come from families on relief, were found to be among the best nourished in the state.

This conclusion, drawn by the state health department, was reached after a survey in which 715 children had been examined.

The object of the survey, Dr. Frank Jirka, state health director, said, was to determine the prevailing health conditions among Negro children and to lay the foundation for a program looking toward the improvement of this race.

Among the findings resulting from the survey were: Flat feet were almost universal among the children examined; nearly three-fourths of those examined had no decay whatever in their teeth; an unusually large number had nearly perfect bodies; vaccination against smallpox was very rare; less than one-third had been immunized against diphtheria; only 17 had detectable visual defects, and only 15 had any impairment in hearing.

Eighty-five per cent of the children examined had been breast fed, an important factor, according to Dr. Jirka, in good nutrition and good teeth in infancy and early childhood.

Fly to Nome to Survey Damage by Conflagration

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Five men, including Ralph Lomen, head of the Lomen Commercial company, left in an amphibian plane today for Nome, Alaska, to survey losses from the gold city's $3,000,000 fire Monday. They hope to arrive at Nome Saturday night and be back in Seattle Tuesday.

FULTON CUTTING, N. Y. REAL ESTATE HEAD, DIES AT 82

Noted for Philanthropic Activities.

R. FULTON CUTTING.

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Robert Fulton Cutting, president of the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate company and leader of many prominent philanthropic and religious organizations of this city, died today at his summer home in Tuxedo Park. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Cutting had been active in his various financial and civic interests until last June, when he suffered a serious attack of pneumonia which sapped his strength and weakened his heart.

He was an outstanding civic and philanthropic leader in this city for forty years. Although he always disclaimed being a politician, he was a political power in the closing days of the old City of New York and in the opening days of Greater New York through the Citizens' union, which was formed by him in the middle '90s, following the collapse of the good government, or "goo-goo" movement.

Headed Cooper Union.

Mr. Cutting was for a long period president of the Cooper Union and was active in the management of the New York Trade school, of which he was one of the organizers and for a time the president. He was a liberal contributor to movements looking to improvement in labor conditions.

For many years he was president of the Society for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor.

Another of his activities which he assisted in founding and of which he was for many years the chairman of the board is the City and Suburban Homes company, which began operations by the erection of several blocks of model tenements in mid-Manhattan on the east and west sides.

Aided Hoover Movement.

In politics Mr. Cutting was an enrolled Republican, but he voted for Alfred E. Smith for governor in 1920. In that same year he was a leader in and contributor to the movement to nominate Herbert Hoover for President.

One of the leading laymen in the Episcopal church, Mr. Cutting was a vestryman in St. George's. He was strongly interested in music. As president of the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate company he successfully blocked the plan of Otto H. Kahn and other directors to build a new opera house on West 57th street between 8th and 9th avenues six years ago.

Philip Mahers Will Entertain Bitters Here

Friends to Hear Quintet Played First Time.

BY JUDITH CASS.

WEDNESDAY night of next week will be an interesting evening for the musical friends of Mrs. Philip Maher, for she is inviting as many of them as the Maher house at 44 Cedar street will accommodate to hear the first performance of John Bitter's quintet for strings and a flute.

Mr. and Mrs. Bitter motored here from Washington, D. C., where their marriage took place last Sunday, and are visiting Mrs. Bitter's brother-in-law and sister, the Mahers. Mrs. Bitter is the former Dorothy Michelson Dick. Mr. Bitter will not play next Wednesday, for he is anxious to listen to his composition as one of the audience, but Rudolph Reuter is assisting Mrs. Maher in gathering together the artists, so the performance is certain to be a finished and professional one.

See Fair Thoroughly; Leave Thursday for East.

Mr. and Mrs. Bitter want to see the Fair thoroughly, and they are planning to leave next Thursday for New York, so they haven't time for nearly as much entertaining as her old friends here would like to do for them. Mrs. Frederick Hauck (Janet Chase) is giving them a dinner, however, next Tuesday.

From New York, where his mother, Mrs. Karl Bitter, lives, Mr. and Mrs. Bitter will go to Jacksonville, Fla., where he is to conduct the Jacksonville Symphony orchestra this season. Their wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Bitter's other sister, Mrs. Festus Foster.

Not since September was ushered in with the long Labor day week-end has there been such a quiet Saturday as today will be, but society welcomes it after the last two hectic Saturdays when there were so many debuts that no one could attend them all. If the weather is nice there will be many who will take advantage of the quiet week-end to go to the country and others will find that this is an ideal Saturday for another visit to the Fair.

Members of the Exmoor and the Knollwood clubs will be enjoying the last parties of the season at those north shore clubs, for both are having their harvest home dinner dances tonight. The Glenview club will have its similar affair on Oct. 6 and the Chicago Golf club, too, will end its summer season with a harvest home party some time next month. The debutante set—its ranks are depleted greatly by the departure of the debs who go to college—will dine and dance tonight at the Onwentsia club at a party that Mr. and Mrs. Conway H. Olmsted will give for Mrs. Olmsted's debutante sister, Miss Ethel Johnston.

Jeanette Peterkin Weds William O. Hunt Today.

A wedding of social interest today that is to be very quiet, with just the families present, is that of Miss Jeanette Peterkin and William O. Hunt. It will take place at 4:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peterkin of 1242 Lake Shore drive, with the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson of the Fourth Presbyterian church officiating. There will be no attendants. Mr. Hunt and his bride will leave immediately after the ceremony for a motor trip in the east, and after Nov. 1 they will be at home at 23 East Elm street.

The bridegroom's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Hunt and Mrs. H. M. Owen, have come from Decatur for the wedding. He also has a brother, Floyd Hunt, who lives here. The bride has a brother, Daniel Jr., who is married to the former Bessie Shaw.

Mrs. F. S. Coolidge's Party Climaxes Berkshire Season.

From our correspondent in the Berkshires comes word of the closing festivities in connection with Mrs. Frederick S. Coolidge's invitation festival of chamber music at South Mountain in Pittsfield. The final entertainment was a brilliant reception which Mrs. Coolidge gave last night at the Wendell hotel for 500 composers, professors of music, directors of orchestras, and men and women from all over this country. It was the outstanding social affair of the season in the Berkshires. Mrs. Coolidge was assisted in receiving by her son, Prof. Albert Sprague Coolidge of Harvard, and Mrs. Coolidge.

Thursday night the South Mountain String Quartet, of which Willem Willeke is conductor, gave a dinner for Mrs. Coolidge at the Wendell hotel. There were about one hundred guests. Wednesday night Mrs. Coolidge gave a dinner at the Maplewood hotel for the composers who have been attending the festival, among them Chicago's John Alden Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will return to Prides Crossing, where they have spent the summer, before coming home, so they will not be here until next month.

Among other Chicagoans who attended the festival were Mrs. Horace H. Martin and Mrs. Walter L. Fisher, who were at the Maplewood; Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, who was with her mother, Mrs. Frederick T. West of Tor court, Pittsfield, and Mrs. Andrew Sherriff, who was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Metz at Fernbrook, Lenox.

Fashionable Riders to Join in Hunt Tomorrow.

Miss Helen Bell, Miss Jane Rowe, the Raymond O. Mitchells, the young Edwin Ashcrafts, Raymond Owen, and his bride and Clark Lawrence, the M. F. H. of the Longmeadow Hunt of Winnetka, are some of the north shore and town members of the Dunham Woods Riding club who are planning to be in Wayne tomorrow morning for the gala opening of the club. All of them except Mr. Lawrence will spend the week-end at the club. Tomorrow's program includes a hunt, starting at 10:30 o'clock, followed by

Winnetka Girls Make Bow

Miss Nancy Burley (left), daughter of Mrs. Clarence A. Burley of Winnetka, who was presented to society yesterday at her mother's home, and Miss Miriam Fetcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Fetcher, who also made her bow at her parents' home in the same north shore suburb.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Society enjoyed another day of debutante festivity yesterday when Miss Miriam Fetcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Fetcher, and Miss Nancy Burley, Mrs. Clarence Burley's daughter, made their debuts at receptions at home in Winnetka.

Between 4 and 7 there was tea drinking and lively chatter with many of the guests meeting each other for the second time as they moved from one party to the other. Standing near the fireplace in the living room of their large home on Bryant avenue in Winnetka, Miss Fetcher and her parents were surrounded by dozens of lovely bouquets that had been sent by their daughter's admiring friends.

Miss Fetcher wore a striking gown of rough crêpe in a tomato shade fashioned on simple lines. A capelet outlined in silver beads covered her shoulders and the long skirt swept into a short train. Miss Fetcher's flowers were an armload bouquet of Joanna Hill roses. Mrs. Fetcher wore jade green crêpe and a corsage of gardenias.

For her reception Miss Burley wore a lovely gown of golden brown net designed with a high neckline that was straight both across the front and back. The skirt was made with a deep flounce and the wide girdle of brown and orange ribbon fell into a slight train.

Miss Burley's flowers were yellow roses. Mrs. Burley, receiving with her daughter before the mantel in the drawing room of their large home on Prospect avenue in Winnetka, was gowned in black georgette.

Both Miss Fetcher and Miss Burley are leaving this week to begin their sophomore year at Smith college.

Good Morning!

This is one of those prize fight opuses where folks don't do what you think they're going to.

I'm a bit groggy as to why the poor chap upon whom the frameup's pulled should be given the works, while the framers go blithely on their unmolested ways. Because the boxing commission and the press [latter represented by a ringside keyholer] are wise to the whole truth. Why the discrimination?

However—what I know about prize fighting you could put in your eye. One shut eye. So we'll skip it. The Voice of the Movie Fan will blossom out with observations if a phoney WAS pulled—bless my watchful correspondents!

With Glenda Farrell and Pat O'Brien in leading rôles, and a supporting cast numbering such players as Claire Dodd, Thomas Jackson, Arthur Vinton, etc., a film is bound to have a certain amount of interest. Therefore, this modest release holds its own.

Mr. O'Brien as Ritzy MacCartey is a fighter who aims to be a champ. Miss Farrell, Mrs. MacCartey and his manager, has other ideas, such as a vineyard and children. . . .

A certain picturesque ring battle in which Ritzy's dancings and curvettings, smile and general personality plus win him a houseful of huzzas, brings MacCartey to the atention of certain astute promoters. . . .

He gets his chance. Believes it's on the level. Is to learn——what? See the picture.

For no good reason at all a trifling "other woman' 'is rung in. This situation, so banal and expected, is a black eye to the production.

Action is pretty fast and some of the dialog is pretty good. Also, there are some laughs.

See you tomorrow.

Cotton for Fall Wear

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

One of the frocks of plaid cotton combined with a synthetic material for fall wear, worn in a recent style show by Ethel Johnson. It has a silky sheen.

New Costume Accents Here in Alluring Array

Val Lace, Picturesque Collars Revived.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Costume accents make a dress! All the new collar and cuff sets, for instance, of gleaming white silk braid, cleverly wound about and fashioned in complicated formations. Wide, round affairs, elongated numbers that cover a good half of the chest, and square shaped models are plentiful. Next the very fine, exquisitely made Val lace and fagoting, like a cascade of foam against the neckline of a plain black wool frock. Rather expensive, but with care they last lots longer than you think.

Val lace gets around this year. Some of the best looking of the simpler silk nightgowns have frills of the stuff around the neckline and the hemline. That is decidedly a new trimming for pastel silk crepes. Val edged handkerchiefs, the like of which haven't been seen in years, also have been unpacked, and with the lace trimmed neckwear, bows and such, Val lace has been more than successfully revived.

Deep, picturesque collars of stiff Irish crochet will break your heart until you own one. They are delectable, especially when they are held together with a soft big black velvet bow. Buy one now and have a grand time with it this winter even though you will have to pack it away for your female descendants. They're well worth what you have to pay.

Old silver costume jewelry, at least it looks like romantic finds from some antique jewel case, are featured in one shop. Stunning new clips in silver bowknots with a bracelet to match, or equally good looking clips made with leaves and berries. This sort of silver is particularly attractive worn with dull crepe afternoon dresses, when the matching bracelets also shimmer at the wrist.

Big barbaric blobs—almost hunks—of gleaming gold metal costume jewelry are also new and extremely effective with all the dark brown and henna red as well as with all other dark street clothes of wool. Link bracelets of gold [the kind that rattle so noisily] have been revived. This time the chains come in formations of three, consequently the racket is louder than ever. Watch the costume jewelry. All the new pieces will do wonders for your fall clothes.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Miss Lucile Theriot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Theriot of Oyster Bay, had a luncheon today at her home in honor of Miss Anne Covert Meyer, whse marriage to David B. Manuel is to take place tomorrow at Great Neck.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Livingston will give a luncheon tomorrow preceding the fall meeting of the Rockaway Steeplechase association at the Rockaway Hunting club in Cedarhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Bryant had Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt and Mr. and Mrs. Esmond P. O'Brien in a party at the dance this evening which marks the première of the new Opera Supper club in the Town Casino.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Miller of Ardsley-on-Hudson gave a dance at the Racquet and Swimming club, Ardsley-on-Hudson, this evening to introduce their elder daughter, Miss Carolyn Ten Eyck Miller.

Catholics Here to Join Tribute for Mundelein

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The million or more Catholics of the Chicago archdiocese will express their devotion to Cardinal Mundelein tomorrow in a general communion in all parishes.

Cardinal Mundelein's 25th anniversary as a bishop is being celebrated at Rome in the presence of Pope Pius with special services at St. Peter's cathedral. The first service was held yesterday. Chicago Catholics will participate, spiritually, in the second, which will be held tomorrow.

Last Sunday all Chicago pastors read a message from Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, vicar general of the archdiocese, which urged every member to participate "in a spiritual bouquet of prayer and holy communion for Cardinal Mundelein." It has been announced that special preparations are being made today in all churches to care for the anticipated throngs. Thus, while the Chicago prelate is being honored by Pope Pius in Rome, his spiritual children, it is planned, will pay great tribute to him at home.

Coincident with the silver jubilee, the New World, Catholic weekly journal of Chicago, has announced the publication of the book, "The First Cardinal of the West," which describes Cardinal Mundelein's career. The book, writen by Paul R. Martin, appeared serially in the New World. The announcement adds that the sponsor's edition was entirely subscribed before publication.

Near the closing pages of the book is described what Cardinal Mundelein said was "the most emotional day of my life." This, the author said, was April 24, 1931, when the cardinal celebrated pontifical high mass at the dedication of the new building of the College of Propaganda where he had studied. Cardinal Mundelein had financed the new edifice.

"But a still greater honor, and this a complete surprise, awaited him," the book states as the story of that service was described. "For the holy father left the Vatican for only the third time, and the Vatican City territory for only the second time since the concordat with the Italian government was signed, to pay tribute to Cardinal Mundelein, by assisting at the dedicatory mass which his eminence celebrated at the College of Proganda. During his visit his holiness paid special honor to the Chicago cardinal, rejoicing in the coöperation his eminence had given that the new edifice might become a reality. His holiness told Cardinal Mundelein that he could be well content with such a beautiful and consoling day."

Official business will occupy two weeks' time for the cardinal on the present canonical visit to Rome. He will return directly to this country.

ELSIE KIRSCHNER sends on the gag that now has New York in stitches: Why is the name of the town Middletown, in New York, reminiscent of a famous Biblical character? The answer, after you've guessed awhile, is: Because, if you drop the "iddletown" and add "oses," you have Moses.

Gag—

WHICH brings to mind the comment of Douglas McClure, the 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan McClure of Geneva and grandson of the late Dr. James G. K. McClure of Lake Forest. Seeing a man with a long gray beard he commented to his mother:

"Gosh, mother, there's Moses."

THE story about the order clerk in a brokerage house who thought "Quit verbosity" in a cable was in code reminded Olive Haifley of a similar tale. A man wired in to a motor company about a coil that he had ordered but had not received. The company wired back, economizing on words, "Retel shipping coil tomorrow." Came the answer: "Who is Retel and why don't he attend to business?"

IRONIC note. The sound of religious music could be heard by strollers in Humboldt park on Yom Kippur, Wednesday, the day on which pious Jews do not partake of food during the day. The cantor, chanting sonorously, could be heard and the park was filled with Jewish people. At the corner a man in a white jacket, seeing the crowd, had wheeled his hot-dog stand and was expectantly looking for business.

A FRIEND back from Buffalo tells about the official dinner given in honor of some distinguished British visitors. The host got a public stenographer in and told her that he wanted the exact wording of the toast to the king. The girl got all ready, pencil poised, ears alert, as one of the guests arose, glass in hand.

"Gentlemen, the king," he said. And the toast was solemnly drunk while the host looked a little foolishly toward the stenographer who had made little pothooks for the two words and closed her book.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The under secretary of state, William Phillips, has returned from a few days' visit in Newport, where he went for the first yacht races. Mrs. Phillips and their daughter, Beatrice, who joined him in Newport, returned yesterday to their home, Highover, at North Beverly, Mass.

The admiral of the British fleet, Sir Roger Keyes, and Lady Keyes are guests for a few days at the British embassy.

Christian Industrial League Asks Help in Yearly Bundle Drive

Housewives of Chicago have been asked to coöperate in the annual bundle campaign of the Chicago Christian Industrial league, which will be carried on this year in conjunction with the league's 25th anniversary.

The campaign will be on from Sept. 23 to Oct. 7. Old clothing, shoes, papers, magazines, books, bedding, dishes, furniture, and any other usable article will be sought by the league for distribution to the needy. The women's auxiliary of the league will sponsor the drive, with Mrs. Ira Fesler of Oak Park as president and Mrs. Edward T. McComb of Austin as chairman of ways and means.

The anniversary celebration will honor the forming of the organization in October, 1909, by the Rev. George A. Kilbey to provide work for the needy in workshops, in return for which they are provided with necessities.

Jean M. Herring Wedded to John A. Roberts Since May

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Following the announcement of their engagement last month comes news that Miss Jean Markham Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grant Herring of Princeton, N. J., and John Alexander Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Roberts of Utica, were married quietly in May. Last month it was stated that a September wedding was planned. They are now making their home in New York. The bride attended Miss Fines' school in Princeton and studied in London for three years. Mr. Roberts is a member of the Yale club of New York.

Catholic Youths' Dinner for Bishop Sheil Tuesday

The Catholic Youth organization announced yesterday that the annual corned beef and cabbage dinner in honor of Bishop Bernard J. Sheil will be held at the Palmer house Tuesday night. This dinner, the announcement stated, is held each year as a personal tribute to Bishop Sheil.

BLAZING GUNS

By WILLIAM MacLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Landis inherited the Lazy B ranch from her uncle. It adjoins the Circle 3 T ranch, owned by Chet Radbourne, powerful boss in the county, and Mary's legal guardian. He has been stealing Mary's cattle and trying to force her to marry him. To escape his tyranny Mary marries Cole Sanborn, fearless young outlaw and suspected train robber, within an hour after meeting him. There is bitter warfare between Cole and the Circle 3 T brand. The marriage is one in name only, giving them both better advantage to fight their common enemy. Mary stays in Jonesboro with Mr. Peters, a lawyer, and his wife. Cole drops in on Radbourne. A fight ensues. Two of Radbourne's men, Jerry Haskell, his foreman, and Curt Jordan, are injured. Cole escapes. Chet sends Jordan to Jonesboro to lie in wait for Cole. Jordan captures Mary and sends her back to the Circle 3 T. Cole, unaware of Mary's plight, rides into Jonesboro with Rusty Hunter, one of his trusted men. He gets Judge Fairley to sign an order terminating Mary's guardianship. Cole encounters Jordan, who fires at him, and Cole kills him. Cole is exonerated and his position with the public is improved. Radbourne sends Slim Calhoun, a good looking young outlaw, to ride the range with Mary. Slim dislikes his employer and is on the point of quitting. After he returns with Mary he has a run in with Haskell and is badly beaten up. Radbourne, who has learned of Jordan's death, offers a reward to Slim if he will kill Cole.

INSTALMENT XXIV.

A MESSAGE TO HER HUSBAND.

Slim rose from his seat and looked down at the hulk of a man back of the desk. When he spoke scorn etched his voice and contempt blazed in his eyes. "You've made a mistake, you dirty double crossing wolf. I'm no hired killer, if I have got outside the law off and on. I don't shoot men down from ambush, and I don't work for a cur who hasn't enough sand in his craw to do it himself but gets another scalawag to do it for him. I'll take my time, for I'm going down the road tonight."

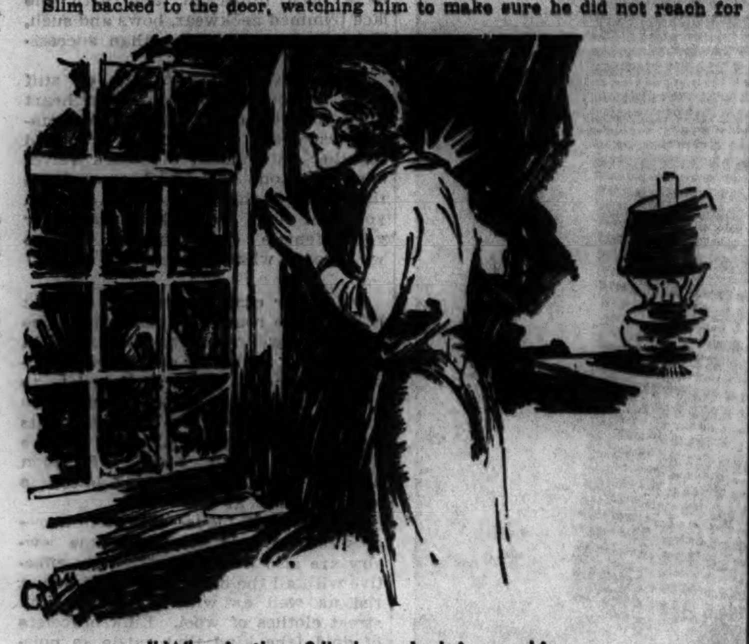
The dark blood poured into the sallow face of Radbourne. He glared at the reckless cowboy, for the moment so choked with rage that words would not come.

"No waddy alive can talk to me like that," he ground out at last. "Every word you've said is a nail in your coffin, fellow. The road you're going down tonight is a one way trail. Get out of my sight right damned now."

"Pleases me to death," Slim said promptly. "But don't bet too heavy on that one way trail. My pinto is saddled in front of the house, and I aim to land in the saddle with the horse a-running. But first off I'll take my pay check."

Radbourne calculated the sum due and wrote a check. Slim pocketed it. "I'll be drifting," Slim went on. "If I meet up with Cole Sanborn I'll tell him how badly you're worried by him. So long, you damned sidewinder."

Slim backed to the door, watching him to make sure he did not reach for a gun. Without turning, he reached for the knob and opened the door. Swiftly he slid through, jumped for the hitch rack, pulled the slip knot, and landed in the saddle without touching the stirrups.



"Who is there?" she asked in a whisper.

The pinto gathered itself to a gallop and pounded into the darkness of the night.

Radbourne gave the alarm by firing his revolver at the shadowy figure disappearing in the gloom. Savagely he cursed his folly. He had ma... a mistake—two of them. The first was in sizing up the Texan wrong the second in threatening him. If he had let Slim go to the bunkhouse to pack up his roll he might have had him shot down before he left the ranch. Now the fellow had got away. He would talk, of course.

The thing to do was to draw the sting from Slim's testimony. He must come out in the open with the claim that he had given Sherif Magruder clear proof Sanborn was the K. & J. bandit and that the sherif would not lift a hand to arrest the criminal. Out of a sense of patriotism he would post a reward for the capture of the notorious bad man dead or alive.

Yes, that would be good medicine. He would make the reward a thousand dollars. For that sum it was reasonable to think that some one of Sanborn's enemies would take a crack at him.

Mary heard the sounds of clattering hoofs, of shots, of strident voices. Softly she raised her window, trying to make out what had occurred. But though she listened intently she could not learn the cause of the disturbance. The speakers were too far away for her to hear what was being said.

Her spirit was still riding the hilltops because of the news Slim had brought. In memory she could still see the shock of fear registered in Radbourne's sallow face. His enemy had struck home, a jarring blow that had shaken the man's confidence.

The noise outside died down. Mary tried to read, but the words of the book meant nothing to her. Hours passed. She waited, for what she did not know. The lights in the men's bunkhouse went out, as did the lamp in the foreman's cabin.

A light tap sounded on the window. It set her pulses drumming. She moved noiselessly to the casement.

"Who is there?" she asked in a whisper.

The answer came back in a murmur no louder than her own. "Slim Calhoun. I had trouble with Chet and lit out. Can I speak with you a minute?"

She moved back to the coal oil lamp and blew it out. Very slowly, in order to make no sound, she raised the window higher. A dark form lifted itself and dropped lightly to the floor.

"Dont be scared, ma'am," he reassured. "Nobody saw me come. I left my horse tied to the pasture fence quarter of a mile away. You know I don't aim to hurt you any."

"I know," she said, and could not keep the quaver out of her voice. "The shooting I heard—— Was it you and Chet Radbourne?"

"It was Chet. I never fired a shot. He wanted to hire me to kill yore husband. I let him make his proposition, then told him what a skunk he was. After that I lit out. Here's the way of it, Mrs. Sanborn. I've been dragged into this feud. Looks like I'd better join up with Cole. I had words with him at Jonesboro that time, and up here we exchanged shots. He won't believe a thing I say. The notion that will stick in his craw is that Chet is trying to plant a spy with him. If you can give me a line to him, he'll know I'm all right."

"Yes," she assented.

What Slim had said was true. It would be a characteristic Radbourne trick to stage a pretended quarrel with one of his own men and send him into the camp of the enemy. But Mary felt sure that back of this man's recklessness was loyalty.

"I'm satisfied," she said quietly. "I'll write a note, well as I can in the dark."

She moved to a table, sat down, found paper and pencil. A pulse of excitement beat in her throat. How should she address this man who was her husband, and yet not her husband at all? What should she call him? Once he had said he must be Cole to her and she Mary to him, at least in public. She wrote, without any word of endearment from start to finish.

> Cole, I am sending this by Slim Calhoun, until tonight one of Chet Radbourne's men. He is what you call square. I am sure of it. Today he fought with Jerry Haskell and has a badly wounded face from the battle. Later, he quarreled with Mr. Radbourne, who tried to kill him as he rode away. He has slipped back to see me, to take a message from me to you.
>
> I must explain why I am here. Jordan and another of the Circle 3 T men caught me, and the other man made me come here with him. I am writing this in the dark, for there are guards outside. So that you may know this is not a forgery to bait a trap, I will remind you that once you promised after our stage kiss not to let your enemies and mine kill you. Every night I pray that they may not.
>
> I am quite safe here. Do not worry about me. Mr. Radbourne treats me well, even though he is very angry at me because I will not sign a paper asking for an annulment of our marriage. As safe as in God's pocket. You once said that. Please—please do not do anything in a hurry. Take your time. Work out whatever plans you have.
>
> For what you told me about Mr. Radbourne is true. As long as you are alive he will not harm me. He dare not. He is afraid of you.
>
> I am sorry you had to do what you did tonight, but I do not blame you. I know it was self-defense. I am sure you would never kill for any other reason.
>
> MARY.

She folded the letter, sealed it in an envelope, and gave it to Slim. The cowboy put it in the pocket of his shirt.

"I hate to leave you with that wolf," he said.

"It won't be for long," she said confidently.

Slim slid out of the window, after listening for a moment for the watchers. Mary waited, nerves tense, fearing every instant she might hear the sound of a shot. The minutes passed, with the silence unbroken.

A Friend in Need

Wheel Chair Is Requested.

A case worker, J. S., writes of two cases: "We have been helping a needy family for some time and are anxious to secure a wheelchair for a bedridden patients. Mr. B. has been suffering with heart trouble for the last two years. He and his family live on the second floor, which makes it impossible for him to get out of the house. The relatives are unable to assist in any way and we should like to provide a wheelchair for the patient so that he could get out occasionally."

Shirley Temple Tea Parties Big Joke on Guests

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—If you're one of the lucky few invited into Shirley Temple's new dressing room bungalow at Fox Movietone City studio, don't fall for the 6 year old star's wiles and accept her invitation for biscuits and tea. The tea is all right. Shirley brews it for her afternoon guests herself and brings it forward steaming and fragrant from her own little playroom cook stove, which, by the way, is a real stove. She also will bring her guest a piping hot pan of browned, crisp, smoking biscuits from the oven. The biscuits are all right until you try to bite them. Then Shirley laughs and laughs. The biscuits are from the studio prop department.

Shirley, by the way, starts her first picture under her new $1,250 a week Fox contract tomorrow morning. It will be titled "Bright Eyes" and is intended for Christmas week release. The other players featured in it are Claire Trevor and Jimmy Dunn. Dave Butler will direct.

A plaintif named Marcus Anderson has filed a $10,000 damage suit against Lionel Atwell, claiming that "four or more" of the actor's dogs bit him.

The "three stooges" who used to do comedy with Ted Healy, but now are under contract at Columbia studio without Healy, went to a Los Angeles Coast league baseball game as guests of the management, but bet $100 against the home team. They won the bet.

Al Sheean of the old vaudeville team, "Gallagher and Sheean," goes into Rudy Vallee's next motion picture, "Sweet Music," to be screened this autumn at Warner studio.

Floral Applique Quilt First Made in State of Ohio

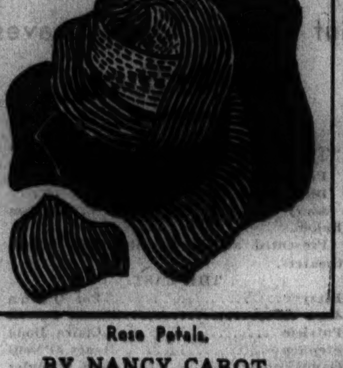
Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents each, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower, and Hall of Science, A Century of Progress.



Rose Petals.

BY NANCY CABOT.

This lovely applique block is one of quilltdom's most popular floral patterns. It was first appliqued in Ohio in 1873, in four shades of rose, from soft pink to deep rose. Thirty-six applique blocks and thirty-six plain blocks form a complete coverlet. The quilting design used with this pattern is alternated with the Rose Petals design and a Spider Web design.

WEDDING

Mrs. Lindsay Todd Woodcock of 839 Lake street, Oak Park, announces the marriage of her daughter, Lindsay Maude, to Arthur John Howard of 415 Linden avenue, which will take place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Business Men Musicians Hold First Rehersal

The Chicago Business Men's Symphony orchestra held the first rehersal of its fourteenth season last night on the tenth floor of the Lytton building. Under Conductor George Dasch of the Chicago Symphony orchestra members ran through difficult passages from the works of Tschaikowski and other composers.

Conductor Dasch succeeds Clarence Evans of the Chicago Symphony orchestra who directed the business men's orchestra in the last seven years. Attorney Avern B. Scolnik is president of the association, succeeding the late George Lytton, the founder.

The orchestra, all of whose musicians are amateurs with the exception of the conductor, is composed of business and professional men who make music their hobby.

The orchestra this year will have a full complement of 110 instruments.

Rehersals will be held each Friday night in the Lytton building and the first concert will be given about Nov. 15, Mr. Scolnik said.

Other officers of the association are Hubert S. Conover, investment banker, vice president; Dr. Walter S. Priest, physician, secretary, and Wayne Saggars of the public relations department of the Commonwealth Edison company, treasurer.

Philip Mahers Will Entertain Bitters Here

Friends to Hear Quintet Played First Time.

"Here's How" at the clubhouse at noon and a hunt breakfast at 1. There will be an indoor baseball game outdoors at 3.

A former attractive Chicagoan who was married recently in Bombay, India, and her husband, Walter Lucas of Bombay and England, will be at the breakfast tomorrow as the guests of the Carl Degenhardts of St. Charles. Mrs. Lucas is the former Lenore Sandberg and she and Mr. Lucas are spending a week or so at the Blackstone before leaving for California. This is Mr. Lucas' first visit to the United States and he wants to see as much of it as possible before he and his bride return to Bombay.

In celebration of their elder son's [Robert E. Jr.'s] birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kenyon have invited several of his friends to their Lake Forest home for supper tomorrow night. Young Mr. Kenyon is planning to spend the winter in town again. Last year he had an apartment at 900 North Michigan, but this winter he will establish himself in town with three other young bachelors.

George Henry Highs Back from England.

The George Henry Highs timed their return from a visit to their younger daughter, Lady Burney, in England, so that they arrived the day before Gwendolyn, the daughter of their older daughter, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen Jr., made her debut. Miss Bowen was introduced at a supper dance at the residence of her parents in Lake Forest recently. Mr. and Mrs. High are at the Lake Shore Drive hotel for the winter.

Miss Bowen's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, will not arrive at home from her summer place at Bar Habror, Me., until about the 28th of this month. Her daughters, Mrs. William McCormick Blair and Mrs. De Koven Phelps, will arrive about the same time from having spent the summer in the east, Mrs. Blair at Bar Harbor and Mrs. Phelps at Watch Hill, R. I.

Miss Meryl Grayson, daughter of Lady Dora Grayson of Sutton Park, and Sir Henry Grayson of Liverpool, England, has arrived in Chicago for a visit with Mrs. William F. Cowham of the Ambassador hotel. Miss Grayson is a friend of Mrs. Cowham's granddaughter, Miss Mary Senior, who crossed from England with Miss Grayson recently and now is back at Vassar for her sophomore year. Miss Grayson stopped in New York for a brief visit with Miss Senior and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Senior, formerly of Chicago.

After a wonderful six weeks or so of cruising around the Mediterranean Miss Lucy Miller is at home again. She and Miss Janet Busby sailed on a freighter early this summer. Miss Busby remained in New York when the two young ladies returned recently, and, so far as is known, has no plans for coming to Chicago soon. She and her mother, Mrs. Leonard A. Busby, will be in New York for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., Mrs. William M. Scudder, and Mrs. Stanley Field all are enjoying the early fall weather at French Lick. Mrs. Scudder will be at home Monday.

Joseph H. Kings to Stay at Charlevoix Till Oct. 1.

The Chicago club at Charlevoix in northern Michigan closed officially last Sunday, but that doesn't mean that all the Chicagoans who summer there have returned home, for the Joseph H. Kings still are there and they do not plan to return to the city until Oct. 1. Mrs. Robert Stuart also is keeping open her cottage and she and her guest, Mrs. Alexander Laird, are enjoying the early autumn in that lovely spot which is so busy during the summer and so quiet at all other seasons. When the Eugene S. Talbots came home they brought with them a highly prized trophy, the series cup won in connection with the club yacht races for the summer.

Those who returned home when the Chicago club closed or shortly before are the Edison Dicks, the Oscar W. Johnsons, the Albert Keeps, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Schwarz, the John Stuarts, Mrs. A. Harris Whiting and her family, the John P. Wilson family, Mrs. Ezra J. Warner, Mrs. Donald R. Wegg, the Augustus A. Carpenters, the Harold C. Smiths, the Solomon A. Smiths, Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, Mrs. Charles I. Pierce, and the William B. McIlvaines.

Infant Welfare Benefit Party to Be Held Oct. 27.

Over a delicious luncheon that ended with fresh coconut cake, such as only the pastry cook of the Woman's Athletic club makes, we heard yesterday about plans for the Highland Park-Ravinia center of the Infant Welfare society annual benefit to be held this year on Oct. 27. The Potpourri ball held last year at the Moraine hotel was so successful that it has been decided to have another one this year, but it is to be in Evanston, for there is no place in Highland Park large enough and open late enough in the season to accommodate the crowd that is expected to attend the affair. The Country club of Evanston will be the setting for the party at which there will be a floor show of professional talent, games, and a midnight buffet supper as well as dancing to the music of one of Chicago's best known orchestras.

Mrs. Truman Metzel and Mrs. William White are co-chairmen of arrangements for the party and Mrs. Clarence Schaaf and Mrs. Richardson Revell are their vice chairmen. Mrs. Dean McCormick and Mrs. Mason Armstrong are in charge of the sale of tickets. Mrs. Elwood Low is president of the center which supports jointly with the Wilmette center the Alice H. Wood station at 1964 North Halsted street. Each member does volunteer service, two volunteers in attendance four days each week in alternating months, to assist the nurses in weighing the babies and in keeping the clerical files to date. The Highland Park-Ravinia center also sent in 1,700 garments last year, all made at the monthly meetings.

Next Monday the first fall luncheon meeting of the center will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Cleary on North Sheridan road and on Oct. 16 there will be a tea for the ticket selling committee at the home of Mrs. H. H. Redfearn on Moraine road.

BY MARY MEADE.

"Are all the vitamins and minerals retained in pressure cooking?"

"I've carefully canned green beans by the open kettle method. But reading your article on botulinus poisoning made me wonder whether I should throw them all out."

"If I use mustard jars in canning will the foods spoil? And what causes grape juice put up in cans to explode and spoil?"

"I want to use fruit jars in which root beer has been canned. Will this injure the next food I can in the jars?"

And on and on they go—scores of questions this week about canning. But before we start upon them what about pressure cooking and vitamins?

Simply this, Mrs. De M.: Food prepared in a pressure cooker is cooked at a high temperature for a short length of time. It is cooked without water, except for the small amount of liquid in the cooker used to make steam. This makes impossible the large loss of minerals which occurs when vegetables are cooked in open boiling water if the water is then discarded. Certain vitamins are partially destroyed by even a little heat. However, with care pressure cooking prevents the overcooking which often happens in open kettle boiling and makes impossible the resulting considerable loss of vitamins. Pressure cooked foods are also prepared away from the presence of air (oxygen) and it has been found that it is this contact with air during cooking which causes certain vitamin loss in the open kettle method.

Next for M. E. C. and Mrs. C. W., who have canned nonacid vegetables by cold pack and by the open kettle method. To rectify this mistake and prevent the possibility of infection from botulinus poisoning I can offer only one solution—recan them, this time using a pressure cooker. Process for from one-third to one-half the time which is given for original pressure cooking of that vegetable. Reseal in clean sterilized jars. If there is any unnatural odor from the heated material discard at once.

Mrs. J. T. S. and Mrs. C. A. J., with their "mustard jars" and "root beer jars," are being worried by a wholly exploded idea. Glass, if smooth surfaced and uncracked, if perfectly cleaned and sterilized, is absolutely incapable of retaining anything from one food or drink which will injure another food canned in it. A slight odor may cling to the jar for some time, but if all the food is gone this will soon leave if aired. Mrs. S., you speak of "mustard jars." It will not be the memory of the mustard which will cause spoilage, but unless you are certain of obtaining a perfect seal with sterilized rubbers and lids this will bring trouble.

Mrs. S. has likewise had trouble with canning grape juice. Some jars have exploded and some spoiled. I wonder, Mrs. S., if you haven't inadvertently made wine? Often when too little sugar is added to grape juice it starts to ferment and become wine in the bottles. Having no way of escaping the gasses it eventually explodes the bottle. For making the uncooked grape juice follow these directions:

GRAPE JUICE (Uncooked).

Wash and stem ripe, firm grapes. Into each sterile hot quart jar put one cup of the washed grapes, one cup of sugar, and enough boiling water to completely fill the can. Seal at once. Let this stand about six weeks and the grape juice will be ready and safe.

Lingerie Combination Is Neat

WOMAN'S AND MISS' LINGERIE.

Here is a pattern that will do much toward making your figure look youthfully slender. It's easily and quickly slipped into, and will be a boon to the business woman and to the school or college girl. It's a combination slip, brassiere, and pantie, and fits the figure perfectly. Crêpe de chine, flat silk crêpe, and satin are lovely materials.

The pattern, No. 3357, comes in sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measure.

Hyper-Critical Dad Will Have a Hostile Son

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I have been hearing a great deal lately about the child who is more nervous and irritable when his father is at home, with resulting conflict and unhappiness for everybody concerned. "Daddy" probably dreads the evening, mother with all her affection for him probably dreads to hear him at the door, and son either consciously or unconsciously becomes a mass of little tensions when his father's voice greets his ears.

Now this may not in the least be caused by unkindness. In fact in several instances which I know of, it is due rather to the fact that the father expects too much of his son. This makes him exaggerate in his own mind everything the boy does that is not right and leads to constant criticism.

The effect of this attitude varies with the personality of the child—one boy will be made openly defiant, another stubborn, and another nervous and unsure of himself. In some ways I consider this last the most deplorable of all three consequences.

The remedying of a such a difficult situation lies in the father's effort to do two things: One is first, to loosen up in general and to make a real try at finding something—anything—in his son that he can show approval of. The other is to make it his business to find out just what one can in fairness expect of that child at whatever his age may be.

Several of these fathers I knew about had sons around eight or nine. There are definite phases and needs of children during these years between early childhood and adolescence.

Eight 8 Day Old Babies Play in Brief Film Scene

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Perhaps the youngest players ever in a studio "played" a scene on a Fox stage today. Eight 8 day olds, five girls and three boys, were supplied for the picture by a lying-in hospital. They were in the studio less than half an hour and the parents of each were paid the $75 required by state law.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.

The belief that a drowning person rises to the surface three times before dying is very widely held. Even Shakespeare apparently accepted it [Twelfth Night, I.,v.,130]. Accounts of witnesses, however, reveal the fact that some people, when drowning, have risen to the surface many times before finally disappearing, while other persons have drowned by one submersion and never came to the surface at all. No rule can be made regarding the number of times a body may or may not come to the surface.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

WHEN RESPONDER ACCEPTS THE SLAM TRY WITH A CONCEALED FIVE CARD SUIT.

The fact that you jump to six in your suit in accepting the slam try of four no trumps need not cause you to feel that any bidding opportunity is wasted. If the opener has a good four card suit himself you will not be able to support it because you will not have four cards in it. Had you a 5-4-2-2 distribution you should presumably have bid your suit, not two no trumps, on the first round. Consequently, the only choice to take into consideration is betwen your suit and no trump, and that decision you must leave to the declarer. Only if you had three tricks yourself could you locate every king and queen and bid seven no trumps over four. With

Sp. Q J x    Di. K Q
Ht. K Q x    Cl. K 10 x x x

you have not the proper material for a first round slam try. However, if over your two no trumps your partner bids four, you know that he cannot make up five primary tricks if he lacks any of the outstanding aces, kings or queens, so do not be afraid to make the decision which is plainly up to you and only you. Bid seven no trumps.

When the Grand Slam Decision Is Up to the Opening Bidder.

This can hardly be the case except when he holds all four aces. Failing that he will need three tricks, not merely two and a half, from his partner, and he cannot find out about that additional half trick. He must himself possess an opening two no trump bid to be independent of that extra half trick for grand slam purposes. Only if he holds 150 aces and some jacks, which negatively make clear the exact composition of his partner primary tricks, can he be sure of taking thirteen tricks.

Grand Slam in No Trumps.

Holding

Sp. A 10 x x    Cl. A Q x
Ht. A Q x    Di. A J x

the opener could not make a mistake if the bidding went one no trump, two no trumps, four no trumps, six clubs. He knows positively that his partner's club suit is K 10 x x x; consequently, he must have two tricks in the other suits. There can only be K-Q of spades and (a) the kings of hearts and diamonds, or (b) king-queen of diamonds and nothing in hearts. Diamonds could be spades and vice versa in each case without affecting the argument. The former combination means thirteen lay down tricks; the latter might at worst involve a heart finesse for grand slam, but is more likely to be simplified by the opponents setting up a fourth spade in the course of their agonized discarding on the clubs. If they discard perfectly they will probably be unable to avoid locating for declarer which eventual finesse to take—against the king of hearts or against the jack of spades—always assuming that the opening lead did not solve the problem at the very outset.

There Is Nothing New Under the Sun.

Even in contract this seems to be true. Bryant McCampbell's Auction Tactics, published about 1915, contained the principles of the artificial club bids. He advocated a bid of one in a minor suit as a conventional opening bid which partner must take out, preferably in a no trump; the first bid promised no length in the suit named—which might be a three card holding. This idea was revived in modern contract in perfected form by Mr. Vanderbilt. Sims players should also pay the tribute of an appreciative thought to this great player of an earlier generation when they opened third or fourth hand on a very sketchy minor suit rather than bid an unsound no trump. Had Mr. McCampbell lived into the contract era, I know he would have ridiculed the idea of bidding contract in terms of auction twenty-four hours after he had started the new game. Yet the majority of contract players are still doing that very thing after six years, and that at the persistent behest of some of the "experts."

Sachet Tassel Lends Subtle Scent to Milady's Wardrobe

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A new little perfume luxury is out. Clever. A sachet tassel you can hang in your closet and be guaranteed a long time persistence of its lovely scent. Or, hang it behind the curtains, and when the wind blows you apartment dwellers wonder if you've been transported to the country in a room overhanging a fragrant flower bed. I think I have told you about another luxurious perfume item which is applied with a paint brush on shelves and around the wainscoting of your closet, guaranteed to last a year, I believe. Expensive, it is, but what a delightful thing to wish for as an anniversary gift.

One doesn't have to have a daddy with a hand in big industry, however, to be able to be a well scented lady. I have never known a time when, at very reasonable cost, one may so indulge the olfactory nerves, your own, and your audience's.

A perfumer, talking about the use of atomizers recently, agreed that spraying is the best way to apply perfume, but not close up. Hold the atomizer some distance away from the article you are spraying. Otherwise you will have the same drenching stream common to other ways of perfuming. Also, this same authority advises more frequent purchases instead of buying large bottles. Perfume suffers a certain deterioration in contact with air and light. Now, you can get almost all the finest perfumes in small size containers.

Another tip offered, and timely for the heavier fall clothing and furs, is that in the dyeing of such articles chemicals may be used that will entirely change the character of your perfume, sometimes unpleasantly so.

Another point about perfume, on which you may need reminding, is the fact that with the long and continued use of one scent the olfactory sense reaches a point of saturation. It is time for a change of scent when this happens. Otherwise, one uses too much in order to get any reaction.

DESIGNER OF YANKEE JOINS RAINBOW CREW

Fourth Cup Race to Be Held Today.

Lunch Is Costly

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The mystery of why Endeavour tacked when it shouldn't have and threw away yesterday's America's cup race was explained today. It seems that Tom Sopwith, confident in a six minute lead over Rainbow after rounding the outer mark, went below for lunch.

A few minutes later he came on deck to discover that Rainbow was coming up on the weather quarter. Without stopping to take stock of the situation he at once ordered his sloop about, a move which eventually lost him the race, as he freely admitted later on. It was just another manifestation of the casual way the British take their racing.

American skippers generally wolf a sandwich on deck, or eat no lunch at all, when they're sailing an important race.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 21.—(AP)—From odd points around the compass, from sail lockers new and old, Great Brittain's challenger Endeavour and the defender Rainbow drew fresh aid and reinforcements today for the final stages of one of the most thrilling duels ever waged for the historic America's cup.

Taking advantage of the day's postponement requested by Thomas Octave Murdock Sopwith, after Rainbow scored her first victory yesterday following two straight defeats by the invader, both sloops enjoyed a busman's holiday sailing the high seas trying out new sails. On top of that, Harold S. Vanderbilt made an addition to his afterguard in the person of Frank Paine of Boston, designer of the Yankee, defeated by Rainbow in the final test series that determined the cup defender.

Paine Replaces Gruber.

There was considerable secrecy about the Paine nomination, and while there was no announcement that he was replacing anyone, the non-experts considered it possible that W. Starling Burgess, designer both of Rainbow and the Enterprise, successful defender against the Shamrock V. in 1930, would give way to the new arrival.

Later in the evening it was learned that Paine and Burgess, who broke up their designing partnership in 1927 and later filed suit for an accounting, both would be in Rainbow's afterguard tomorrow. Paine replaced Fred Gruber, one of Burgess' present partners.

Paine brought aboard the parachute spinnaker that Yankee used to great advantage in the last race of the test series when Rainbow won by a second. Vanderbilt immediately broke it out in place of the Mae West spinnaker that had been running a bad second to Endeavour's ingenious Annie Oakley spinnaker, a much larger balloon of canvas with holes punched in it.

Briton's Sail Is Effective.

Endeavour's Annie Oakley accounted for the huge lead of six minutes 39 seconds Sopwith piled up on the first 15 mile leg of the leeward-windward course yesterday, only to have Vanderbilt, through a combination of luck and daring, sail right through him on the way home to win by 3 minutes 26 seconds, making up 10 minutes 5 seconds in all in 15 miles. This sail was given credit for Endeavour's 51 second margin in the second race Tuesday.

With a lead of 2 to 1 in matches, Endeavour, admittedly the most dangerous challenger Great Britain ever has sent after the ancient cup, was still the favorite at the same figures.

The sloops will race again tomorrow, starting at the usual 10:40 a. m. [Chicago time], rest again Sunday, and continue Monday unless one of the skippers again asks for a 24 hour postponement.

RAIN POSTPONES PRESIDENT'S CUP RACES TO TODAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A steady rain that churned up the Potomac and lessened visibility today forced a postponement of the opening program of the President's cup regatta until tomorrow.

The racing craft with their skippers were in the Georgetown channel of the river awaiting the decision of the regatta committee when the announcement was made. Despite bad weather, scores of spectators in automobiles lined the banks of the river.

Today's original program, which featured the first heat of the President's gold cup race, was put over until tomorrow and the second day's races to Sunday.

Toledo, O., Sept. 21.—[Special.—The Waite High school eleven dedicated its new stadium tonight by defeating Mooseheart, 6 to 3. Waite won in the last few seconds when Red Snider grabbed a pass and ran from midfield for a touchdown. Mooseheart's score came late in the second quarter on Simons' drop-kick.

O'Dea Proves Identity with Answers to Questionnaire

Madison, Wis., Sept. 21.—Special.]—The Wisconsin State Journal, in a copyright story today, said all doubt had been removed concerning the identity of Pat O'Dea, full back at the University of Wisconsin in 1897, '98, and '99, who disappeared twenty years ago.

The declaration was based on answers to a detailed questionnaire wired to "Charles J. Mitchell" at Westwood, Cal., who revealed several days ago he was the former Badger football star.

Teammates and college associates of O'Dea, whose heroic deeds of 35 years ago remain undimmed after the Granges, the Eckersalls, the Thorpes, and the Hestons, were convinced beyond a doubt, on the basis of answers to the questionnaire, that "Mitchell" really is the famous Badger punter and drop kicker, who it was believed had been killed in the world war.

He Adds Extra Details.

It had been legendary on the Wisconsin campus for fifteen years that O'Dea joined an Anzac regiment in California, en route to France, and that he had died in action—an unknown soldier.

In the questionnaire O'Dea not only answered the questions correctly, but in several cases elaborated with surprising accuracy on events of more than three decades ago.

He mentioned a dozen old friends in Madison, supplying details as to their occupations after graduation. The reply was signed Pat O'Dea.

Henry J. McCormick, sports editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, and Earl S. [Slam] Anderson, Stoughton, Wis., a teammate of O'Dea, said the questions they sent O'Dea could not have been answered as accurately as they were had "Mitchell" been an impostor.

He Remembers Everything.

The questions and answers follow:

Q.—Who called signals? A.—Pat O'Dea called signals in 1898 and 1899; Slam Anderson called signals in post-season game with Chicago.

Q.—Who was Slam Anderson? A.—Slam Anderson played end; he and I were the only old men left over from the 1897 team to start the 1898 season. I was captain in 1898 by arrangement with Slam before the season opened.

Q.—Where did you live in Madison. A.—I lived at "Senator" Borchensius' house on corner of campus opposite gym.

Q.—What do you remember of the night before the Yale game? A.—We trained at Hartford for Yale game. The night before the Yale game I saw Belle Archer in "A Contented Woman."

Q.—When is your birthday. A.—March 17.

By coincidence O'Dea's and Anderson's birthdays are on St. Patrick's day. It was this answer which further assured Anderson of the identity of his former Badger teammate.

Richards Is Convinced.

A wire was dispatched to John R. Richards at Los Angeles, Cal., former Wisconsin football coach, and another fraternity brother of O'Dea. Richards wired last night that "Pictures in San Francisco papers and published interviews make me think it is Pat O'Dea."

A movement was under way here today to bring O'Dea back to Camp Randall for the homecoming game with Illinois Nov. 17.

OUT OF THE PAST

In the WAKE of the NEWS

AFTERMATH.

THE greatest wrestling match since the Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout at Comiskey park on Labor day, 1911, now is history. By comparison the Londos-Lewis fray at Wrigley field Thursday night became THE greatest match in mat annals. It surpassed that affair of over two decades ago in attendance, gate money, and as a contest. It left no aftermath from patrons that they had been gypped as did the former promotion.

Gotch and Hackenschmidt met before 25,000 spectators, compared to 35,265; gate receipts were $86,000, with $7,000 additional revenue from a tobacco advertising sign within the park, compared to the present $96,302. The former bout, best two of three falls, ended in fifteen minutes, with Hack, the "Russian Lion," ever quailing in fear of Gotch's toe hold. After the first fall Hack refused to return for another, claiming injury.

Aftermath revealed that Hackenschmidt injured his leg in training, but kept the fact quiet through secret workouts. To his credit, he wished to cancel the engagement and return to England, but was prevailed upon to remain. He entered the arena wearing full length tights, under which his knee was bandaged. Gotch either knew in advance about the knee or felt the bandages, for all his efforts were directed to obtaining his then favorite toe hold. When once he applied it securely Hack, after writhing in pain a few seconds, finally rolled over.

Londos and Lewis appeared evenly matched in the first part of their encounter. In fact, Lewis had the shade at the start for his aggressiveness. But Londos was breaking the Lewis headlock as it had not been broken when Lewis was in his prime. Most significant, he was not weakening under it, while Lewis perhaps was sapping his own energy by his efforts. Just as many of us were beginning to think the contest might last the scheduled ninety minutes to a decision Londos took the offensive. Soon thereafter came the fall.

As The Wake had suggested in advance, the title bout was not filled with as good showmanship as the "exhibition" preceding between McMillen and George. It looked like an honest-to-goodness effort, with the will to win as soon as possible under cautious tactics. We did not find among the mat experts and notables present a single one who questioned its sincerity. That ought to be a source of satisfaction to Promoter Arch Ward.

We also made it a point to converse with spectators filing to the exits. Without exception they were satisfied with what they saw. Most had enjoyed the wrestling more than the boxing, although Rodak and Rightmire elicited praise. That was proper, for it was primarily a wrestling show with a title at stake. Boxing was an added attraction to insure giving fans their money's worth in case quick falls resulted on the mat.

The Wake had no part in the multitude of details and precautions for conducting such an important event. Therefore we can with propriety congratulate our own department and its sports editor for putting on a show which exceeded even our own sanguine expectations in attendance, gate receipts, and ringside interest.

EAST-WEST POLO SERIES WILL BE RESUMED TODAY

Lineup of Westerners Will Be Shifted.

New York, Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The east and west meet again on the polo field at the Meadow Brook club in Westbury tomorrow afternoon to decide this time whether the west will yield the sectional championship of the country, won last year at Chicago, or gain another chance to retain its laurels.

The young eastern team put the question directly to the western riders on Wednesday when, in a wild seventh period, it came from behind to take the opening game of the East-West series. Tomorrow, in the second game the West tries with a rearranged lineup to stop the surprising strength of the East squad. Another victory for the East will end the series, while a Western victory would send the series to a third game.

West Tries New Lineup.

From the position of 2 to 1 favorite which it held before the start of the series, the West now finds itself on the defensive with general opinion that the odds are at least even tomorrow and, in some quarters, in favor of the East.

This morning the West went out on Mitchell field and tried out a new lineup. Eric Pedley stayed at No. 1, but Elmer Boeseke Jr., went from No. 2 to back, Aidan Roark shifted from back to No. 3 and Cecil Smith went from No. 3 to No. 2. In this new formation, the West pulled ahead of a team consisting of Seymour Knox, Stephen Sanford, Tom Mather, and Ray Guest to win in eight periods of five minutes duration at 11 to 6.

The new team moved quite smoothly through the game and gave the impression of being a bit more of an offensive organization than in its old order. But the game nearly proved costly when Pedley fell twice, in the second and the eighth periods. The first fall was fairly easy, but the second was a hard one, though he was clear of the ponies on both occasions.

Determined to prevent stiffness, Pedley went out again late this afternoon for stick and ball work.

Expect New Lineup.

No official statement was made on the West's lineup tonight by Carleton Burke, but it was generally agreed that it would start the game in the above fashion. There had been some suggestion that Boeseke might go up to No. 1 and Pedley to No. 3. There is still the chance that the West will try the latter combination, or that this change may be made during the game if the other method doesn't produce results.

The East had no team practice today, though all the members were up for riding and hitting practice and all reported in excellent shape.

| WEST. | | EAST. |
|---|---|---|
| Eric L. Pedley | No. 1 | Michael G. Phipps |
| Cecil Smith | No. 2 | James P. Mills |
| Aidan Roark | No. 3 | W. F. C. Guest |
| Elmer J. Boeseke | Back | William Post II. |

Referee—Maj. Louis A. Beard. Umpires—Capt. W. J. White and Malcolm Stevenson.

JOE BOLAND, Notre Dame line coach, was graduated with high honors in domestic commerce after winning two $100 prizes for having the best scholastic standing among monogram men. . . . A South Bend newspaper printed it "domestic science" and Joe is getting the rib from the athletic department office force, the most irritating one being a faked letter from St. Mary's, a nearby school for girls, asking for his services as an instructor. . . . June and Cherry Preisser, the young ladies whose dancing feet feature the Ziegfeld Follies, now running in the loop, are not the only stars in their family. . . . Their older brother, Fred, is an end on Tulane's football team, and another brother, Sam, is a guard on the Loyola eleven of New Orleans. . . . Don Christiansen, Maine Township High school's all around athlete, has matriculated at Illinois. . . . He is living at the Delta Sigma Phi house. . . . The Cubs won 104 games in 1909 and were nosed out by the Pirates. . . . They won 104 again in 1910, but this time finished in first place. . . . What the Athletics did to them in the world series is another story. . . .

Seven former Marquette football players will be on the field tomorrow when the Bears play the Packers at Green Bay. . . . Three are former captains. . . . Earl Averill of the Indians has a bonus contract calling for $1,000 if he hits 25 home runs and $400 for every one over 25. . . . Harold S. Vanderbilt and T. O. M. Sopwith are the first owner-skippers to meet in an America's Cup series. . . . We don't like to scare little children, but in the interest of accuracy we must report Marquette has a Frankenstein on its football squad. . . . Cecil Smith, the polo player, is a graduate of Oxford. . . . It's a country school in Llano county, Texas. . . . Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stagg drove from Chicago to Stockton, Cal., recently in four days without riding after dark. . . . And they call him an old man. . . . Los Angeles is hopeful of landing the national open golf tournament in 1936. . . . Art Lasky, contender for the heavyweight boxing championship, is an expert photographer. . . .

Edsel Ford is one of Hank Greenberg's rooters. . . . Eddie Becker, letter winner at tackle on Wisconsin's 1933 eleven and a quarter back this year, is a licensed aviation pilot. . . . Each of the four umpires who works the world's series receives $2,500. . . . The Illinois class of 1924 will celebrate its tenth and first real reunion in Urbana the night of the Ohio State game. . . . Wallie Roettger, Jim McMillen, Bunny Oakes, and at least a thousand bond and insurance salesmen will help to make the affair interesting. . . . It cost $70,000 to feed the horses stabled at Narragansett during the recent meeting. . . . Oscar Rankin, a red haired Negro of Los Angeles, who recently whipped Gorilla Jones, is managed by two Jewish brothers, Claude and Morris Greenstine. . . . They have guaranteed Teddy Yarosz, new middleweight champion, $5,000 to fight their man in an overweight match in Los Angeles. . . .

The Giants have a good pitching prospect in Pretzel Pezzullo, southpaw from the Nashville Southern association club. . . . He throws the ball from the vicinity of his hip pocket, and batters claim they can't follow its course. . . . A committee of former newspaper men is attempting to organize a fund to care for broken down athletes. . . . George Getz has been asked to serve as chairman. . . . As closely as we can estimate this would make the 1,120th committee to which Mr. Getz belonged if he accepts. . . . While hundreds of friends were trying to locate Jack Dempsey Thursday afternoon he was taking a snooze in his hotel quarters. . . . He traveled all night without sleep to keep his appointment at the charity sports show Thursday evening. . . . Matt Ruppert, the softball pitcher, will marry Miss Violette Hauer Monday.

Kennedy Puts Fiermonte to Sleep in the 4th Round

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The ring comeback of Enzo Fiermonte, estranged husband of Mrs. Madeline Force Astor Dick, met with a rebuff tonight when Les Kennedy, Long Beach heavyweight veteran, knocked him out in the fourth round.

Duquesne Football Team Beats Waynesburg, 39 to 0

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Duquesne tonight scored a 39 to 0 football victory over Waynesburg. Ed Zaneski recovered after a teammate fumbled and ran 91 yards with the opening kickoff.

Dizzy May Yet Be Known as Paul's Brother

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—There is a distinct possibility that the eminent Jerome Herman Dean may one day be known as Paul Dean's brother. Even the great Dizzy admitted that today after his brother had pitched a no hit game against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"You know, he's faster than I am," said Dizzy. "If he only had my change of pace, they'd never touch him. The only thing that makes me mad is that I didn't know I hadn't given them any hits in the first seven innings of the first game. I should have known that. Then I'd have really breezed 'em in there and we'd both have had a no-hitter."

Dizzy Keeps a Promise.

"I never thought I'd feel better than I did a week ago yesterday, when I shut out the Giants, 2 to 0," beamed Paul after the game, "but I guess I feel even better now."

"The thing that makes me glad," chimed Dizzy, "is that I told 'em we'd win 45 games this year, and today we did it. I didn't say how, though."

The boy who caught Paul's other no-hitter, Frank Healey, sat on the bench today. And the boy who was behind the plate today, fair-haired Bill Delancey, was also a team mate of Paul's in Columbus last year.

Frisch Is Jubilant.

Frankie Frisch, Cardinal manager, was jubilant, as he hurried away to catch a train for Cincinnati. "We may catch those Giants yet," he said.

Although Paul usually lets Brother Dizzy do all the talking, he confided that he's anxious for the year to end. There's a girl back in Columbus named Betty Holt who seems to interest him. He guesses maybe he'll go back to Columbus on his way to Texas.

LAFFOON CARDS 68; LEADS FIELD IN EASTERN OPEN

Wayland, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Ky Laffoon, Denver, shot a record breaking 68, four under par, to lead a field of 125 starters in the first round of the Eastern Open golf tournament at the Sandy Burr Country club today.

The westerner's brilliant performance included five birdies. He missed par only on the 190 yard 10th, where he went over the green and carded four. He had a 34 on each nine holes.

Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., National P. G. A. champion and defending titleholder in the current tournament; Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., and Jerry Gianferante, East Lexington, Mass., finished the first 18 holes tied for second place with 70.

High School Boy Pitches No Hit Game, but Loses

Lowden, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—R. Gottschalk, Lowden High school pitcher, hurled a no hit game against Bennet High school here yesterday, but errors defeated him, 3 to 2.

DIZZY GOES 7 INNINGS BEFORE YIELDING SINGLE

Brooklyn Is Beaten, 13-0 and 3-0.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The sensational careers of the eccentric Dean brothers reached a climax today when Paul, 20 year old junior member of the St. Louis Cardinals one-family pitching staf, achieved a no hit 3 to 0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers shortly after Dizzy Dean had narrowly missed a similar accomplishment in the first game of the double-header.

Paul's triumph, which was prevented from going into the records as the seventh perfect game in the history of major league baseball because of a walk to Len Koenecke, the third batter in the first inning, was the first no hit-no run contest pitched in the major league since 1931, when Wes Ferrell of Cleveland and Bob Burke of Washington, turned the trick. It was the first game of this description recorded in the National league since Carl Hubbell beat Pittsburgh in 1929.

Gain on Giants.

Dizzy, older member of the family that has brought to baseball its most interesting performers since the turbulent days of Rube Waddell, held the Dodgers hitless until the eighth inning of the first game. Then Ralph Boyle beat out a slow roller for Brooklyn's first hit and Dizzy eased up in the ninth to the extent of allowing Sam Leslie and Joe Stripp singles. The Cardinals won this game, 13 to 0. The double triumph enabled them to cut half a game from the New York Giants league lead and put them three games behind the champions.

One hundred and ten pitchers have received credit for no hit games since Joseph E. Borden first accomplished the feat in 1875, but only a few have come as close to perfection as Paul Dean today. The walk to Koenecke was all that prevented Paul from taking his place along side John Lee Richmond, John Montgomery Ward, Denton T. Young, Adrain C. Joss, Ernest Shore, and Charley Robertson.

The younger Dean's feat was made all the more remarkable because it was achieved in his first year as a major leaguer. It was not, however, Dean's first no hit, no run game. In 1932 he held Kansas City hitless while pitching for Columbus of the American Association.

Win 45 Together.

The double triumph of the Deans, two of baseball's greatest pitchers, who began the season with a combined salary of $10,500, raised their total of victories for the year to 45, more than half of the 88 games the Cardinals have won to remain in the fight for the National league pennant. Of this total Dizzy has won 27, making the first time in the history of the St. Louis National league team that a Cardinal pitcher has won more than 26 games. Paul has won 18 games.

Aside from their pitching, the Dean brothers find their way into news columns more readily than any ball players since Babe Ruth first began setting home run records. Dizzy is the chief perpetrator of the eccentric conduct that has made the name Dean a byword in the major leagues. Paul's silent assent and dogged loyalty to his brother Dizzy has earned him the name Daffy.

Early this year Dizzy began breaking out of the box scores by demanding a release on the ground that his contract with the Cardinals was invalid. Later in the east he announced a one man strike in protest against the $3,000 salary the Cardinals were paying brother Paul.

The strike started at Pittsburgh when Dizzy reported he had a sore arm, but that he would not pitch until some adjustment had been made in Paul's favor. He was not concerned over his own salary, $7,500, as against the five figure contracts of some other well known but not as consistently successful pitchers.

Paul Gets a Raise.

The strike was ended when Brother Paul was given a raise said to have been $2,000. The Deans went along quietly, winning regularly, particularly against the Giants, until the Cardinals were sent to Detroit for an exhibition game against the Tigers. The

GLEN VIEW TO HOLD TWA DAYS' TOURNEY TODAY

Record Field of Golfers Is Expected to Play.

Glen View's 26th annual Twa Days' tournament, one of the oldest invitational golf events in the Chicago district, will be held today. A record field is expected to compete. Jock Hutchison, the club's veteran professional, will present the prize collection, which numbers 24 trophies. The list of awards is headed by the Auchtermuchty, the Laigh and Lang, the Clamihewit, and the Caringorm. The Laigh and Lang trophy will go to the low gross scorer for 18 holes, and the Auchtermuchty will go to the player having low net.

Lawson Little, San Francisco, American and British amateur champion, and Johnny Goodman, Omaha, winner of last year's United States open, will meet Tommy Armour, Medinah, Canadian open champion, and Harry Cooper, Glen Oak, western open titleholder, tomorrow in an 18 hole exhibition match at the Indian Hill club in Winnetka. Proceeds of the match will be turned over to the caddy scholarship fund of the Western Golf association, which is sponsoring the match. Tickets are $1. The match will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Another of the district's best known invitational tournaments will take place next Thursday and Friday when the Oak Park Country club holds its annual Auchtermuchty event.

The next one day handicap of the Chicago District Golf association will be held Thursday at the Brookwood Country club. This will be the thirteenth of a series which began at Ridgemoor May 8. The final will be played at Park Ridge Oct. 3.

The C. D. G. A. will conduct its second annual Champion of Champions event at Bunker Hill a week from tomorrow. This tournament, inaugurated last year, brings together the champions of each member club in the association.

The Illinois Senior's Golf association and the Illinois P. G. A. will collaborate on a unique event Oct. 1 over the No. 4 course at Olympia Fields. Seniors and pros will be paired in two ball foursomes, with selective drives and alternate shots.

Yachtsmen to Try for Clark Trophy Today

The yachting season's last big open regatta takes place today, starting at 2 p. m., off Belmont harbor. It is the annual renewal of the Sheldon Clark trophy fall regatta, sponsored by the Chicago Yacht club and the associated clubs of the Lake Michigan Yachting association.

Sailing craft of all classes will be in competition. The two main types are to be the universal racing and cruising division. Class Q, R, and S [Eagle] sloops will make up the universal fleet which regularly races each week-end in Chicago waters.

Sail Over 13 Mile Course.

Pup and Star class also will compete. A, B, and C cruising windjammers of all sizes are entered to race. The universal and cruising divisions compete for the time prizes.

All contestants are to sail over a special 13 mile course. This will take them from the starting line off the harbor entrance to the Rogers Park gas buoy and back.

Permanent Trophy at Stake.

Prominent Chicago yachtsmen formed a syndicate several years ago for the purpose of establishing a perpetual trophy. This was in appreciation of Clark's work as head of the Chicago Yacht club. Ever since, the annual fall regatta of the club has been thrown open to all yacht clubs on the lake, and known as the Sheldon Clark regatta. Clark is a director of the Chicago Yacht club and vice commodore of the Yachtsmen's Association of America.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SCHEDULES GAME AT LAKE FOREST

Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Coach Larue Van Meter of Illinois college today announced the signing of a game at Lake Forest college on Nov. 10. The Illinois college schedule now consists of seven games.

Illinois college has a large number of veterans available this fall, but most of them were not regulars last year. Included in the list are Feduris, Munger, Barenfanger, linemen, and Spuhr, Watts, Mann, and Paccotti, backs.

EDDIE EDENBURN, MOTOR RACING OFFICIAL, DIES

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—W. D. [Eddie] Edenburn, 50 years old, an official of the annual 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway and at the Harmsworth speedboat races here, died today of uremic poisoning after an illness of three days.

Edenburn is survived by his widow, Irene Alma, whom he married in Indianapolis in 1912. Funeral services will be held in Detroit Sunday and burial will be in Indianapolis Monday.

Lutheran Nines Resume Title Games Tomorrow

North and south side senior and junior champions in the Evangelical Lutheran A. A. Baseball league will clash tomorrow at American Giants' park, 39th street and Wentworth avenue, in the second of their three game title series.

St. Paul of Mount Prospect, representing the north and winner of the first game, will seek to clinch the junior crown against Holy Cross of the south at 1 o'clock. St. Paul of Dolton, of the south side, will play St. John of Mayfair in the senior game at 3 o'clock.

Maine High school, Des Plaines, defeated Elgin's football team, 13 to 0, on the latter's field last night. Rapp, veteran Maine full back, scored both of his team's touchdowns, the first in the second period on a 13 yard run, and the other in the third quarter after a dash of 10 yards.

Elgin threatened twice in the third period, reaching the Maine 10 yard line once, and then going to the 5 yard line. The strong Maine line held each time. Neal, left half back, kicked the extra point after Rapp's first touchdown.

Thornton of Harvey scored in the second and third quarters to defeat Joliet, 20 to 9, at Harvey. Kleckner Hellman and Pinger scored for Thornton, while Moroni, full back, counted Joliet's only touchdown in the first period on a 2 yard plunge.

Three thousand watched Glenbard triumph over Wheaton, 13 to 0, in another game on last night's schedule. Glenbard scored in the first quarter when McLeod caught a 20 yard pass from Bliss and raced 20 yards to the goal. In the third period Bliss plunged over from the 1 yard line for the second touchdown.

LA PORTE AND RILEY ELEVENS OPEN TITLE RACE

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Riley High school of South Bend and Laporte will open the eastern division football race in the northern Indiana high school conference here tomorrow night.

The Riley-Laporte game will be the third game of the day here. Mishawaka will open its home season against Plymouth and St. Hedwige will play its first game at home against Catholic Central of Fort Wayne in the afternoon.

Other high school games scheduled for northern Indiana teams include: Loyola Academy of Chicago at Michigan City, Wallace of Gary at Hobart, and Hammond Technical against Roosevelt at East Chicago.

Jadick and Jones Box 10 Round Draw

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Johnny Jadick, 139, Philadelphia, and Bucky Jones, 144, Morristown, N. J., battled ten rounds to a draw tonight in the windup bout of a boxing show here.

TALABER FACES MALKOV.

Lou Talaber and Zack Malkov will meet in one of the feature bouts on Mique Malloy's wrestling card at White City arena Tuesday night.

National Hocky League to Hold Meeting Today

Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Blackhawks, world hocky champions, left yesterday for New York to attend today's meeting of the directors of the National Hocky league. This session is expected to have an important bearing on the careers of the Hawks and the Boston Bruins, both of which have been experiencing difficulty in finding a rink for themselves.

Schedules for the league also are expected to be arranged, a job which will call for some new arithmetic, since the Ottawa franchise this year has been transferred to St. Louis.

Maj. McLaughlin and the new management which will take over the Chicago Stadium next month have not come to an agreement on a lease as yet. The management is willing to renew the Hawk lease, but Maj. McLaughlin is aiming for a reduction in the percentage arrangement in use the last two years. The Bruins are having similar difficulties with those in control of Boston's Madison Square Garden.

What new player deals will result from today's meeting remain to be seen. The Montreal Maroons are reported to have made a bid for Lionel Conacher, Blackhawk defense star. The Chicago officials say they will take nothing less than Jimmy Ward and Baldy Northcott in return, so that particular trade is unlikely.

The Hawks will go into the season without the services of Chuck Gardner, the Vezina trophy goalie who died this spring. Joe Starke, his understudy for a couple of seasons, will start in the Hawk cage, but the Chicago team still is open to suggestions for another doorman. One of these might be Lorne Chabot, who the Canadiens will replace with Wilf Cude or Dave Kerr of the Maroons.

VAN RYN WINS FROM SHIELDS IN PACIFIC TENNIS

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, defeated Francis X. Shields, the nation's ranking player, in a quarter-final match of the Pacific southwest tennis tournament today, 7-5, 6-2, 12-10.

In another quarter-final meeting, Donald Budge, Oakland, was forced to five sets before he eliminated Jess Millman, University of Southern California player who upset Wilmer Allison. The scores were 9-7, 1-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Two British women stars lost in the women's singles play in today's quarter-final matches. Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, turned in an easy victory over Freda James, England, 6-0, 6-4, and Mrs. Ethel Arnold, Los Angeles, defeated Betty Nuthall, England, 6-2, 8-6.

MAY GO INTO MOVIES.

Culver City, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Francis X. Shields, New York, ranking tennis star of America, is being considered by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio for a featured part in pictures, studio officials said today. Shields, who has a good voice, will be given a screen test tomorrow, it was said.

If Shields is given a movie contract his amateur tennis standing would not be affected, as parts contemplated for him would have nothing to do with tennis.

VETERAN DRIVERS RACE TOMORROW AT ROBY TRACK

A field of veteran drivers will take part in the program of stock car racing tomorrow afternoon at the Roby-Chicago speedway.

Drivers entered are Emil Johnson, Gary, Ind.; L. L. Whitaker, Hammond; Slim Roberts, Whiting, Ind.; Gail Lower, Fort Wayne, and Johnny Wilson, Chicago.

Jimmy Schneider, Indianapolis, will drive a new racer when he meets Ted Tetterton, North Chicago in the special match race heading the Evanston Motor speedway program tomorrow afternoon. Schneider's new car is a V-8 powered creation, designed by Lou Madis, Chicago builder. The match with Tetterton will be at 5 laps.

KENNEDY TO WRESTLE.

Jack Kennedy and Alex Kasaboski will meet in the 90 minute wrestling match at the Marigold Gardens Wednesday night.

Big Elevens to Take on Little Fellows Today

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Big fellows will start knocking over the little ones, or vice versa, on half a hundred gridirons from coast to coast and border to border tomorrow.

Although most major schools of the east, midwest, and south will wait another week or two before swinging into action, an interesting program is carded for football fans of the southwest and Pacific coast.

Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, and Oregon State each take on two opponents out on the coast, while Stanford, Oregon, and Washington State content themselves with one.

U. S. C. Plays Two Teams.

U. S. C. meets Occidental and Whittier, beaten last year 39-0 and 51-0, respectively. Stanford will tackle San José State; Oregon State has scheduled Willamette, and Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg's Pacific youngsters; Oregon hopes for more than last year's 14-0 victory over Gonzaga, and Washington State plays Whitman college at Pullman.

In the southwest Southern Methodist meets North Texas Teachers, Texas university plays Texas Tech, and Texas A. and M. meets the Sam Houston Teachers. S. M. U. is all primed to avenge the 7-0 surprise defeat the Teachers handed the Mustangs last year.

Interest in the east centers chiefly in the Holy Cross-St. Anselm battle at Worcester; the West Virginia-West Virginia Wesleyan game at Morgantown, and the Manhattan-St. Bonaventure night contest at Brooklyn.

Loyola Faces Rice.

In the south the feature battle is at New Orleans between Loyola of the South and Rice, from the Southwest conference. Rice won last year, 13-0.

Leaders of the Southeastern conference and most of the Southern conference schools are idle. Exceptions are Washington and Lee, which plays Wofford; Virginia Poly, which takes on Roanoke, and Kentucky, which meets Marysville.

Only one game is scheduled in the Rocky mountain region. Montana State, which took a 25-0 beating last year, again will play Brigham Young at Great Falls.

NEW MEN TO AID WONDERBOLTS AGAINST KLADNO

Five new players, Bob Thompson, Chick Rebello, Scotty Nilsen, Bill Watson, and Hughie Hill, are expected to strengthen the Wieboldt Wonderbolts for their game tomorrow afternoon at Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue, with the Kladno squad from Czechoslovakia.

The visitors have a powerful team, but Manager Billy Alexander of the Wonderbolts is confident the new players, plus the mainstays of last year's team, will prove equal to meeting the drives of the Czechoslovakians.

WEIGHT FAVORS INDIANA HARBOR AGAINST TIGERS

The Chicago Tigers will go to East Chicago tomorrow afternoon to meet the Indiana Harbor Gophers on the Roosevelt High school field, 141st street and Indianapolis boulevard at 2:30.

The Gophers will have a weight advantage but the south siders, made up largely of former Loyola and De Paul university men, hope to offset this with speed.

All players on both clubs formerly played college football.

DAVIDSON AND DR. PAULY MEET FOR NET TITLE

Max Davidson and Dr. Mike Pauly will play this afternoon for the Tuley park tennis championship. Davidson, holder of the Western conference title, won the Jackson park and Hamilton park tournaments during the summer.

First round matches in the Tuley park mixed doubles tournament also will be played this afternoon. Entries will be accepted at the courts, 89th street and South Park avenue.

Celebron Faces Miller Monday in Marigold Ring

Three shows scheduled next week were arranged yesterday. Six matches will comprise the card at Marigold Gardens, and the program at White City will be composed of five bouts. Both of these shows will be held Monday. There will be five fights at Arcadia Gardens Wednesday.

Billy Celebron, Rockford, Ill., welterweight, will face Billy Miller, Milwaukee, Wis., at eight rounds at Marigold. Supporting matches:

Frank Mirabal vs. Freddy Gravelle [6], 127.
Willie Dudiak vs. Sammy Guidara [4], 121.
Bud Ginter vs. Young Kid Chocolate [4], 126.
Tony Mandell vs. Cy Babbler [4], 149.
Al Williams vs. Ralph Garibaldi [wrestling].

Johnny Stanton, Minneapolis, Minn., lightweight, who Thursday defeated Geno Salvatore, spoiling the latter's undefeated record, and Joey Kleko will battle in the eight round windup at White City. Jimmy Christy, Catholic Youth organization featherweight, will oppose Johnny Fitzpatrick in the five round semi-windup. Four rounders will match Eddie Jackson with Louis Nassef, Jim Cool with Jack Robinson, and Billy Brown with Georgie Trapp.

The card at Arcadia Gardens will be headed by the 10 round fight between Adolph Wiater, Green Bay, Wis., and Joe Louis, Detroit, Mich. Battling Gizzy is paired with Joey Esposito, C. Y. O. lightweight, in an eight round bout. Lenny Cohen faces Jimmy Eliopoulos, and Mickey Beal will clash with Augie Mandell in six round battles. The four round curtain raiser will bring together Frank White and Young Joe Gans at 150 pounds.

Barney Ross, lightweight and junior welterweight champion, will rest for at least five weeks before going into training for one or two more matches before the end of the year. . . . He will do no more fighting in New York this year, chiefly because of the state income tax law which, he contends, would be so large after another contest there that it is more convenient to remain idle. . . . Art Sykes, Elmira, N. Y., heavyweight, will entrain today for a week's visit to his home. . . . Boxing and wrestling matches are being arranged for Mayfair Casino Wednesday. . . . Everett [Young] Rightmire, Sioux City, Ia., will take a vacation for two weeks.

Postponement of the Davey Day-Frank Sigilio return contest, scheduled at the Stadium Oct. 5, to the latter part of the month may allow Sigilio to meet Battling Gizzy probably at the Coliseum or Cicero stadium. . . . Bobby Matthews, Paducah, Ky., middleweight, was in town yesterday. . . . Tony Herrera, El Paso, Tex., junior welterweight, has come back from Tomahawk, Wis., to begin drills for a bout with Fritz Zivic at Pittsburgh.

King Levinsky, north side 213 pounder, will head for Milwaukee, Wis., Monday to finish workouts there for a 10 round meeting with Salvatore Ruggirello Friday. . . . Johnny Phagan, west side 160 pound fighter, has started workouts at Trafton's gymnasium for his eight round supporting match against George Black. . . . Mrs. Henry Rothier, wife of the welterweight boxer, will leave Louis Memorial hospital Monday, where a week ago she gave birth to a 6½ pound daughter.

Chairman Joe Triner of the state athletic commission will depart for New Orleans, La., today to attend the annual drug convention which convenes Monday. . . . Davey White will box Tommy Corbett, and Benny Duke will spar with Gary Baldwin in conjunction with the wrestling show at Ashland arena Monday. . . . Eddie Ward, former Golden Gloves lightweight champion, sparred three rounds yesterday with Barney Peterson, who will appear on Earl Mastro's amateur card Monday at Community Recreation center. F. M.

Hunters! Read Up on State, Federal Laws

BY BOB BECKER.

With hunting seasons opening or about to open in many states every hunter should inform himself on both his state and federal hunting laws and regulations. Many changes have been made in both. According to the American Game association this year, more than ever before, a hunter must be well informed on the regulations, not only because there are so many changes, but also because there will be more federal wardens in the field than in any previous year. Moreover, the federal and state authorities are coöperating more closely than ever before due to the fact that the emphasis this season is on the conservation of ducks due to the heavy loss of bird life caused by the drouth.

Here are some of the general principles of law that obtain either in every state where the law is federal or in nearly every state where the law is local.

Observe These Regulations.

It is against the law to:

Hunt without a license.

Hunt from a power boat, automobile, or airplane.

Hunt on any posted land without permission.

Hunt waterfowl with any gun larger than a .10 gauge.

Hunt waterfowl without a federal hunting stamp or duck stamp. [Mudhen shooters do not need this stamp].

Sell wild game dead or alive.

Kill ducks resting on water.

Kill more than 12 wild ducks in a day.

Eastern conservation organizations are again sending out an appeal to sportsmen to use retrievers this fall, a conservation measure first broadcast by this department and the Izaak Walton league more than four years ago. It is pointed out that at least a third of game shot [actually it is about one-half] is usually lost without a good dog.

Hatch Reduced This Year.

This year, more than ever before, sportsmen must keep in mind this conservation measure. Waterfowl flocks are coming down from the north after another year of a losing fight against the drouth which has reduced the hatch of birds. The mallards and pintails haven't suffered as much as other species. In fact, we have wondered why the Survey did not close the season altogether on red-head ducks whose numbers are at a dangerously low state.

WOMEN TO START DAILY FEE GOLF TOURNEY MONDAY

The third annual women's championship of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association will open Monday at the Mid-City course, Grace street and Western avenue. The event is open to all women players, regardless of club affiliations. Entrants will be charged a daily greens fee of 75 cents, but no entry fee. Entries may be made at the tee, or with W. B. Langford, 2405 Grace street.

Monday will be devoted to a qualifying round of 18 holes at medal play. Match play will open Tuesday, with the losers in that round and also in the second round Wednesday meeting in consolation brackets. All entrants are sure of at least three rounds of match play. Quarter-finals in all flights will be played Thursday, semi-finals Friday, and the final Saturday. The latter will be at 36 holes.

25 BEARS INVADE GREEN BAY FOR LEAGUE OPENER

Feathers Only New Man to Start Tomorrow.

A squad of 25 Bears will leave for Green Bay at 6:05 o'clock this evening over the Milwaukee road for their opening game in the National Football league with the Packers tomorrow afternoon.

At the conclusion of the drills yesterday Coach George Halas named the following to make the trip that will open the Bears' title defense:

Bronko Nagurski, Keith Molesworth, George Corbett, Gene Ronzani, John Sisk, Carl Brumbaugh, Jack Manders, Red Grange, Art Buss, Link Lyman, George Musso, Joe Zeller, Beattie Feathers, Al Kawal, Zuck Carlson, Wayland Becker, Bill Karr, Luke Johnsos, Walt Kiesling, Bert Pearson, Joe Kopcha, Bill Hewitt, Ookie Miller, Bernie Masterson, and Ted Rosequist.

Feathers to Start.

Of the new men in the league only one was named in the prospective starting lineup by Halas—Beattie Feathers, the half back from the University of Tennessee. He will open at left half.

Walt Kiesling, a veteran postgraduate linesman who came to the Bears from the Cardinals this season, was named at left guard.

The return of Bill Karr to condition was a cheerful note at the Bear headquarters. Bill will be at right end.

Four New Packers Play.

Coach Curly Lambeau of Green Bay indicated he will start four new candidates who played in the league opener with Philadelphia last week. Green Bay won, 19 to 6.

Halas announced the sale of Dick Davis, Temple university tackle, to Cincinanti yesterday.

Elmhurst College to Play 7 Game Schedule

The Elmhurst college football schedule consists of seven games, four of which are Little Nineteen conference contests. The schedule:

Sept. 29, Morton at Elmhurst; Oct. 13, Elmhurst at St. Joseph's; Oct. 20, Aurora at Elmhurst; Oct. 27, Elmhurst at Wheaton; Nov. 3, North Central at Elmhurst; Nov. 10, De Kalb at Elmhurst; Nov. 17, St. Viator at Elmhurst.

Cardinals to Leave Today for Dayton

The Chicago Cardinals squad, thirty-five strong, including players, coaches, managers, and doctors, will depart this morning for Dayton, O., where they open the National Pro Football league season against Cincinnati tomorrow.

With all the regulars in good shape Coach Paul Schissler feels that his newly organized squad of recent college stars will have an easy time against the Buckeye team. The league game was transferred from here to Dayton because the big league baseball parks were not available until after the close of the baseball season.

The Cardinals' opening lineup follows: Creighton, left end; Field, left tackle; Volok, left guard; McNally, center, Handler, right guard; Gordon, right tackle; Duggins, right end; Pardonner, quarter back; Cook, right half; Russell, left half; Mikulak, full back.

Homer Griffith, former Southern California star, will be pressed into action in the game, as will Frank Greene, the 200 pound Tulsa quarter back, who has been alternating with Paul Pardonner, the ex-Purdue ace.

LONDOS PLANS MONTH'S REST IN CALIFORNIA

Lewis Also to Take Trip West.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jim Londos and Ed [Strangler] Lewis, who met in the featured event of THE TRIBUNE'S sports show at Wrigley field Thursday night before the largest crowd ever to witness a wrestling contest in this country, yesterday prepared to go their separate ways, although each has the same destination—southern California.

Immediately after the successful defense of his championship, in which he pinned the Strangler in 49 minutes and 27 seconds with a hammerlock, Londos was kidnaped by a band of Greek friends, who were still entertaining him yesterday. Lewis spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Friedrich of Nekoosa, Wis., who attended the match Thursday night. The Strangler will remain here for four or five days before going to Los Angeles, there to look after business interests which include a hotel and a chain of restaurants.

Will Rest for Month.

Londos also will stay in Chicago for another three days before entraining for southern California, according to his manager, Ed White. White stated the champion will spend a month resting, and that it will probably be the first part of November before he goes to work again.

The only serious contender on the wrestling horizon whom Jim has not leveled is Don George, the former University of Michigan captain. The two met in Boston five weeks ago, and after each had won a fall the match was ruled a draw when both wound up outside the ring completely exhausted.

White has not yet been approached on the subject of a rematch between the two. George, who drew with Jim McMillen in the match preceding the Londos-Lewis battle Thursday, was so interested in the outcome of the title bout that it required considerable persuasion to get him to don his street clothes. George wanted to remain in a ringside seat in his wrestling togs to see all of the match.

Crowd Sets Record.

The 35,265 who saw the wrestling and boxing program Thursday constituted an all time record for wrestling attendance and receipts. The gross receipts were $96,302, or nearly $10,000 more than the previous mark of $87,000 set on Labor day of 1911, when Frank Gotch defeated the Russian, George Hackenschmidt, at Comiskey park. A crowd of 25,000 witnessed that match.

And those same 35,265 went away from Wrigley field convinced that they had seen a real wrestling match, a contest of strength and wits between two men who knew wrestling from A to Z and back again. There was never at any time a particle of doubt as to the sincerity of the contestants, who had until 1924 met 14 times, with Lewis' headlock always too much for the little Greek, who at that time never weighed more than 172 pounds. Thursday the success of Londos' long fight to gain weight was proven when he scaled 205 pounds against Lewis' regular 240.

Jim Shows Courage.

Yesterday fans and experts alike paid tribute to the Greek's courage against the weight handicap of 35 pounds and his strategy during the early portion of the match, when that handicap told on him at least four times. He was caught in the vise of Lewis' headlock three times, breaking out of one of them in the center of the ring, and two others along the ropes. It was a armlock applied by the Strangler, however, which nearly caused Jim's downfall. He admitted as much later, and Lewis said that he himself was sure he had the champion at that point.

The real break of the match occurred when the two wrestlers and Referee Ted Tonneman went over the ropes after 40 minutes had elapsed. Lewis twisted his right arm at the elbow in attempting to free himself from the top and middle ropes. The arm was numb and sore, according to Lewis, from there until the finish. Londos, noting this weakness, took advantage of it, and it was on this member that he finally secured the hammerlock which won for him. Another decisive factor was Londos' ability to lift Lewis, a feat which preceded the application of the finishing grip. A few days before the match, Lou Talaber, Lewis' trainer, said that if Jim could lift the Strangler, an act he regarded as virtually impossible, he might win the match. Londos did both.

Lewis Leads on Points.

At the end of forty minutes Lewis was leading in the point scoring of Referee Tonneman and the two judges, George T. Donoghue and Capt. Willard Malone, who would have assisted Tonneman in rendering a decision had the match gone the full 90 minute limit. Each scored ten points for each ten minute period. For the four full periods Tonneman gave Lewis 24 points and Londos 16; Donoghue awarded the Strangler 21 points against Londos' 19, and Capt. Malone gave Londos 21 points to Lewis' 19. This gave the Strangler a total of 64 points against Londos' 56 going into the fifth ten minute period.

DE PAUL DRILLS FOR RIPON; TWO TACKLES INJURED

De Paul university football players yesterday engaged in a hard scrimmage that resulted in Harold Carlson and Bill Kelly, tackles, suffering sprained ankles. It is doubtful if either will recover sufficiently to be used in De Paul's opening game with Ripon college Friday night at Loyola stadium.

Bill Oldani, half back, and John Cella, quarter back, reported for action yesterday. Cella is the only veteran quarter back on the squad, while Oldeni distinguished himself as a ball carrier last season.

Northwestern Varsity to Play Freshman Team Today

Progress made by Northwestern's football team during the first week of practice will be put to a test today in a regulation game with the freshmen at Dyche stadium. The contest will not be open to the public.

Freshman Coach Maury Kent has been drilling a squad of 70 freshmen for three days on Marquette plays, endeavoring to get them in shape for today's game. The workout will be the last double practice because the opening of school Monday will limit the drills to a single session in the afternoon.

Although the Wildcat squad has a heavy proportion of sophomore players, Coach Dick Hanley has selected a lineup consisting largely of letter men to start today's game. Bob Swisher, at left half back, will be the only sophomore in the starting lineup.

The remainder of the back field will consist of George Potter, quarter, Hugh Duval, full back, and Wally Cruice, right half.

The line will consist of Leeper and Anderson, ends; Chambers and Papich, tackles; Kawal and Whelan, guards; and Lind, center. With few exceptions this will probably be the team which will start against Marquette next Saturday.

MAROONS GET UNIFORMS.

The University of Chicago football team will appear in headgear of solid white in its opening game with Carroll college a week from today. Jerseys will be Maroon colored and pants light tan.

The new uniforms which arrived at the midway yesterday revealed that Coach Shaughnessy is no stickler for consistency in apparel. Last year's squad wore white jerseys and maroon helmets. The white enameled helmets furnish the greatest innovation, since no Chicago team has worn anything but maroon or natural tan.

The squad continued its blocking chore yesterday morning, with the men rotating between work on fundamentals and on signal drill.

Jay Berwanger led the regulars to a three touchdown victory over the reserves during a scrimmage in the afternoon session. Berwanger scored two touchdowns, one on a sweep around end and the other after taking a lateral pass from Rainwater Wells, and played his usual strong defensive game. Ewald Nyquist, junior full back, scored the other touchdown. The reserves failed to make an impression offensively.

RAIN STOPS HAWKEYES.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—An all day rain gave Iowa players a rest today, although the squad reported for two brief sessions of light practice.

Coach Ossie Solem had the men limber up with charging practice and running this morning, and adjourned the squad to the field house this afternoon. Signals and light dummy scrimmage comprised the final drill.

RAIN ROUTS BADGERS.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Rain sent Wisconsin football players into the fieldhouse this afternoon for their rehersal of plays. Two sophomore linemen, Ed Christianson, prospective center and tackle, and Walter Windecker, a guard, remained on the side lines recovering from slight injuries received in scrimmage yesterday. Eddie Jankowski, sophomore full back, also is being kept out of scrimmage with slight injuries.

Tommy Fontaine, last year's regular left half back, who had been out of scrimmage for most of the week, was running at his regular position this afternoon.

CHANGE GOPHER LINEUP.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Coach Bernie Bierman today made a few changes in the Minnesota lineup to acquaint the promoted players with possible regular duty. He had Bob Tenner back at left end in place of John Roning. Both are veterans. Art Clarkson, versatile southpay from Seattle, was given his first chance to show what he could do at right half back in place of Julie Alfonse, and Milt Bruhn was back at guard in place of Vern Oech after being out two days with a battered lip. Red Dawson, back field coach, was at Moorhead, Minn., tonight to scout North Dakota Aggies against Concordia. The Aggies play the Gophers here next Saturday.

PURDUE PRACTICES SHIFT.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Purdue's new running and aerial plays, utilizing Coach Kizer's new cross shift, were given their first real test here this afternoon in an extended offensive scrimmage session. Kizer expressed himself as pleased with the way the backs handled the new shift, and it seems certain to remain an integral part of the Purdue system.

Duane Purvis and Jim Carter, veteran half backs, both broke loose for some nice dashes into the open before they were whistled down by the coaches and figured in some neat aerial plays.

BUCKEYES STRESS OFFENSE.

Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Ohio State's football team continued to practice offense today, three varsity teams taking turns at the various positions in running plays against Assistant Coach George Staten's "Indiana" scrubs. Indications were that Buzz Wetzel, former full back, will be in the center position, unless George Kabealo's injury improves.

HOOSIERS DRILL IN SECRET.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The first secret practice of the season was held at Indiana this afternoon as the Hoosiers drilled for their game against Ohio university a week from tomorrow. Coach Bo McMillin let up on fundamentals long enough to teach the men plays to be used again Ohio. Picked squads from the 115 freshmen players who reported to Coach Paul Harrell provide opposition for the varsity.

ILLINI MEET FROSH.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 21. — [Special.]—Illinois varsity players will engage the freshmen tomorrow afternoon in the annual game, which will be played for the band trip fund.

Coach Wendell Wilson will start a first year squad which will include Russell, Chicago, and Gaines, Mattoon, ends; Moore, Chicago, and Fay, Atwood, tackles; Melonvanevitch, Racine, Wis., center; Carson, Urbana, quarter back; Spurgeon, Centralia, and Booth, East Liverpool, O., half backs, and Ted Singer, Waukegan, full back.

MICHIGAN TO SCRIMMAGE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Another test of team strength will be made here tomorrow when the Michigan squad takes its second scrimmage. Coach Harry Kipke intends to give the squad two hours of work. Today the candidates spent nearly the whole time blocking and protecting the punter. Bill Renner and Russ Oliver did the kicking.

Dempsey Sees Irish Drill on Fundamentals

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey was a spectator today at the hardest drill on fundamentals Coach Elmer Layden has given the Notre Dame football squad since the opening of practice Monday.

Dempsey's visit may become more significant as the season wears on. He dropped in to see Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor promoter, whose son came to Notre Dame this fall on Dempsey's recommendation. While here Dempsey outlined for Layden a training routine and diet which he found useful in placing himself at the pinnacle of boxing success. Layden said he would experiment with Dempsey's suggestions.

Layden received word from Jack Robinson Jr., varsity center in 1932, that he will return to school Tuesday. He was out of school all last year with an eye infection. He was ready to return for the opening of practice Monday, but was delayed by the death of his father.

Reports from his Huntington, L. I., home say his sight has not been impaired. Coaches believe it will take him at least four weeks to get into condition, even if his general condition is good when he reports.

Nick Kearns to Address Chicago Football League

Nick Kearns, Western conference football official, will address members of the newly organized Chicago Football league at a meeting Monday night at 31 East Congress street. Kearns will explain the rule changes for 1934 and also will answer all questions.

Paul Dean Yields Only 2 Runs in 41 Innings of Play

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Paul Dean, who pitched a no hit game against the Dodgers in Brooklyn today, has allowed only two runs and 16 hits in the last four games he has pitched—a total of 41 innings, since two of the games were overtime affairs.

Paul started his sensational streak Sept. 9, when he defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 1, allowing only four hits. His next start was Sept. 13, when he defeated the Giants, 2 to 0, in 12 innings, giving six hits. Three days later, Sept. 16, he again defeated the Giants, 3 to 1, in 11 innings. In this game he also allowed only six hits hits.

For the statistically minded, here are the figures for the brothers this season:

| | Dizzy. | Paul. |
|---|---|---|
| Games won | 27 | 18 |
| Strikeouts | 175 | 135 |
| Full games pitched | 21 | 15 |
| Bases on balls | 77 | 47 |
| Innings pitched | 278 | 216 |
| Runs allowed | 108 | 90 |
| Hits allowed | 267 | 208 |
| Games pitched in | 45 | 35 |

TORONTO SCORES THIRD PLAY OFF VICTORY, 3 TO 2

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs made it three straight over the Rochester Redwings in the final International league playoff series tonight, winning, 3 to 2, in 13 innings.

Toronto now needs only one more victory to win the series and gain the right to represent the International league in the little world series against the American association champion.

GIANTS DEFEAT BRAVES, 8-1, FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The New York Giants today recorded their fourth straight victory, beating the Boston Braves, 8 to 1, in the series opener. New York's first place lead was reduced to three games as the Cardinals twice defeated Brooklyn.

Fitzsimmons limited the Braves to eight hits in as many innings and missed a shutout due to Wally Berger's 33d home run of the season. Joe Bowman pitched the final inning for New York. Fitzsimmons' retirement in the ninth came after he hurt his hand trying to stop Bill Urbanski's hit through the box in the eighth. Score:

MILLERS MEET BIRDS TOMORROW IN 4TH PLAYOFF

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—The Minneapolis Millers tonight were on their way to Columbus, O., where they will meet the Red Birds Sunday in the fourth game of the playoff series for the American association championship.

The Red Birds have won two of three games played thus far. Columbus took the first two games, and yesterday the Millers pounded three pitchers to score a 10 to 6 victory. The game Sunday will be played in the afternoon, but other remaining contests to decide the championship will be played under lights.

PELICANS DEFEAT VOLS, 7 TO 2, IN PLAYOFF GAME

New Orleans, La., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The New Orleans Pelicans took the lead in the Southern association playoff here today, beating the Nashville Volunteers, 7 to 2.

Clay Bryant held the Vols to six hits, showing slight weaknesses in the second and seventh innings when, aided by errors by his mates, Nashville scored its two runs. Score:

Nashville ....................010 000 100—2 8 1
New Orleans ..................410 020 00*—7 10 2

Tired Cubs Take Day Off; Play Pirates Twice Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 21.—The Cubs rested some more today in preparation for tomorrow's double-header and Sunday's single game with the Pirates, a series which is likely to mean more to the Pirates than to the Cubs, in as much as the Pittsburghers figure themselves to have a good chance to get into the first division ere the season ends.

The Cubs seem definitly lodged in third place. The pennant was placed safely out of their reach by the Giants' victory today, a triumph which makes it mathematically impossible for the Chicagoans to get up to first place on the basis of 153 games for the Giants and 151 for the Cubs. The difference in total games, of course, is caused by postponements which cannot be made up during the regular season's play.

Tinning and Lee.

Bud Tinning and Bill Lee, two young men not included on Manager Charley Grimm's "loafer list," are scheduled to pitch tomorrow's double-header and on the basis of their recent showings should be able to help their personal records, no matter how little victory will mean to the Cubs at this late date.

The Cubs have won ten out of 15 games from the Pirates thus far this season, most of the victories being accomplished before the Cubs became, O, so tired of it all along about mid-season.

Aside from the Phillies against the Giants and the Reds against their dear friends, the Cardinals, no team has won as few games from any other team as the Pirates have from the Cubs. The Pirates, as paragons of inconsistency, have beaten the second place Cards 12 out of 20, and have licked the Giants three more times than they have the Cubs. The Pirates were able to beat the Dodgers only six times out of 22 games, taking only one game in Brooklyn during the entire season.

Grimm Plans Surprises.

The Cub hotel here also is the headquarters of the Reds, who played a double header with the Pirates today, and also the home of several of the Pittsburgh players. The presence of so many ball players and near ball players stimulated trade talk somewhat, though the big action may come when managers Grimm and Traynor get their heads together after the Reds have straggled out of town.

Manager Grimm continued to rage about the way the Cub organization has been thrown down by some of his lazy, high salaried players and promised dire things.

In his outburst in Philadelphia last night Manager Grimm hinted he had uncovered a mutiny plot much more significant than the long apparent listlessness on the field and laziness on the bench. He said that those of the "$15,000 and $20,000 a year bellyaching prima donnas" who are not traded will get the shocks of their languorous lives when they receive their 1935 salary offers.

Deans Pitch Shutouts; One a No Hit Game

Deans did not make the trip, presumably upon Dizzy's suggestion.

This led to a fine when the team returned to St. Louis. There were a few words with Manager Frankie Frisch and Frisch summarily suspended the brothers indefinitly. Dizzy promptly returned to the clubhouse at Sportsman's park and tore up two uniforms, in addition to breaking a few chairs and lockers.

Paul paid his $50 fine and was reinstated a few days later, but Dizzy remained adamant and carried his side of the case to Commissioner K. M. Landis. Landis went to St. Louis, held a meeting of club officials and Dizzy and finally the pitcher was allowed to come back to the team upon payment of a $100 fine and $36 for the uniforms he destroyed. The entire matter cost him $486, the time he lost from the team lessening his pay check by $350.

Noted for Missing Trains.

After his reinstatement he was asked for his opinion of Manager Frisch, to which he replied: "He's the greatest manager the game has ever seen. He is the only man in the world who could keep the Cardinals up in the pennant fight with a two man pitching staf—the Deans."

Among his more famous escapades are missing trains on the road and daily pep talks to opponents in the visiting dressing rooms before games.

Some Conflicting Statistics.

The exact site and date of the Deans' births have not been definitly established, principally because of Dizzy's penchant for the unusual. He claims four towns as the place of his birth and gives four different dates. The baseball Who's Who, to which Dizzy supplied the information on himself, says he was born in Lucas, Ark., Jan. 16, 1911. The Cardinals' team records give Holdenville, Okla., as the place in which the brothers were born. Paul and Dizzy say Paul is only 20 years old, but on the club's record his date of birth is given as Aug. 14, 1913, which would make him 21.

Both brothers have been the chief tormentors of the champion Giants this year, winning all but two starts against the New Yorkers. In the last series between the Cardinals and league leaders at New York last week, Paul held the Giants to six hits in 12 innings, winning 2 to 0, and then came back later in the series to beat them 3 to 1 in 11 innings.

WHITE SOX OPEN SERIES AGAINST INDIANS TODAY

The White Sox, who are so firmly anchored in last place that the matter of escaping therefrom is giving them no concern, will get together today for one of their last two home appearances of the season. They'll try to give the Cleveland Indians a battle in a single attraction this afternoon and after a double-header between the same troupes tomorrow the curtain will be pulled down on Comiskey park until next spring. By that time Manager Jim Dykes hopes to be able to reveal an entirely new layout of talent.

For the last week of the season, which closes a week from tomorrow, the Sox are faced with only six games. Three of these are at Detroit, one on Wednesday and two on Thursday. They'll loaf the next day and then resume with a single game at Cleveland on Saturday. A twin bill on Sunday at the same place will complete their season's work.

Boys and Girls to See Game.

Approximately 33,000 boys and girls, uniformed members of Blue Valley baseball teams, will be guests of the White Sox today.

Teams will come from Benton Harbor, South Bend, Joliet, Racine, and many other cities, to augment the 23,000 Blue Valley team members in Chicago. These teams are the victors in various sectional contests in which 48,000 teams and 480,000 organized members [they play the soft ball game with ten members to a team] have taken part during the summer.

Landis to Attend.

These soft ball teams have had the enthusiastic support of Commissioner Landis and he is expected to be present at the game.

GENERAL PARTH TIES RECORD AT LINCOLN FIELDS

Runs Mile and Sixteenth in 1:43 1/5.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Speed horses were in their glory at Lincoln Fields yesterday afternoon. When General Parth won the Park Ridge claiming purse he ran a mile and a sixteenth in 1:43 1-5 to equal the track record, long held by Florence Mills.

Corinto, a 2 year old son of Wildair-Paloma, racing for Brownell Combs, Lexington, Ky., beat a fast band of 2 year olds in the fourth race at six furlongs. He won pulled up by two lengths after running the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5.

Might Have Shaded 1:12.

This was as fast as 2 year olds have run around Chicago this season. Had he been hard urged at any stage of the journey he probably could have shaded 1:12. Corinto was ridden by Paul Keester, and sailed into the lead on the turn into the stretch.

General Parth, although tying the record hung up by Florence Mills on Aug. 25, 1926, cannot be rated a stake horse of Florence Mills' ability. He runs for young Jim Norris, Chicago, and was in the Park Ridge to be claimed for $3,000.

He carried an impost of 101 pounds and was ridden by D. McCown, a youthful jocky from Carlock, Ill. Trahison set the pace in the early stages, but General Parth came up on the outside and took the lead as the run down the stretch started.

Pulls Away From Rivals.

On and on he went, and the selling platers who attempted to keep pace with him found themselves exhausted and unable to keep up for any great distance. General Parth pulled away from his rivals, and when he charged past the winning post he was a length and a quarter in front.

A tip was out that General Parth was going to run a powerful race, but not many in the crowd were willing to believe he could run so fast. As a result, they backed Trahison, Oscillation, Jens Son and a couple of others. General Parth's stable connections stuck loyally by the son of General Lee-Parthia, and collected $13.42 to win, $6.32 to place, and $4.72 to show. Trahison paid $4.50 to place and $3.44 to show, and Even Up was $5.48 to show.

McCown Wins Two Races.

It was Jocky McCown's second victory of the afternoon, and he was in the spotlight along with Westrope and Keester, who are fighting a spectacular battle for riding honors here. McCown's first triumph came on Even Play in the third race. This Texas owned horse showed a willingness to run under McCown's urging and easily pulled away from Le Miserable and Flickermaru when challenged in the last stages of the contest.

RFC AUTHORIZES 123 MILLIONS IN LOANS FOR JULY

Report to Congress Shows New Commitments.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Loans and other commitments by the Reconstruction Finance corporation continued on a restricted basis in July, the total being $123,884,624, according to the monthly report transmitted to congress today. The largest item was $43,688,907 to banks, related institutions, and the railroads, the banks being authorized loans of $40,037,130 of which $39,079,366 was for the reorganization or liquidation of closed banks.

The banks again repaid more than they obtained in July, actual disbursements as compared with authorizations aggregating $19,898,058 and repayments $27,943,158. Mortgage loan companies and building and loan companies had a similar record, the former receiving $500,000 and repaying $3,311,134 and $4,631,301 being disbursed to the latter while repayments totaled $11,189,078.

More Loans to Industry.

With the new law for direct loans to industries working more smoothly, the corporation in July authorized loans of $3,273,900, bringing the total of such loans authorized up to $4,188,400, as of July 31. The corporation also undertook another of its new duties by authorizing the extension of $10,000,000 to the Federal Housing administration.

Authorizations during July, only a part of which were disbursed that month, follow:

| | |
|---|---|
| Banks and related institutions.. | $32,688,907 |
| Loans to industry.................. | 3,273,900 |

Commodity Credit Gets $6,000,000.

Of the authorization for the orderly marketing of agricultural commodities, $6,000,000 was for the Commodity Credit corporation, established by the government. Of the industrial loans authorized, $1,909,000 were for New York state concerns. The only railroad loan was $1,000,000 to the New Haven.

The report showed that $18,943,539 in loans had been canceled or withdrawn during the month. Loans authorized but unexpended until July 31 to industries amounted to $9,840,000.

COURT ORDERS TAX SECURITIES FIRM DISSOLVED

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 21.—[Special.]—After hearing evidence in the case of Stephen A. Ingersoll, John W. Stipes and James W. Parker versus the Tax Securities corporation and Becker Lawton, Circuit Judge John H. Armstrong today entered a decree dissolving the corporation, which has headquarters in Chicago. There was no opposition and the court names Parker, Ingersoll, and Stipes as trustees.

The Tax Securities corporation for years did a large business buying up properties at tax sales and operated in the majority of the counties of the state. The depression is said to have made the business unprofitable.

PLAN TO REVIVE RELIEF WORK AS ELECTION HELP

NewDealersPropose Vast Expenditure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—The Civil Works Administration, the titanic work relief program which last year put four million people on the taxpayers' pay roll, will be dragged out by the New Dealers again this winter under a new label, it was learned today.

The Civil Works program, or its equivalent called by another name, probably will be unveiled by the New Dealers next month at the psychological moment to help Democratic candidates in the crucial November elections, according to present indications.

These facts, which government officials refused to confirm, came to light today as Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins left here for the summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., where he will ask President Roosevelt for additional relief funds.

Relief Agency Almost Broke.

The relief administration was virtually broke from the point of view of its cash position today. Out of the 100 millions which President Roosevelt turned over to it early in the summer less than 10 million dollars for direct relief remains, and this money will be used up before the next week is out.

Hopkins' trip, it was learned, is to get the President to allocate more cash from the millions left at his disposal by congress for relief. The significant feature of Hopkins' pilgrimage, however, was that he plans to ask the President now for only enough money to carry the relief burden through October.

The reincarnation of the CWA will be trotted out before or at the end of October. It will be the Roosevelt administration's long discussed "winter relief program" to combat the greatest relief problem yet piled on the government. Twenty-three million people are expected to be dependent on the dole for their food, clothing, and shelter.

Only Needy to Get Jobs.

At least two features are expected to distinguish the new "work relief" from the old graft bespattered CWA of last year. First, only needy persons will be given jobs, a requirement passed over last year. Second, the projects to be undertaken will be carefully plotted.

Dodging the old CWA label because of the scandal and uproar it awoke last year, the new program will be introduced to the taxpayers under a new name, probably as an enlargement of the present "emergency work relief program," a diminutive replica of the CWA.

Definite plans for handling the works program have not yet been determined. Hopkins is expeced to hold conferences with his field agents here during the coming month. In addition to expanding the work relief, Hopkins has before him the troublesome question of trying to raise relief contributions from states and cities. A new formula to solve this problem is to be devised.

Scope of Program Unknown.

The fact that President Roosevelt is being asked to allocate only enough relief money for October at this time was taken here as definite proof that Hopkins has not yet made up his mind about the scope and cost of the winter program.

If the new works program attains the size of the CWA it will eat up between 725 millions and a billion dollars in the five months from November to March, inclusive. At its peak the CWA had four million people on its roll, all receiving checks on the federal treasury.

Immense political pressure is being put on Hopkins to revive the CWA, and this is the chief factor indicating that, in spite of Hopkins' indecision to date, some version of the CWA will be brought forth. Democratic candidates would like to have the disposal of CWA jobs and the money at their finger tips as the fall elections approach.

'ASK NRA TO TAKE UP BLUE EAGLE OF CHICAGO FIRM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Removal of the Blue Eagle from the International Furniture Company of Chicago was requested today by the national labor relations board.

The board held that the company violated section 7A of the NIRA by discharging eleven men allegedly because they belonged to an American Federation of Labor union.

Handing down this decision a week ago today, the board gave the company five days in which to reinstate the eleven men. Failing to hear from the company the board sent the case to the NRA.

STOCK EXCHANGE FILES FOR 149 FOREIGN ISSUES

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange reported today that it has applied for temporary registration for the securities of 99 foreign governments, 30 foreign corporations, 16 bankrupt companies and 2 companies designated as "special circumstances." With this group, the list of filings for temporary registration contains the names of 1,375 issuers.

The exchange has been informed that American Cyanamid company will not apply for temporary registration of its debenture 5 per cent bonds, due 1942, and the issue will be dropped from trading as of Oct. 1.

Issue of New Securities Still at Lowest Level in Many Years

TRADE CHAMBER PLEADS FOR CUT IN U. S. SPENDING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Asserting that "uncertainties concerning the fiscal situation" are retarding reëmployment and recovery, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States tonight urged "a program to decrease expenditures and to shape a definite, early approach to a balanced budget" in an effort to "improve the general outlook and provide the basis for a decided upturn in business and employment."

Such an upturn, said the formal statement of the board, "would more clearly result from the adoption of such a course than from new undertakings to spend, or even from the completion of the spending program already under way."

Lack of Confidence Hurts.

Recalling President Roosevelt's utterances with regard to sound governmental credit and the need for confidence, the statement said:

"As the President has clearly stated, upon acceptance of the integrity of the government credit are likewise dependent the maintenance and development of all recuperative processes. Individual decisions to produce, purchase and process material will halt or not be made in the absence of confidence in fiscal policies. The welfare of the laborer, farmer, investor and employer, and the whole endeavor of private institutions and of government will be immeasurably improved if the momentous decisions now in the making indicate definite limitations upon government spending and borrowing, moderation in taxes, and determination to warant general confidence in the fiscal and monetary activities.

Regarded as Main Need.

"In our judgment, an early consolidation of the financial position of the government must be placed at the head of public questions."

In a simultaneous statement the board said "the securities exchange act presents so many complexities that a policy of making haste slowly will permit orderly adjustments to new rules and regulations. These must be devised with attention not only to the requirements of the law but also to the efficient operation of the organized security markets.

"The securities act of 1933 has been the source of unnecessary difficulties. The recent amendments and the new administration of its provisions offer opportunity for policies that will remove some of the discouragements to the floatation of legitimate issues needed to enable industry and commerce to increase employment and overcome the depression."

CREDIT MEN ALSO ACT.

Henry H. Heimann, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, announced yesterday that the organization's board of directors had adopted resolutions urging the administration at Washington to declare a definite and permanent fiscal policy so that those in control of capital and employment may have some degree of certainty as to the governmental financial program, "a condition necessary to the welfare of our entire people."

They also urged that further inflation be avoided and that the administration operate on a balanced budget. The resolutions deplored "the unsettling and ravaging effects of strikes and asked mediation in all cases of dispute.

First National Bank Stock Rises on Active Demand

Stock of the First National Bank of Chicago continued to rise in the unlisted market here yesterday, moving up to 75 bid, 79 asked. Earlier in the week a price of 70 was quoted. A considerable volume of stock is changing hands. Bank officials said they had no explanation for the rise.

Revenue Act Offers Loophole for Saving on U. S. Gift Taxes

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Due to a strange quirk in the federal revenue act of 1934 individuals with money to leave to their heirs have found a loophole that will last until Jan. 1, 1935. The 1934 act, passed last spring, raised the rates on both federal estate tax and the federal gift tax. The increase in the estate tax rates became effective immediately, but the higher rates on the gift tax do not go into effect until Jan. 1. Many heads of families escape some of the rigors of high estate taxes by creating living trusts, which involves payment of the gift tax.

The individual with 10 million dollars to dispose of can create a living trust now and be taxed only about 2 million dollars. After Jan. 1 the gift tax on such a transaction will go up nearly a million dollars. On a $100,000 living trust the amount saved by the forehanded citizen who arranges his affairs before Jan. 1 would be about $2,000. In most brackets the gift tax increase after Jan. 1 will be about 50 per cent.

Big Insurance Companies Show How They Use Money.

The twelve months from July 31, 1933, to July 31, 1934, spans the period during which investment policies of big financial institutions were being modified by the nation's abandonment of the gold standard, the government's glorification of the unbalanced budget, and the 40 per cent debasement of the American dollar. It was the period of some inflation and the threat of more inflation. For that reason what the big insurance companies were doing with their money during those twelve months is of interest to the ordinary investor.

The Association of Life Insurance Presidents has just prepared for its membership a "confidential" compilation showing changes in insurance company investments in the year ended July 31, 1934. It covers 39 leading companies having 82 per cent of the assets of all legal reserve companies.

Here is a summary of the assets of the 39 companies:

ASSETS.
[In millions.]

| | July 31, 1933. | July 31, 1934. | Pct. chge. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Farm loans | $1,311 | $1,076— | 17.9 |
| Other loans | 4,565 | 4,196— | 8.1 |
| Real estate | 836 | 1,226+ | 46.6 |
| Policy loans | 2,964 | 2,892— | 2.4 |
| U. S. bonds | 469 | 1,003+ | 113.9 |
| State, municipal bonds | 646 | 794+ | 23.0 |
| Canadian govt. bonds | 391 | 392+ | 0.2 |
| Other fgn. govt. bonds | 16 | 13— | 17.2 |
| Railroad bonds | 2,614 | 2,606— | 0.3 |
| Public utility bonds | 1,671 | 1,739+ | 4.1 |
| Cash | 419 | 576+ | 37.5 |

In studying these figures it should be remembered that insurance companies are barred by law from sizeable investments in stocks. The increase in the real estate item is probably due to takeovers of defaulted properties rather than to any positive investment policy. Noteworthy is the turning away from farm loans, once regarded as premier insurance company investments.

Federal Agent Tells How to Chisel from Lenders.

Such laws as the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium act injure not only the creditor but the debtor as well by making it difficult for him to get new credit. People with money to lend, frightened by what happened to those who lent last, decline to put new money into mortgages and the flow of long term credit is congealed.

When the Frazier-Lemke act was signed Secretary Morgenthau and other administration leaders hastened to reassure investors by pooh-poohing its importance and asserting that the farmers wouldn't exercise the powers granted in the act.

Maybe the farmer wouldn't have got the idea himself, but there was no opportunity to find out because immediately there sprang up a hierarchy of "federal conciliation commissioners" and county farm debt advisory committees whose job seems to be to make certain that as many farmers as possible default on their mortgages.

This afternoon, for example, in the courthouse at Storm Lake, Ia., there is to be a "debt group" meeting of Buena Vista county farmers at which Don C. White, recently appointed federal conciliation commissioner, is scheduled to tell the debtors how to chisel from the people who lent them money.

Chairman Ed C. Spooner of the Buena Vista county farm debt advisory committee, who called the meeting, is quoted in his own town paper as saying:

"We exist as a committee for the purpose of helping those whose debts are out of proportion to their ability to pay and therefore need adjustment."

La Salle Street Finds Some Good in U. S. Gold Program.

La Salle street has at last discovered some good that has been derived from this country's abandonment of the gold standard. If the New Dealers hadn't made it a crime for the citizen to hold gold, the gold certificates, or "yellowbacks," would never have been called in. And if the gold certificates hadn't been called in, the New York filling station attendant, who apprehended the Lindbergh kidnaping suspect, would not have become suspicious at the sight of such a bill tendered by a customer. The sight of real money apparently did more to clear up the Lindbergh murder than the work of all the kidnaper sleuths east of the Alleghenies.

DOLLAR FIRMER AGAINST FRANC, LOSES TO POUND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—There was further weakness in foreign gold currencies against the dollar in trading here today. The British pound, however, rallied in late trading to gain ⅛ cent with the close at $4.99⅝. The French franc eased ⅝ point to close at 6.67⅝ cents, while other gold units moved lower in sympathy.

The value of the dollar in terms of the gold value of the franc was 58.71 cents, compared with 58.67 cents yesterday. The Canadian dollar gained ⅛ cent to close at $1.03¼. The German mark moved 6 points lower to 40.44 cents, while the Italian lira dipped ¼ point to 8.68¼ cents, the Swiss franc was off 2 points to 33.04 cents and the Dutch florin sagged 0.11 cent to 68.61 cents.

In London bullion brokers raised the price of gold 2½ pence to 140 shillings 11½ pence a fine ounce, equivalent to $35.19 compared with $35.20 yesterday. Bars valued at $1,038,440 were traded.

REPORT TRADE GAINS ARE HELD TO RETAILING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—Improvement in trade has been confined to the distributive branches which have succeeded in making a more favorable showing than seemed possible from early estimates, the Weekly Review of Industry and Trade, issued by Dun & Bradstreet, said today.

"Even though widening employment and larger pay rolls may be counted upon to support retail volume in industrial centers, and farmers' purchases will make a heavier contribution to total distributive volume during the next two months, the general recovery movement, which received such a severe setback during the third quarter, at present gives little evidence of developing much strength during the balance of the year," it said.

"Much of the present hesitation, however, may disappear on the definite announcement of governmental policies for the immediate future and more exact particulars regarding the proposals for permanent legislation which the administration is preparing for the incoming congress."

Air Express Allows More Insurance at Lower Cost

The limit of value on shipments accepted for air express has been raised from $5,000 to $25,000, with insurance rates revised downward, it was announced yesterday by the air division of the Railway Express agency. The tarif on express up to 100 pounds includes insurance up to $500 without extra charge, while the charge for additional insurance has been reduced from 15 cents to 10 cents per $100,

FREIGHT TRAFIC CLIMBS TO NEW PEAK FOR YEAR

Loadings Last Week 645,986 Cars.

Car loadings last week showed a more than seasonal gain to rise to a new peak for the year, according to the American Railway association's weekly report issued yesterday. The total was 645,986 cars, or 83,256 above the preceding week, which included the Labor day holiday. However, last week's total was 14,100 below the corresponding week of last year, but 58,740 cars above the period in 1932.

The previous high level for the year was established in the week ended Sept. 1, when 645,780 cars were moved.

Miscellaneous freight loaded during the week ended Sept. 15 totaled 238,629 cars, an increase of 33,089 above the preceding week, 4,697 above 1933, and 20,794 above 1932.

Less than carlot merchandise amounted to 163,916 cars, an increase of 22,543 above the preceding week, a decrease of 8,868 below 1933 and a decrease of 13,032 below 1932.

Grain Movement Expands.

Grain and grain products totaled 37,765 cars, an increase of 5,852 above the preceding week, 6,211 above 1933, and 1,875 above 1932. In the western district loadings of grain and grain products totaled 25,375, an increase of 4,744 above the same week in 1933.

Forest products totaled 22,606 cars, an increase of 3,182 above the preceding week, but a decrease of 3,031 below the same week in 1933. It was, however, an increase of 4,556 above the same week in 1932.

Ore amounted to 25,604 cars, an increase of 2,349 above the preceding week but a decrease of 17,303 below the corresponding week in 1933. It was an increase of 19,046 above the corresponding week in 1932.

Coal loaded totaled 117,050 cars, an increase of 16,781 above the preceding week, a decrease of 9,505 below 1933, and an increase of 10,258 above 1932.

Coke Shipments Increase.

Coke amounted to 5,235 cars, an increase of 126 above the preceding week, but a decrease of 1,399 below 1933 and an increase of 1,781 above 1932.

Live stock loading amounted to 35,168 cars, a decrease of 666 below the preceding week, but an increase of 15,098 above 1933 and 13,462 above 1932. In the western district live stock loadings totaled 208,318 cars, an increase of 14,792 above 1933.

PROCESSING TAX BOOSTS FEDERAL REVENUE TOTAL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A big jump in internal revenue collections for the first two months of the present fiscal year, compared with the same period in 1933, was reported today by the treasury. Federal income for July and August was placed at $425,140,282 as against $294,273,298 last year.

The increase was largely accounted for by a rise of $69,818,487 in processing taxes, bringing the figure for this category, to $83,651,469, and by gains in the liquor, capital stock and income levies.

Total alcoholic beverage collections amounted to $77,389,960 against $36,764,160 a year ago, when they were derived chiefly from beer. The capital stock tax brought in $36,052,695 against $11,770,617, while income taxes were responsible for $44,632,641, a gain of $18,558,248.

Tobacco taxes totaled $82,467,770 compared with $75,575,390 in 1933. Manufacturers' excise taxes at $56,781,146 were $15,906,642 less than a year ago. The firearms tax, a newcomer in July under the national firearms act, contributed $189,834 collected from importers, manufacturers and dealers.

Collections for August were more than 20 per cent in excess of the July figures, and approximately 40 per cent above those for the same month last year.

RADIO PRESIDENT IS ELECTED NBC'S BOARD CHAIRMAN

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, was elected chairman of the board of directors of the National Broadcasting company today. M. H. Aylesworth was reëlected president and R. C. Patterson Jr., executive vice president.

The announcement said Sarnoff would hold the office of chairman "in addition to his duties as president of the Radio Corporation of America, of which the National Broadcasting company is a wholly owned subsidiary."

Sarnoff's election fills the vacancy caused by the death of H. P. Davis.

Middle West Solvency Fight Opens Monday

Battle lines were drawn yesterday on the issue of the solvency or insolvency of Middle West Utilities company. The future course of attempts to reorganize the fallen holding concern depends entirely upon the outcome of the lawyers' battle which is scheduled to open Monday morning before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

If the secured creditors and noteholders are able to prove their contention that the once billion dollar property is not worth as much as the 62 millions owed them, the dissection and rebuilding of the big utility will proceed without further ado. It will be set up with the creditors in the saddle. Stockholder interest will be reduced to rights to buy new stock.

Agreements Difficult.

If, on the other hand, the creditors fail to establish insolvency, the reorganization will be thrown completely up in the air again.

Ordinary liquidation or negotiations to meet stockholder demands will be the alternatives. If the company is held solvent, no reorganization can be effected without the consent of 51 per cent of each class of stockholders.

With the committee represented by Orville J. Taylor unalterably opposed to the present creditor plans, approval by the necessary amount of shareholders is regarded as impossible. On the other hand, there is no predetermined assurance of approval even with the support afforded by the 3,000,000 shares he represents. Obtaining the other 4,700,000 shares needed is admittedly a big job, with the 15,300,000 common shares scattered among 115,000 owners.

Stockholders' Arguments.

The Taylor argument on solvency will probably revolve about two principal points: [1] Fixing values on the basis used in rate making, and [2] making calculations as of the time at which the first petition was filed for appointment of a receiver. He will contend that any insolvency, if it exists, has come since institution of the receivership.

Using rate making figures, with their close relation to any future income, will be fought bitterly by the creditors. This was shown plainly under questioning by Judge Wilkerson Thursday. The basis of valuations, they contend, should be the worth of Middle West holdings—securities of its operating companies, and similar property.

"We will use all the ammunition we have," Taylor said yesterday. "I would rather see my clients lose everything by liquidation rather than through a reorganization which is no reorganization at all from their standpoint. It wouldn't hurt the creditors a bit to let the stockholders have the little bit of stock we are asking. It would mean far more in good will than any paper losses they would sustain by giving up that small interest in the company."

COTTON SPINNING RISES IN AUGUST; BELOW YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The cotton spinning industry was reported today by the census bureau to have operated during August at 76.8 per cent of capacity, on a single shift basis, compared with 74.3 per cent during July and 106.7 per cent during August, last year.

Spinning spindles in place Aug. 31 totaled 30,951,390 of which 24,153,998 were active at some time during the month, compared with 30,937,816 and 24,417,682 for July and 30,781,802 and 25,884,704 for August, last year. Active spindle hours for August totaled 5,752,899,618, or an average of 186 hours per spindle in place, compared with 5,151,979,342 and 167 for July and 7,942,027,549 and 258 for August last year.

NORTH WESTERN SEEKS $13,008,557 LOAN FROM U. S.

Wanted for Interest and Repairs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—A total of $13,008,557 in two loans from separate government agencies was sought in applications filed with the interstate commerce commission today by the Chicago and North Western Railway company.

From the RFC the road asked a loan of $7,357,000 for three years to meet interest on bonds and equipment trusts falling due between October and January. It also asked interstate commerce commission approval of a $5,560,557 loan from the PWA to finance a maintenance and equipment program.

Would Issue Notes.

The commission was asked in connection with the PWA loan to authorize the issue by the road of a like amount of its ten year serial notes and the pledge as collateral security therefor a total of $13,500,000 of the road's first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent bonds.

It was proposed to use the proceeds of the loan to make repairs to 160 locomotives at a cost of $1,192,500, overhaul 38 steel coaches at a cost of $379,067, and install air conditioning equipment at a cost of $358,990.

Of the amount requested of the RFC, $4,000,000 would be used for meeting $535,000 of equipment trust certificates of 1940 and 1942, respectively, due Oct. 1, and $4,162,393 of interest on the road's general mortgage and 20 year convertible bonds. Another $196,000 was sought for meeting a like amount of equipment trust obligations due Oct. 31, and $412,000 for similar obligations on Nov. 30.

Refinancing Is Sought.

An additional $2,214,000 was asked "to assist applicant in refinancing Iowa, Minnesota, and North Western Railway company first mortgage bonds in the amount of $3,900,000, due Jan. 1, 1935" and $528,000 of Minnesota and South Dakota Railway company first mortgage due on the same date. The company proposed to refinance the latter issues by paying 50 per cent in cash and 50 per cent in its general mortgage 4½ per cent bonds of 1987.

The application showed that the North Western has borrowed $34,793,133 from the RFC, of which $31,409,133 remains outstanding. The road said it had an income deficit of $6,351,709 on its operations during the first seven months this year.

REQUIRES RAIL TO PAY TAX ON UNISSUED STOCK

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Lawrence E. Stone today held the Illinois Central railroad was required to pay franchise tax on its authorized stock instead of on its issued stock. The ruling was made in a suit brought by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes seeking to collect from the railroad the difference between what it paid in franchise tax from 1920 to 1926, inclusive, on the basis of issued stock, and what it would have paid on the basis of authorized stock.

Hughes claimed the difference approximates $250,000. In his decision, Judge Stone did not rule on the amount of taxes due the state, as that is to be settled at another hearing.

Attorneys for the railroad said the decision would be carried to the state Supreme court and the United States Supreme court if necessary.

NILES CENTER
SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS

Pursuant to direction of the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Niles Center, I, Armin J. Mayer, Treasurer of said Village, will make a pro rata payment on October 1, 1934, at the office of the Village Treasurer in the Municipal Bldg., Niles Center, Cook County, Illinois, on all outstanding bonds maturing in 1934 of certain special assessments.

A copy of this list of assessment numbers may be had by sending your request, enclosing stamped envelope, to my office.

From and after the above date said bonds shall be payable in part on demand and no further interest shall accrue on that portion of the principal of the above bonds to be paid in part.

ARMIN J. MAYER,
Treasurer of the Village of Niles Center, Ill.

It is not necessary to pay any one fees or charges for collecting the above mentioned payments.

CARRIERS FORM NEW NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Merge All Efforts to Solve Problems.

Consolidation of the American Railway association and the Association of Railway Executives into a new organization, the Association of American Railroads, was effected at a meeting of about 200 leading railway officials in the Blackstone hotel yesterday.

J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was named head of the new organization. He will devote his full time to the job, resigning his post with the New Haven shortly.

The merger follows growing realization by the carriers of the need for a forceful independent organization to act in the capacity of a general staf for the roads as a whole. The consolidation puts under one authoritative group activities of present associations and organizations.

Will Attack Carrier Problems.

The new organization, an official statement said, will take the initiative in attacking problems confronting the industry, retaining beneficial activities of existing regional groups and instituting energetic study and action on all subjects related to American railroad progress.

It will make a determined effort to deal with common problems, including every phase of railroad transportation, the statement said.

The platform on which the association will work is described in the preamble of the plan adopted at yesterday's session, which says:

"In order to promote trade and commerce in the public interest, further improve railroad service and maintain the integrity and credit of the industry, railroad companies of the United States do hereby establish an authoritative national organization which shall be adequately qualified and empowered in every lawful way to accomplish these ends where concert of policy and action are required."

Supervised by Board of Fourteen.

Activities will be supervised by a board of directors containing fourteen members—five from the east, six from the west, and three from the south. The board elected yesterday is composed of Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania; J. J. Bernet, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio; L. W. Baldwin, trustee of the Missouri Pacific; W. R. Cole, president of the Louisville and Nashville; L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central; Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific; Hale Holden, chairman of the Southern Pacific; Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern; H. A. Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee; Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio; F. E. Williamson, president of the New York Central, and Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington. Mr. Pelley also was elected to the board, but will be replaced by another eastern executive shortly because of his subsequent election to the presidency of the new group.

Headquarters in Washington.

Headquarters will be established in Washington, D. C., where personnel and facilities of the American Railway association will be taken over. An executive committee will be established, consisting of the president and five directors, who will be regarded as in continuous session.

Seven divisions will be set up to handle the work. These are law, operations and maintenance, trafic, finance, accounting, taxation and valuation, and planning and research. Existing regional organizations will preserve their activities and identities, coöperating with the association.

Mr. Pelley was born in Anna, Ill., May 1, 1878. He attended the University of Illinois. In 1929 he became president of the New Haven road.

EASTMAN APPROVES.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Organization of the Association of American Railroads at Chicago today was characterized by Joseph B. Eastman, federal coördinator of transportation, as a step in the right direction which offers promise of substantial benefit to the railroads and also to the country.

"For a long time the need for a better central organization of the industry, which could act authoritatively, somewhat in the capacity of a general staf, has been evident," Eastman said. "There are many matters of common concern to all of the railroads and to the industry as a whole which emphatically require central leadership and should be governed by common policies.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

IN THE MATTER OF COOPER RIVER BRIDGE, INCORPORATED, Debtor. } In Proceedings for Relief of a Debtor Corporation.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR COOPER RIVER BRIDGE, INCORPORATED.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Plan of Reorganization for COOPER RIVER BRIDGE, INCORPORATED, has been filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of South Carolina; that the hearing on said Plan of Reorganization has been set at Charleston, South Carolina, before the Honorable Frank K. Myers, United States District Judge, for October 13, 1934; that any party materially and adversely affected who objects to said Plan shall file his objections thereto in writing with the Clerk of said Court on or before October 9, 1934, and shall serve a copy of said objections on the undersigned; that a copy of said Plan of Reorganization is on file in the office of the undersigned in Charleston, South Carolina, and may be examined by any party in interest.

Said Court has ordered that claims of bondholders shall be filed with the Clerk of said Court not later than October 11, 1934; said order further provides that the Corporate Trustee under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust securing such bonds may file a claim on behalf of all bondholders, and that the Adjustment Committee representing certain bondholders may file a claim on behalf of all bondholders who have deposited their bonds with such Committee.

COOPER RIVER BRIDGE, INCORPORATED, Debtor.

By order of the United States District Court, for the Eastern District of South Carolina.

NOTE: Claims of all bondholders have already been filed with the Clerk of said Court by Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust securing such bonds, and by the bondholders' Adjustment Committee on behalf of all depositing bondholders.

STOCKS MOVE UP FOR FOURTH DAY; TRADE EXPANDS

Merchandise Shares Lead Market Movement.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—Led by merchandise shares, the stock market pushed ahead for the fourth successive session today to reach the best levels in a month or more. Gains in the active list ran to 2 points with a scattering of miscellaneous favorites making an even better showing. The turnover was around 712,000 shares, the heaviest in nearly a week.

The sudden return to favor of the store stocks was due to an impression rather widespread that retail trade, for all its current embarrassments in the way of textile strikes and reduced buying power due to idleness and the afflictions of the drouth smitten farm areas, is fairly good and likely to improve. This is expected to result from the generous distribution of government money, autumn crop gatherings and the slow emergence with money to spend of that portion of the public which during most of the summer had held tightly to what cash it had. President Roosevelt's advice to the textile strikers to go back to work was also helpful to bullish sentiment.

Spiegel-May-Stern Soars.

Two favorites of the stores group were Spiegel-May-Stern, which ran up more than 5 points, and Montgomery Ward, which has now regained most of the ground lost in the sharp decline early this month. Sears, Roebuck and Penney gained about 2 points each, and Macy, Marshall Field, Hahn, May, Best, and other merchandise shares were strong and active throughout the day.

There are only about 175,000 shares of Spiegel-May-Stern stock listed on the big board. In the earlier part of the year the shares, which in 1933 had sold as low as a dollar, were the most volatile on the list and at one time their performance brought on rumors of an investigation.

In addition to the stimulus they received from the President's strike settlement move, the textile shares were able to turn the typhoon in Japan to some account. Celanese, Woolen, Du Pont, and Industrial Rayon scored gains ranging up to nearly 3 points.

Building Shares Higher.

Building shares came in for a whirl, under the leadership of Johns Manville, which advanced 2 points.

Railroad issues attracted some fresh buying, Atchison, New York Central, and Delaware and Hudson being among the favorites of the division.

Activity in the steel group was limited, but United States Steel was able to rise to the best level in a month on such orders as came its way.

Consolidated Gas was a leader among the utilities. Gains of a point or more were the rule for the group.

A sour note was struck by American Crystal Sugar preferred, which showed a fall of 9 points on the first sale in a month. Bid and asked quotations were recorded on three separate occasions before a deal was arranged. Next Monday the stock will be sent back to the inactive post, where the ten share unit of trading may bring on some business.

Freeport Texas staged a mild recovery from its setback of yesterday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—Moving independently of an irregular market for government bonds, corporate issues advanced today for the third session in succession. Although the volume was held to moderate proportions high grade obligations improved by fractions to more than a point, while the more sensitive speculative loans registered gains ranging to more than 4 points. Dealings totaled $14,562,000.

Reaction in government bonds began at the opening and continued for the greater part of the day, after two days of advance. It was not until late in the session that lower prices attracted sufficient buying to bring about a rally. Small recessions were in the majority at the close.

Rails and Utilities Rise.

Not much buying was required to force high grade railroad and utility bonds up, offerings having been withdrawn from the market in some volume.

The carriers apparently responded partly to a more than seasonal upturn in carloadings and further hopes that the administration is preparing to "do something" for the transportation group. Gains of 1 to 3 points were common in this group.

There was news to account for the rise in some of the lower grade issues. International Telephone issues, for example, advanced sharply following the publication of a satisfactory earnings statement for the half year.

Paramount Issues Spurt.

Paramount issues went through their old highs for the year. Gains of 1 to more than 4 points were recorded in Studebaker 6s, United States Rubber 5s, United Drug 5s, and obligations of Alleghany corporation, Missouri Pacific, Erie, Great Northern, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, Milwaukee, Chicago and North Western, and Baltimore and Ohio.

Speculative buying of Latin-American loans was again a feature of the foreign list. Argentine, Brazilian, Chilean, and Colombian government loans all bettered their previously established highs for the year in heavy trading. The gains ranged from fractions to more than 2 points. European issues as a rule were quietly traded, closing irregularly higher.

Vick Chemical.

Investors' Guide: Kindly send me data on Vick Chemical.—M. E.

Answer: Vick Chemical, Inc., was organized in August, 1933, to acquire the stock of Vick Chemical company. The latter was a component unit of Drug, Inc., a holding company which was dissolved.

Vick Chemical company, the operating unit, was established in 1885. It manufactures patent medicines, the most important of which is Vicks Vapo Rub. All products are sold under the "Vicks" trade mark.

Net income for the first half of 1934 was $982,000, or $1.40 a share. Figures for the corresponding 1933 period were consolidated with results of Drug, Inc., and are not available.

The four year record of earnings follows:

| | Net sales. | Net income. | Inc. per share. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1933 | $8,253,000 | $2,339,000 | $3.34 |
| 1932 | 7,042,000 | 2,625,000 | 3.74 |
| 1931 | 5,193,000 | 2,024,000 | 2.89 |
| 1930 | 5,026,000 | 2,390,000 | 3.42 |

The increase in sales in 1933 to an all-time high reflected introduction of new products. Earnings showed a slight decline because of the heavy promotional expense incidental to introduction of those products. Such expenses were deducted entirely from net income.

At the close of 1933 current position was impressive. Cash assets alone of more than $5,000,000 compared with total current liabilities of $977,000.

Capitalization consists solely of 700,280 shares of $5 par capital stock on which the current dividend rate is 50 cents a quarter regular and 10 cents a quarter extra.

Chesapeake & Ohio.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me your opinion of C. & O. 4½s, 1992? They don't pay much, but I have to have safety.—E. F. H.

Answer: This issue of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company is secured by almost 1,500 miles of track, or about half of total mileage. It constitutes a first mortgage on 107 miles of main line and 320 miles of branch line.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company, a Van Sweringen road, has covered fixed charges by healthy margins over a long period of years and working capital position has remained unimpaired.

High degree of security, both as to assets and earnings, entitles the bonds to a sound rating.

BUILDERS OFFER TO AID IN HOME REPAIR PROGRAM

All Branches of Industry to Back FHA Plan.

BY AL CHASE.

Representatives of every branch of the building industry pledged their active coöperation in Chicago's modernization program of the Federal Housing administration at a luncheon yesterday at the Union League club. Gerhardt F. Meyne, well known contractor, chairman of the newly formed building industries committee, presided. He urged all interested in the building industry to perfect their organizations to handle business when the demand for materials asserted itself as a result of FHA activities.

Howard J. White of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, architects, who is head of the executive committee of prominent citizens conducting the local community FHA campaign, urged the realty profession to help put the drive over.

Urges Information Centers.

"Every real estate office in Chicago should become a center of information on the national housing act," he said. "Realtors are in close touch with their neighborhoods and know just what properties should be repaired at once. Their offices can coördinate the many phases of the modernization campaign of the FHA."

Plans were announced to bring the campaign before the public in a spectacular way. An exhibition of "before and after" homes is contemplated for a conspicuous location, possibly in Grant park. These actual homes will show what repairs were needed and what a thorough repair job did to a rundown residence.

Another feature announced at yesterday's luncheon was a building display at A Century of Progress next month. Mr. White stated that a complete home will be erected on the grounds in six hours.

Wilson Explains Benefits.

Percy Wilson, regional director of FHA, explained to the building men how the program will benefit industry, relieve unemployment, and benefit property owners. Bankers are ready to coöperate, he said, when the public realizes that repairs to homes are not luxuries, but necessities.

Carroll H. Sudler Sr., FHA director of the northern district of Illinois, told of a modernization drive started in Galesburg prior to the passage of the national housing act, in which more than a million dollars in repairs were pledged by home owners in a four day drive, all of which were actually completed within four months.

PATRICIA MANOR PAYS 2½ PER CENT TO BONDHOLDERS

Depositing bondholders of the Patricia Manor apartments, 704-710 Hinman avenue, Evanston, are now receiving checks representing a dividend on the basis of $2.50 on each $100 of the old deposited securities. This is an American Bond and Mortgage company issue. The payment is being made to all holders of voting trust certificates for capital stock in the new company, the Hinman Avenue Building corporation, of record Sept. 14.

A report says that the reorganization loan of $40,000 has been reduced to $31,000 during the first eighteen months of the operation of the holding on behalf of the former depositing bondholders. The report also shows that although the occupancy for the year ending June 30, 1934, averaged 93.7 per cent, as compared with 91 per cent for the previous six months, the comparative average unit rentals were off 13 per cent. The resultant recrease in income was partly offset by a corresponding decrease in operating expenses.

Revenue for the year totaled $21,063 and net income was $5,699 after operating expenses of $9,433 and taxes and other occupancy costs of $5,929, but before depreciation.

TRADE OFFICIAL TO SPEAK HERE ON TARIF PACTS

Dr. Claudius T. Murchison, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States department of commerce, will discuss "Reciprocal Tarifs" before the middle west foreign trade congress at the Hotel La Salle on Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, it was announced yesterday.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Export Managers' Club of Chicago, the Chicago Association of Commerce, and other coöperating groups. Other speakers will include George N. Peek, special adviser to President Roosevelt on foreign trade.

Former Insull Utilities Sell Florida Ice Concern

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—The American Electric Power corporation, through a subsidiary, bought slightly less than majority control in the Florida West Coast Ice company at a creditors' meeting today before Irwin Kurtz, referee in bankruptcy. The subsidiary was the Pennsylvania Gas and Electric corporation, which operates the Atlantic Ice and Coal company in the same region served by the West Coast company. The sale was approved by creditors of the Seaboard Public Service company, which controled the West Coast company and is controled by the National Public Service corporation, all former Insull organizations.

Armstrong Cork Reduces Linoleum 5 to 8 Per Cent

Armstrong Cork and Insulation company yesterday announced reductions of 5 to 8 per cent in prices of all grades of linoleum. The information was contained in a telegram sent to the Federal Housing administration by C. E. Graham, district manager, who said the move was made in the interests of aiding FHA activities.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Cotton goods markets were quiet today, buyers delaying commitments pending the outcome of negotiations between mills and labor following publication of the reports of the mediation board. Wool goods sales were small. Silk and rayon fabrics were in slow demand. Burlap prices were a trifle easier.

J. H. ARDREY, BANKER, APPOINTED TO PUSH U. S. HOUSING DRIVE

J. HOWARD ARDREY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—The appointment of J. Howard Ardrey, prominent New York and Dallas banker, as deputy administrator in charge of the Federal Housing Administration's Mortgage Insurance and Mortgage association activities, was announced today by Administrator Moffett. These activities, Moffett expects, will throw at least 1 billion dollars of private funds into new home building and also relieve the burden of short term mortgages.

In making public the appointment, Mr. Moffett said that "the permanent part of the housing program" would begin to get under way early in October. He explained that rules for carrying out sections 2 and 3 of the housing act, which permit the government to insure in full mortgages of 80 per cent of the value of any property, provide for the refunding of short term for long term mortgages, and make possible the establishment of national mortgage associations to loan up to ten times their maximum capital of $5,000,000 will be ready by the first week in October.

At least three or four million homes should be built under the stimulus and this program, the housing administration estimates. Moffett held that the home renovation program, which has been in operation about six weeks, is getting along "better than could have been expected." He said that 4,412 loans totaling $2,026,000 are on the administration's book today and explained that the actual volume of loans "is probably ten times larger than this figure, since banks are not required to report their loans for insurance until thirty days have passed."

ECONOMIST WILL AID U. S. TO MAKE TRADE TREATIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Leo Pasvolsky, noted economist and writer, who has been on the staff of the Brookings institution in Washington since 1922, was appointed today to be an economist with the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. He will serve in his new capacity while on leave of absence from the Brookings institution.

His assignment, it was stated by Director Murchison, is primarily in connection with the study of foreign trade restrictions and the analysis of the data to be presented to the department of commerce to the interdepartmental committees engaged on the foreign trade agreements program now under way.

Pasvolsky is an advocate of reciprocal trade treaties, and he has expressed strong views in opposition to the present administration's monetary policy. Among his works are "World War Debt Settlements," "War Debts and World Prosperity," and "The Necessity for a Stable International Monetary Standard." His "Current Monetary Issues," published last year by the Brookings institution, was widely read and created considerable interest among international monetary experts.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

The state of Missouri yesterday awarded a new issue of $3,000,000 of institutional building construction bonds, due $1,000,000 each year in 1939, 1940, and 1941, at 100.067 for the bonds as 3s, to a syndicate comprising the First National bank, Chicago, Harris Trust and Savings bank, Chicago; First Boston corporation; Northern Trust company, Chicago. Boatmens' National bank, St. Louis; L. F. Rothschild & Co., Eldredge & Co., and Rutter & Co., which topped five other bidders.

The banks' plan to offer the issue to investors at the following prices Bonds due in 1939, to yield 2.70 per cent; those due in 1940, to yield 2.85 per cent, and those due in 1941, to yield 3 per cent.

A new issue of $650,000 St. Louis county, Minn., 4 per cent road bonds, dated Aug. 1, 1934, and due serially from 1935 to 1942, was awarded at 100.81. To a syndicate including the First and American National bank of Duluth, Minn., Northern National bank of Duluth; Thrall, West & Co.; Wells-Dickey company; First National Bank and Trust company of Minneapolis. Northwestern National Bank and Trust company, Minneapolis; Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood, First National bank, St. Paul, and Kalman & Co.

The state of Idaho awarded a new issue of $500,000 of general fund treasury notes, dated Oct. 1, 1934, and due April 1, 1935, to the Spokane and Eastern Trust company. The price was par, plus a premium of $314 for the notes as 1⅛s. Halsey, Stuart & Co bid par for the notes as 2⅛s.

Blyth & Co., Inc., were awarded a new issue of $145,000 City of Cambridge, Mass., water main and sewer construction bonds. The bankers bid 100.424 for $75,000 of the bonds, due from Oct. 1, 1935 to 1949, as 3¼s, and 100.399 for $70,000, due from Oct. 1, 1935 to 1964, as 2½s.

Hamilton County, O., awarded a new issue of $130,000 Hamilton County, O., 4 per cent tuberculosis sanatorium bonds to the Weil, Roth and Irving company of Cincinnati. The bonds, dated Oct. 1, 1934 and due from 1936 to 1960, sold at 102.17 with the interest rate bid as 3½ per cent.

A new issue of $300,000 Stark County, O., refunding bonds has been scheduled for award on Oct. 8. The issue will be dated Sept. 1, 1934, and will mature 1936 to 1945. Bidders are asked to name the rate of interest at not to exceed 6 per cent.

Paine Webber & Co. have been awarded a new issue of $34,000 Greene, N. Y., Union Free School District bonds, due from Oct. 1, 1936 to 1953. The price paid was 100.275 for the bonds as 4s.

U. S. SELLS SUGAR IN LONDON UNDER BRITISH COSTS

American Import Rules Grant Rebates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—An unusual quirk in the new import regulations on Cuban sugar has produced a situation which enables American refiners to ship sugar to London and sell it there cheaper than the English refiner can. This is possible despite the fact that the American refiners may actually pay more for Cuban sugar than the British refiner. The situation has been brought to light by the decline in sugar quotations to record low levels for both the raw and refined product in the London market.

The circumstances which play into the hands of the American refiner are as follows: The new treaty with Cuba, which became effective early this month reduced the import duty on Cuban sugar coming into this country from 1.50 to 0.90 cents a pound. Prior to June 8 the duty had been 2 cents a pound.

Cheaper for Reëxport.

American refiners may obtain raw sugar in Cuba for approximately 0.32 cent a pound if the product is to be reëxported. If the sugar is to be used in this country it is necessary to pay the official Cuban minimum price of 2.29 cents a pound. Added to the cost price of 0.33 cent a pound the American refiner must pay 0.90 cent duty to the United States government. In addition he has shipping costs of approximately 0.15 cent and refining costs of 0.40 cent. This makes a total cost to the refiner of 3.28 cents a pound. On this sugar, however, the refiner may claim a rebate from the United States treasury department of 2 cents a pound. This claim is on the grounds that the sugar is engaged for reshipment to foreign countries and was acquired prior to June 8, 1934. It is not necessary under the treasury's regulations to identify such sugar as having been purchased prior to that date.

May Reëxport Full Amount.

The refiner has the privilege of claiming reëxport rebates on refined sugar for the next 12 months if he bought raw sugar in Cuba prior to June. He may reëxport the same amount before that time.

A rebate of 2 cents a pound on refined sugar which cost him 2.28 cents a pound leaves a cost of 0.28 cent. It may be sold at 1 cent a pound leaving a profit of 0.72 cent. Without the rebate the refiner would be taking a loss of 1.28 cents in selling at such a price.

REPORT COPPER PRODUCERS PLAN TO CUT OUTPUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 21.—A meeting of the members of the copper industry in this country has been tentatively called for next Tuesday to discuss some of the problems now confronting it. The question of a further reduction in the output of the metal in order to avoid the accumulation of additional stocks is said to be one of the main problems to be discussed.

The copper code does not provide for the curtailing of output. However, indirectly production is controled since the members of the copper code are permitted to sell only a certain amount of copper in this country monthly. Recently it is understood that consumption has been declining and, as a result, now probably is below the aggregate sales quotas of the members of the industry.

The proposed meeting Tuesday will not be held under the auspices of the copper code authority, it is explained. However, the view is held that, if the meeting is largely attended, any action it might take probably would receive serious consideration by the copper code authority.

BUILDING, LOAN INSURANCE TO BE EFFECTIVE SOON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Regulations for insuring deposits in building and loan associations were issued today by the Federal Home Loan bank board with announcement that the insurance plan would go into effect soon.

More than 500 federal savings and loan associations must make immediate application for the insurance, the board said, while some 7,000 state chartered institutions of the same type are expected to be eligible.

The insurance plan, corresponding to the federal insurance of bank deposits, will guarantee accounts up to $5,000 in building and loan associations.

Report Mart's Wholesale Furniture Sales Larger

Wholesale furniture sales have shown a marked revival at the American Furniture Mart, it was stated yesterday when, for the sixth consecutive Friday, the number of buyers registering exceeded 200. Exhibitors said that substantial orders were placed, largely for immediate delivery. On Friday, Sept. 14, the largest number of buyers outside of the regular market periods for several years registered at the mart. The next official market period will not open until Jan. 7, 1935.

Plan Men's and Boys' Wear Market Here Next Year

Planning of a men's and boy's wear market for Chicago early in 1935 by tenants of the eighth and ninth floors of the Merchandise Mart was announced yesterday. Such a market would probably be the first of its kind to be held here or in any other city, it was stated. The movement is supported by 40 representatives of leading firms in the men's wear field.

Goodbold Becomes Reo's Production Supervisor

E. J. Goodbold, formerly with the Chrysler corporation, has been appointed production supervisor of the Reo Motor Car company, it was announced yesterday by Ray A. De Vlieg, works manager of the company.

WHEAT IGNORES SLUMP ABROAD; GAINS RETAINED

Fears of Importing from Argentina Allayed.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Ignoring a sharp decline in wheat in Liverpool the grain market here yesterday maintained a firm undertone, with wheat and corn holding the price advances made on the preceding day.

More deliberate consideration is quieting fears of the possibility of importations of Argentine wheat. The prospect of such importations is believed remote. The offering of Argentine wheat for future delivery in Europe, however, and the actual hedging by Argentina in the Liverpool market has been the depressing factor in prices there.

Gradual fading of the Argentine scare appeared to induce the indifference shown here yesterday to the weakness in Liverpool. During the day wheat sold a cent a bushel below the previous prices, but the close found wheat as well as corn selling at approximately the same prices they closed at Thursday.

Expect Crop Control Changes.

Strength in the stock market yesterday and a growing conviction in the grain trade that the government will soon announce plans for modification or complete elimination of the crop control were influences on grain trade sentiment yesterday. The insistent demand from southern congressmen for the scrapping of the Bankhead cotton control scheme is regarded as a definite turning in sentiment against the administration's crop programs. The grain trade is only too anxious to believe that it detects signs that administration leaders are ready to abandon their brain children.

The corn market met what liquidation appeared yesterday in stubborn fashion and showed good rallying power. The final sale in December corn was made at 78⅛ cents, or an eighth of a cent higher, while the May contract showed a corresponding decline.

December Wheat $1.04⅛.

Wheat futures closed unchanged to an eighth of a cent lower, with the December contract closing at $1.04⅛ a bushel, exclusive of tax. Oats finished with gains of ⅛ to ⅝ cent. Rye futures fluctuated erratically and finished unchanged to 1⅜ cents lower, with the December contract at 79⅛ cents.

The ebbing anxiety over the Argentine price situation was reflected in a statement issued yesterday by Thompson & McKinnon. This house expressed the belief that the price of Argentine wheat in European ports gives no reliable guide to the price at which grain could be laid down in American ports.

Estimate Wheat Import Price.

After a study one of the firm's representatives estimated that the minimum at which Argentine wheat could be laid down duty paid on the Atlantic seaboard was $1.20 a bushel and probably slightly more. The belief was further expressed that congestion in the European markets resulting from the Argentine offerings should clear up in a few weeks, after which a better demand for Canadian wheat should appear.

The view expressed by this firm is not shared by all observers. As long as such importations remain a possibility it will put a ceiling on American wheat prices, it is argued by some.

"Argentina is still out of line for importations into the United States, but nevertheless the proximity of this bearish factor will act as a check against any real advancing market while Argentine wheat sells at the present level," was the summary of the situation given by Broomhall, foreign crop agency.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Fresh eggs were in fair demand yesterday with prices generally unchanged except for current receipts which were lowered ½c. Receipts, 6,017 cases. Butter advanced ¼@½c with a more active demand. Receipts, 11,974 tubs. Potatoes about steady. Receipts, 81 cars with 275 cars on team track. Live hens were unchanged to ½c higher with other poultry little changed. Receipts, 3 cars and 41 trucks.

FAVORABLE STRIKE NEWS CAUSES RISE IN COTTON

More favorable reports regarding the prospective settlement of the textile strike which has been under way for several weeks was largely responsible for a strong upturn in cotton yesterday. The close was at net gains of 10 to 14 points in Chicago and 9 to 19 points in other markets.

Southern hedging pressure was moderate, while the E. H. Miller-J. E. Bennett & Co. report showed a total of 2,963,000 bales ginned to Sept. 15, compared with 3,102,000 bales for the corresponding period last year and claimed returns indicated a larger percentage of the crop had been ginned so far than any year on record.

Spot coton advanced 15 points, with New Orleans, Galveston, Houston, and New York quoted at 13 cents per pound. After allowing for the processing tax the cotton would cost mills 17 cents if the product were used domestically.

BUTTER FUTURES ADVANCE; EGGS DECLINE 1-8C TO 1-4C

Only a moderate trade was in evidence in butter and egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. The close was ⅛ to ¼ of a cent higher on butter and ⅛ to ¼ of a cent lower on eggs.

Movement of butter out of storage was 30,000 pounds above last year, which had some effect early as did an advance of ¼ to ½ cent in the fresh market. Hedging pressure caused a reaction from the best prices. Short covering and new buying checked the decline in eggs.

Sales: Butter, 79 cars; eggs, 187 cars. Prices follow:

LARD FUTURES ADVANCE ON REPORTS OF BETTER TRADE

Reports of a good export and domestic business in cash lard were in circulation yesterday and the buying of futures by cash interests tended to confirm the claims. England was said to have accepted a liberal amount on overnight offers. Scattered selling by commission houses was readily absorbed, with the close steady to 5 cents higher. Supplies of tierced lard are said to be relatively small. Cash and loose lard was quoted at $9.40 and leaf at $10.25, including the processing tax of 2.47 cents per pound. Foreign buyers do not pay the processing tax.

Bellies were easier, with the close unchanged to 20 cents lower, the latter on January. Cash bellies were held at $14.60, including the processing tax of 2.62 cents per pound. Prices follow:

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 21.—Trading in domestic wools at Boston is at a standstill. Cable reports from foreign wool markets indicate a steadier trend in prices than was shown last week. Despite the declines in prices of fine wools in foreign markets, opinions of many observers in this market are that prices abroad are mostly above the import parity.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable was strong today with new high records for the season established in the positions were trading occurred. Final prices were 11 to 16 points net higher with sales of 160 contracts.

Persistent buying of December, January, and March by Wall street, the south, cotton houses and other interests was responsible for the upturn and seemed to be encouraged by the continued firmness of crude oil which sold at 7 cents at all sections of the south. # PRICES OF HOGS DECLINE DUE TO SLACK DEMAND

Cattle Are About Steady; Lambs Advance.

Hog trade yesterday was a lifeless affair at the lowest prices of the week, and the clearance was the poorest in some time for Friday. Supplies were slightly larger than the meager receipts of a week ago, but they were below normal for the season. However, packers were bearish and clamped down on bids when sellers made an early attempt to bolster the market.

Losses of 5 to 10 cents were registered, with quotations 25 to 30 cents under last Monday. The market lately has been uneven, but the trend has been mainly lower much of the time. Members of the trade have observed that packers are most bearish when the costs of top grades, tax included, mount above $9.65 where they have been most of this week.

Top Kinds Sell at $9.45.

Packers obtained selected 220 to 240 pound butchers yesterday at $9.45, including the $2.25 processing tax to the federal government, leaving $7.20 for the farmer, while the bulk of the receipts that returned farmers $6.35 to $7.15 cost packers $8.60 to $9.40. The general average cost of their droves for the day stood at $9.00. The average has been below this figure on only three days in the last 32 days.

Eleven leading markets yesterday received 49,000 hogs, or 7,000 more than arrived a week ago, but 26,000 less than the commercial supply a year ago and 19,000 less than two years ago. Pigs and sows owned by the government comprised almost 70 per cent of the receipts at the leading market centers a year ago when the pig killing program of the AAA was in full swing.

During the first five days of the week a year ago the eleven markets handled 1,139,000 head, 786,000 of them pigs and sows owned by the government.

Cattle Trade Steady.

Not much change was found in the cattle trade. Thirty per cent of the arrivals at Chicago were government owned cows to be slaughtered for the needy. The meager supply of commercial stock sold slowly at about steady prices, slight strength in the few sales of good corn-fed stock being offset by weakness in some of the grassy cattle. Nothing in the run was good enough to bring more than $9.50, although the trade is carrying a nominal quotation of $10.90 on the strength of the sale at this figure on Wednesday.

The bulk of the small supply of steers in the pens consisted of the kinds selling from $4.75 to $8.00. Several lots of holdover westerns sold at $4.00 to $5.00, and some inferior low dressing grassy steers ranged down to $3.00 and less. Selected vealers ranged up to $8.75 and a few sold for more to smaller interests.

Lamb prices advanced to the highest point of the week, selected natives to city butchers reaching $7.10. These were comparable to the lambs selling at $6.75 early in the week and at $6.60 at the close of last week. Packers bought both natives and westerns up to $7.00, the bulk of the day's crop being strong to 25 cents higher.

Why work in air that's Drier than the Sahara?

It's a fact that desert air registers an average relative humidity of about 23, while most offices record the dangerous Winter reading of about 18.

The new air conditioning system in Tribune Tower promotes better work by protecting health. That's just one of the many advantages of a Tribune Tower office. An ideal location at the right price.

WRITING ON RANSOM NOTES BELIEVED IDENTIFIED AS HAUPTMANN'S. Two pages of the ransom notes figuring in the kidnaping and slaying of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. New York police announced yesterday they had tallied this writing with that of Bruno Hauptmann.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

RANSOM COLLECTOR AS SOLDIER IN GERMANY. Bruno Richard Hauptmann as he appeared in German army uniform. Police have learned that he was on parole from German prison when he came to United States as stowaway.

[Acme Photo.]

ACTIVE IN THE CASE. Francis X. Fay, in charge of federal bureau in New York, aids police.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

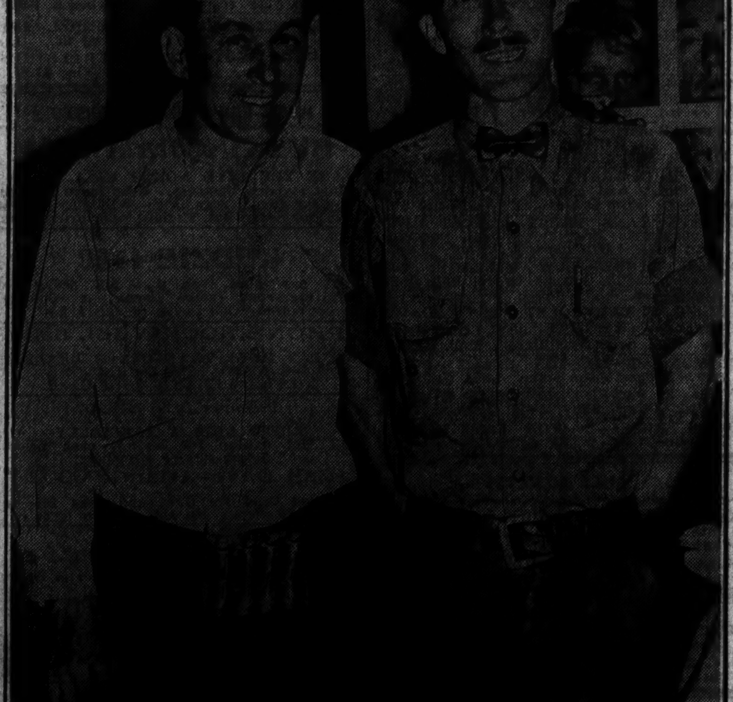
WIFE IS LIBERATED. Mrs. Bruno Hauptmann after questioning by police in Lindbergh case.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

GARAGE IN WHICH MORE THAN $13,000 OF RANSOM MONEY WAS FOUND. Exterior view of the garage in rear of home of Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the Bronx, New York, where notes were found in a tin can on a shelf, hidden in a wall and buried in a jar after suspect had been arrested. Hauptmann said a friend, now dead, gave him the money.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

INFANT SON OF ALIEN LINDBERGH SUSPECT. Manfried Richard Hauptmann, who is going about his play oblivious of storm breaking around his father in the Lindbergh kidnaping and murder case.



[Copyright: 1934: By the New York News.]

GENERAL VIEW OF HOME WHERE HAUPTMANN WAS SEIZED AND GARAGE WHERE MONEY WAS FOUND. The central point of interest in the sensational developments in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping case. The house and garage of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at 1279 East 222d street, New York, are shown as throng of curious gathered following arrest of Hauptmann and several others. The garage is at the extreme right.
